1992 Commences with Positive Interest Dealers Eagerly Ready for New Year

Just when you thought it was about time to look for another business venture to replace your rare coin enterprise, the market did something strange. It all began with Silver Dollars, as they jumped over 35% in just a short couple of weeks. Now, as they have retreated below $100, other series have begun a move hastily upward. Is it a new beginning? Could it be the new year? Not! It may just well be that dealers and their clients have realized that certain issues have reached uncommonly low levels and feel that it is time to take advantage of current prices.

Of course, the problem now becomes one of trying to buy these issues before others jump on the bandwagon; before prices rise too quickly. We have all seen it before. As soon as a market starts to rise, coins become more difficult to purchase. Sellers want more for their coins. Instead of rising slowly, casually, it runs almost out of control. Then again, that's why most of us are in this business. The cavalier atmosphere is one which symbolizes the rebel attitude of most coin dealers. Going against the norm.

Dealers have waited a long time for the market to come back. Many are hoping that now is the time. What does 1992 hold for the coin market? What better time to find out than at the FUN Show. This initial major gathering in Florida will find that Want Lists contain coins from all series, as well as the U.S. Gold and Commemorative series. Those two areas have been especially active this past week.

Silver Commems received a shot in the arm as buyers clearly outnumbered sellers this week. Plus signs are scattered throughout the charts, while minuses are few and far between. Gold Commems are in a positive mode as dealers are Bidding for most issues at current levels. Competition is keen for U.S. Gold. Numerous buyers have reported an increase in interest by their customers which they hope will signal an end to this bear market. Mint State Type is fairly steady although several specific sets have created all too many minus signs. Proof Type is generally sturdy with numerous increases in the NGC columns.

As we mentioned, common MS65 Morgans have dropped from recent highs; nonetheless, the overall series is still very active. The predominance of minus signs may overshadow the increases, but the issues which remain unchanged are primarily consistent. Proof Gold, Buffalo Nickels, and Mercury Dimes are finding the majority of issues constant, but the few changes are to the downside, thus giving the appearance of a negative market. Walking Liberty Halves are mixed with a nominal amount of overall changes, while Proof Singles are predominantly covered with elevated Bids.

PCGS Professional Coin Grading Service, Newport Beach, CA: Established in 1986, PCGS grades and authenticates U.S. and world coins. PCGS has certified more than two million coins. All coins must be submitted through one of the 560 + authorized dealers; contact PCGS at 800-447-8848 for a list.

PCGS has more than 15 graders on its staff; each coin is examined by at least two graders before the final grade is determined. No person involved with the grading process may be active in the buying or selling of U.S. coins. Fees start at $26 or $35 depending on the type of coin, plus postage and insurance; several levels of Express service are also available. PCGS coins are sonically sealed in an inert plastic "NumisCap" holder before return to the customer.

PCGS has a cash-backed Guarantee of Grade and Authenticity. PCGS has a comprehensive grading set which includes most major series. PCGS is a grading service only and does not make markets. PCGS dealers are responsible for their own making of markets in PCGS coins. PCGS publishes a monthly Population Report.

ANACS ANACS: The first authentication service (established in 1972), to which grading services were added in 1978. ANACS authenticates and grades all U.S. coins and patterns, rendering unbiased third party grading opinions using prevailing market grading standards. After grading, the coins are placed in the sonically sealed ANACS Cache™.

ANACS has over 700 active submission centers. All coins can be sent through the submission centers or directly to the ANACS office. Submitters can also become Market Makers. The fee for a standard submission is $23 and various levels of express service are available between $40 and $125.

Free information is available from ANACS, P.O. Box 182141, Columbus Ohio 43218-2141. Phone 1-800-888-1861.

CCDn Bids primarily reflect 1989 and newer certified coins (post ANA's sale of ANACS). Earlier certifications (including pre-Cache certificates) may realize varying Bids. ANACS Bids are listed only once each month.

NGC Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America. Established in 1987, to grade and authenticate U.S. coins. Located in Parsippany New Jersey. You must submit coins to NGC through authorized NGC dealers. Phone (201) 984-6222. NGC has more than 15 graders on its staff and every coin is viewed by a grading team of 3-5 members. A finalizer assembles the grades and verifies the final grade. The finalizer must not be in the buying or selling end of the coin business. The service costs a minimum of $19 plus postage and insurance. After it is graded, it is then placed in a "lab-tested" inert, hard plastic holder and sonically sealed, then returned to the customer.

There are over 550 authorized NGC dealers who will send coins in for grading. Many of these dealers will make sight unseen bids for NGC graded coins. NGC will not grade coins dated after 1964. Their grading philosophy is designed to be strict no matter what condition the coin market is in. The principals of NGC do not buy or sell coins for commercial profit. "Arm's length" NGC has agreed to set for the popular series and is currently working on sets for other series.

NCI Numismatic Certification Institute. Organized in June 1984, to grade and authenticate U.S. coins. NCI guarantees the authenticity of every coin it certifies. They are located at Heritage Plaza, Highland Park Village, Dallas, TX 75205-2788. Phone (214) 525-3700. NCI uses three graders in a determination of a final grade and thirty professional dealers act as consultants. Many of these dealers also market NCI coins.

Grading is based on the philosophy of James Halperin ("N.C.I. Grading Guide") which may be considered somewhat liberal (commercial) compared to the other three services listed. Regular cost is $24 per coin. You may request a specific grade and if NCI can certify at that grade or higher, a certificate will be issued; if not, the coin will be returned ungraded with a charge of 50% of the regular fee. They will certify coins already in holders without removal, if requested.

NCI has established grading sets for Silver Dollars, 180 St. Gaudens and Walking Liberty Halves. Due to current trading volume, NCI coins will only be listed once a month. CCDn Bids reflect 1987 and newer certified coins.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer to Dealer Bids.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

This commitment goes beyond simply providing superior and consistent coin grading services to a select dealer network. In the coming months NGC will announce a series of unique, valuable and exclusive plans and programs designed to foster pride, professionalism and growth. Watch for details.

Market Provides Good News for FUN Electronic Activity Supports Optimism

There is some really good news coming out of the coin market this week and from a surprising quarter. The good news is based on the number of plus signs to be found in this week's charts. What has us so excited? The week of every major convention, readers are almost certain to see us mention that electronic activity is sparse, since all of the major dealers are attending the show. This comes as no surprise, nor does the fact that dealers still like to trade across the bourse table.

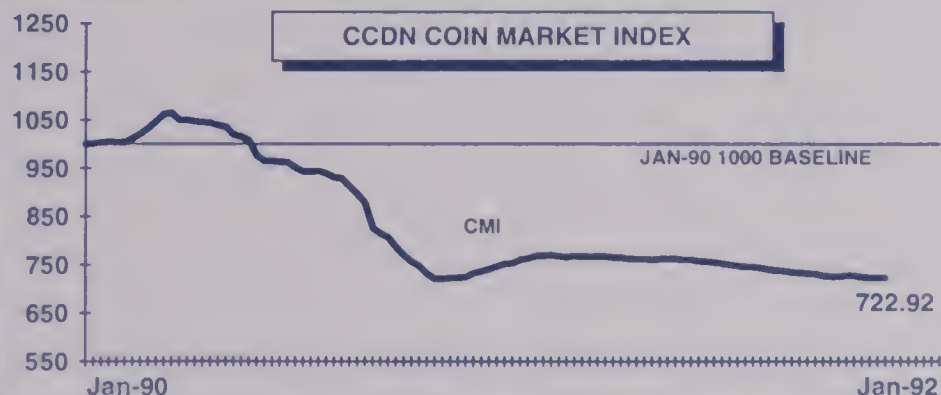

For anyone expecting the typical dull week of electronic activity, this week has shaped up to be a most pleasant exception. There has been substantial activity on the electronic systems, and many increases in Bid. And we cannot attribute this to the dealers staying home. Quite to the contrary, we talked to more than 100 dealers during the past week, and those that weren't already in Orlando were on their way. Many, if not most, of them reported that they are reasonably optimistic about the FUN Show in specific, and the coin market in general. If the show should turn out weaker than anticipated, it certainly won't be due to a lack of dealers or nice coins. There is an abundance of both in Florida this week. Having some real strength show in the electronic segment should provide the dealers with that much more optimism. The rest is up to the bourse table.

Silver Commemoratives showed quite a few plus signs, with the greatest activity in the MS64 and MS65 columns; many of the advances were due to determined bidding by a leading dealer, proving again that market leadership can be everybody's business. Gold Commems also showed some life in the MS63 & MS64 grades.

Morgan Dollars showed the greatest advances in MS64, but discounted selling in MS65 balanced the pluses. Peace Dollars were steady, with some determined bidders raising selected issues.

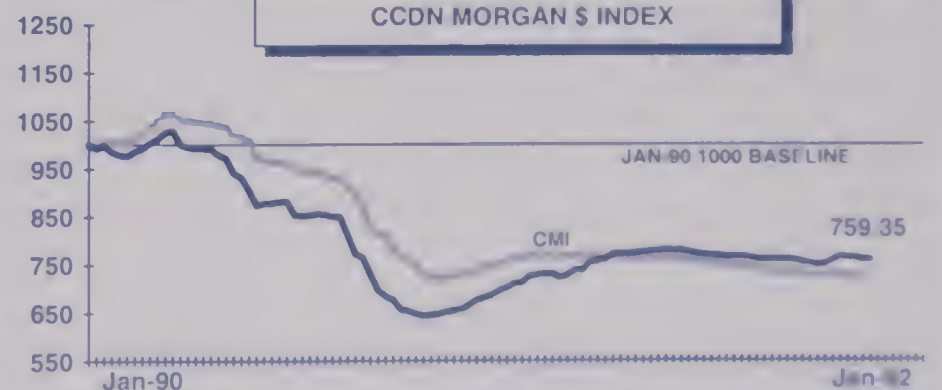

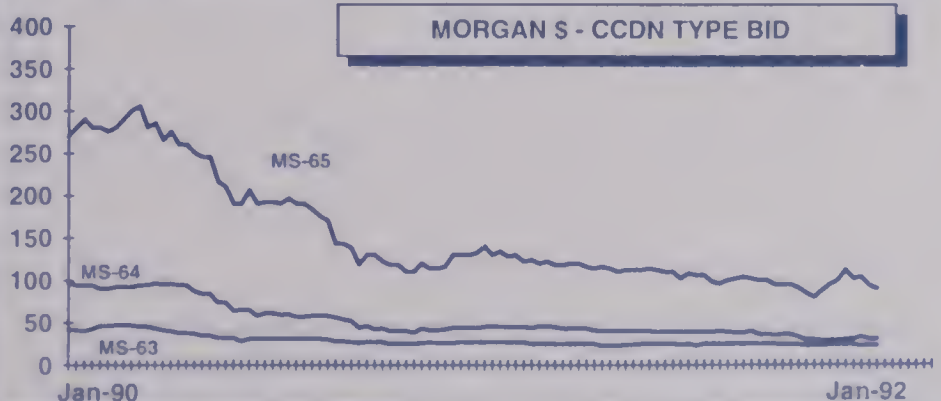

Mint State Type was steady overall, with scattered discounted sells. Mint State Gold was especially strong, with many substantial increases associated with the plus signs. In fact, of all the good news this week, this one gives us the most pleasure. We have mentioned before that Mint State Gold seemed to be operating with a mind of its own recently, and how difficult it was to determine any logical cause. And not just gold coins - bullion has also been acting contrary to expectations. A major war, the disintegration of the world's largest empire, uncertainty over the location and control of Soviet nuclear weapons - and gold took a big yawn. There remains a big blank at the end of the phrase "Movements in Gold Coin prices were the result of _____"; even after each of the year's headlines are plugged in, we are left looking for a more satisfactory answer. The only pragmatic explanation for this week is that prices rose on increased demand and lower supply, which is perhaps the best answer, as well as being a non-answer. May it continue to rise.

Proof Type coins showed a scattering of plus signs, with fewer discounted sells than we had been seeing lately. Proof Gold was steady. Buffalo Nickels showed scattered minus signs in the early dates, with only a few advances in the later dates. Mercury Dimes were steady, with a few changes scattered across the chart. Walking Liberty Halves looked fairly strong in the later dates, with plus signs scattered across the grades in both PCGS and NGC. Proof Singles were mixed, but with discounts dominating.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P.L. Dollars may be semi reflective (on one or both sides) with less reflectivity than the Deep Mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non P.L. strikes.

the CCDn ASKSHEET

featuring Lowest Asks or Last Trades:

With the sight-unseen trading market beset by controversy over declining Bids, dealers turned to the CDN family of publications and asked for more information on the selling and trading prices of coins. We responded, quickly and confidently, with the CCDN ASKSHEET, providing dealers with an important new source of needed information. With wholesale Low Ask or Last Trade information available at their finger tips, dealers are more confident making their buying and selling decisions.

Each CCDn ASKSHEET provides subscribers with the Lowest Ask or Last Trade wholesale price seen in the marketplace during the preceding month. While this publication is being offered separately from the Bluesheet, we recognize that neither publication alone will give you a complete picture of the current wholesale, dealer-to-dealer marketplace. Together, the High Bid of the Bluesheet and the Low Ask/Last Trade of the ASKSHEET define the parameters of market value; dealers feel more secure knowing the limits inside of which they need to operate to make that sale! Our subscribers already know the best way to avoid the uncertainties of value in a volatile supply/demand marketplace. And they do it by turning to the name that dealers have trusted for more than 28 years - the Coin Dealer Newsletter family of publications.

On the other hand, it is important that it is possible to find some evidence, even if it is only circumstantial, that the defendant is guilty of the crime charged. The evidence must be sufficient to establish the defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Market Bullish in '92? Strong Start Inspires Predictions

The strength of the market at the Orlando FUN Show has inspired many dealers to predict that the market bottom has been passed, and that the next up-cycle is beginning. The evidence may not be quite strong enough yet for us to confirm those predictions, but nearly all of the news coming out of the market over the last two weeks has been very positive.

Let's dispense with the negatives first. Dealer #1 was very vocal in his complaints about the market at the FUN Show: "It was a great show if you came with coins that you were willing to sell at current levels, or if you came with a Want List to fill." The positive comments from dealers #2 to #32: "It was a great show if you came with coins that you were willing to sell at current levels, or if you came with a Want List to fill." Maybe this is more than questioning if the market 'glass' is half-empty or half-full. The complaining dealer attended with the hopes of making a few "rip" purchases from dealers overly anxious to convert inventory into cash. This is a sound plan if you are attending a show in a totally bear market; it doesn't work quite as well in a market that is showing substantial signs of strength. Dealers who have accepted the current levels and are willing to work around them, as well as those who are reaping the benefits of their customer relations work, were quite excited at the number of coins changing hands.

The activity wasn't confined to the bourse, either. The James D. Brilliant & William R. Sieck Collections Sale, held by Auctions by Bowers & Merena at the FUN Show, was very well attended, and mail-bids were especially strong. Realizing more than $3.3 million, many of the lots in the sale were in the mainstream of current collecting interests. Watching the activity, one of America's leading dealers commented "If this sale's activities are any indication of the current market's strength, then collectors are in for a happy and healthy hobby in 1992." To that we might add that if history is any guide, collectors shouldn't wait too long to fill their want lists before added demand from investors (attracted by a new bull cycle) quickly pushes prices up.

This week's Bluesheet Bids reflect the sense of optimism that is beginning to spread. Gold is continuing to advance, persisting in its recent trend. This can only be considered excellent news to the tens of thousands of collectors and dealers who hold a large proportion of their numismatic value in U.S. Gold coins. Silver Commemoratives were steady, with scattered plus signs in the higher grades. Changes in Gold Commems were mainly in the positive direction. MS65 generic Morgans are starting to rise again, continuing the volatility they have shown since breaking out of their doldrums in November. Continuing demand is putting upward pressure on about 3 dozen selected NGC dates. Peace Dollars are steady, with pluses continuing on selected NGC issues.

Mint State Type is steady, with most of the changes in the upward direction. Mint State Type Gold, as mentioned earlier, is showing real signs of vitality. Proof Type remains steady, with most of the changes to the plus side. Proof Gold Type is unchanged. Among the specialty series, early Buffalo Nickels are showing mainly minus signs under selling pressure, Mercury Dimes are steady; Walking Liberty Halves are showing scattered minus signs on later date PCGS issues, with concentrated bidding on selected NGC65 and NGC66 issues. Proof Singles were mixed, with Quarters reflecting the greatest demand.

PCG, DMPL and NPL. DMPL tests are for fully sleep. Moreover, for the same test, both for PCG, PL and PL⁺, if a nullifier was prooflike or one-sided PL⁺ will be listed separately in a supplemental issue. CTV (closed) lists have always represented fully sleep marker prooflike arguments.

CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at these Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Prices are for the most common dates. Better dates usually bring more than the B-1 of the most common issues listed herein.

Demand for Morgans - It's Back!

It's good news again this week, and the circle of smiles in the dealer community seems to be growing. Of interest is the observation that recently, the market has been following the activity; that is, increased activity in the movement of rare coins seems to be generating increased demand. At this point, no one is talking about the market having 'a life of its own' - it is still too apparent where the liveliness is coming from (and with thanks!). Reports from the middle-tier of dealers confirms that the demand passing through the larger wholesalers is starting to "trickle down", and some are predicting even more of that in the immediate future. As the inventories of the wholesalers get depleted, they will need increasing amounts of new material to feed their customers.

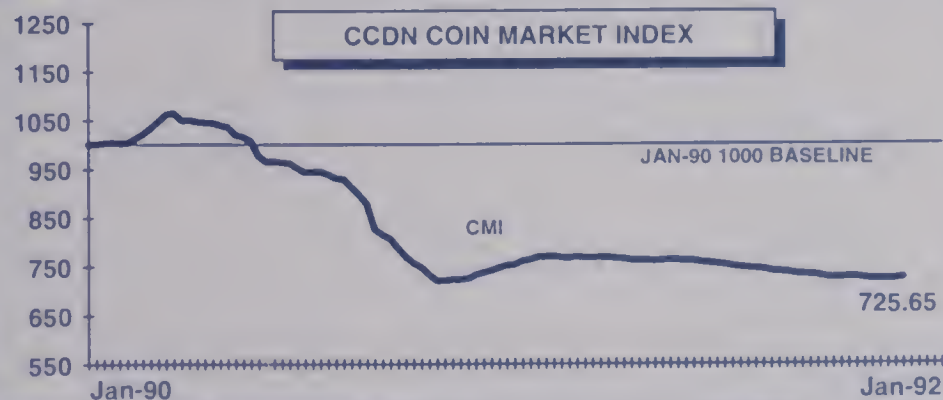

On top of the positive activity we have been seeing in Mint State Gold Type recently, generic MS65 Morgans have also come back with a bang! Two weeks ago, some dealers were starting to count out Morgans (again), as having run their cycle for the year. Spend an extra week at Disneyworld without your Bluesheet, and bang, you're looking at $112 Bid levels again. Who would have imagined three months ago that this much money could be made on this coin.

Another good sign is the number of dealers reporting increased traffic in the coin shops, with rises in the number of customers crossing the threshold, and in the number of invoices. The amounts still are not overly large, as demand continues to be concentrated on coins in the $300 to $1000 range; in other words, collector demand. Additionally, we are also hearing dealers talking about new customers coming into their shops, and making some 'exploratory' purchases; in other words, collector/investor demand. You can bet they are getting a lot of personal attention! One dealer, bragging slightly about a commitment made by a major investor, confided that he was under strict instructions to purchase high grade material valued between $200 and $900, in other words, planning on profiting from new collector demand.

While we are still a long way from dealers unanimously proclaiming a new "bull" market, the loudest complaint heard recently is that fresh material is required to make waiting sales. Of course it is typical at this early stage of a rising market for demand to outstrip supply. Anyone holding better quality material is likely to wait for higher prices before selling; with a shortage of fresh material facing the growing levels of demand, prices will ultimately have to rise if this better material is to see the light of day in the near future. There are a number of upcoming auctions which will be adding lots of supply to the market, and price levels will show if sufficient liquidity exists to keep the fresh material in suspension until customer cash materializes for it. It may not require a magician to sustain a market rally, but it doesn't hurt, either!

Silver Commemoratives showed a major move upward, with increasing demand for NGC certified issues (especially in MS61 through MS64). Gold Commems ended up, although some price adjustments due to discounted sells are continuing. Morgan Dollars were up overall, helped by MS65 Generics and MS64s - we may someday tire of reminding both dealers and collectors just how nice today's MS64s are, but certainly not while they remain at these attractive levels. Peace Dollars are up, with much of the demand for the 'lesser uncs'. Mint State Type shows scattered upward movements across most grades. Mint State Gold Type is strong! Proof Types are stable, with nearly all of the changes upward. Proof Gold Type was stable - period! Buffalo Nickels were stable with a few discounted sells; Mercury Dimes were stable; and Walking Liberty Halves showed some liveliness in the later dates and higher grades. Proof Singles were steady, with selected advances.

Big Mo' Moves Into Long Beach Rising Bids Cause Contrarian Celebrations

Sometimes a single telephone conversation can tell you an awful lot about the market. On the line was a smaller wholesaler, who mainly carries nicer coins. Business was so bad in December that he took a three-week vacation (the conversation to this point was generating little sympathy). Before he left, he made his appointed rounds, and couldn't sell anything. Little more than a month later, he returns to find his answering machine chock-full of messages; now his dealer customers were waiting in line to buy at prices about 10% higher. It would give an incorrect impression to say that I could hear his head shaking, so in that quiet moment I replied with the only explanation that counts for anything in this coin market: "supply and demand works!"

The market is definitely heating up. Bids are rising on many coins, demand is growing, and the contrarians who have been buying at their best guess of the market bottom are now waiting to take their profits. The momentum has definitely swung to a rising market; another month or so of increasing demand and we will begin to talk about a new bull market. The only consistent complaint that we are hearing from dealers now is that there is not enough 'quality', 'fresh' material around. For that reason, there is even greater anticipation for the Long Beach Coin Show and Superior's upcoming auction sales. Dealers have Want Lists that need to be filled, and with the market continuing to rise, everyone wants to buy quickly.

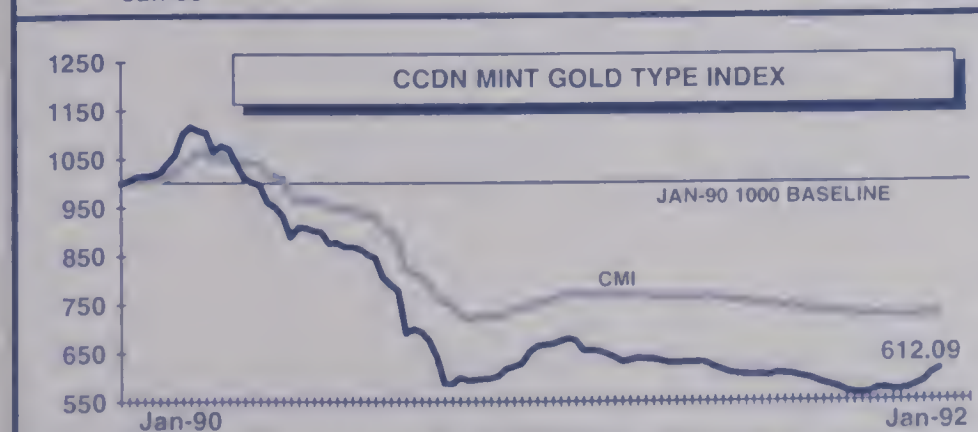

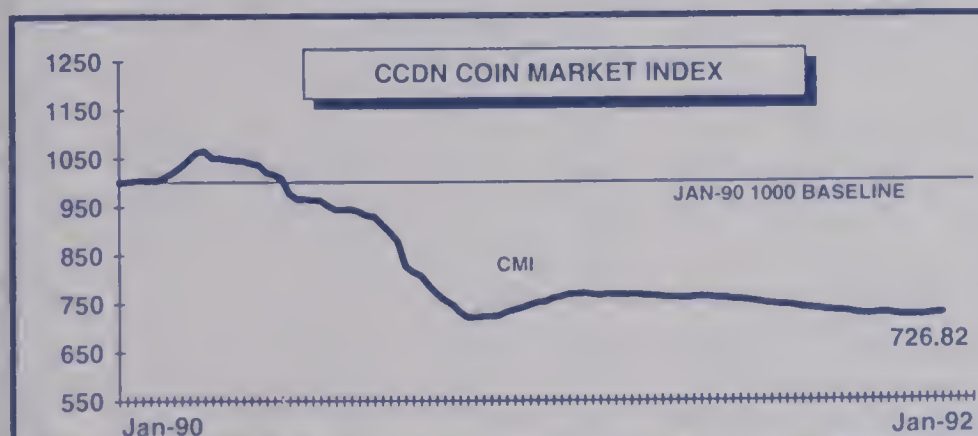

Numismatists will certainly have plenty of quality coins to chase in Superior's two sales, the Roger S. Cohen, Jr. Collection of Half Cents, to be auctioned on February 2, and the Century Collection Sale, to be held Feb. 2-4. Bidders will have their choice - everything from super rare varieties, to super rare quality, to plain old super rare coins. You can be certain that the bourse cases of Long Beach will be glittering with prizes won from the Century Collection's 65 original Proof Sets, dated 1880 to 1914, that are being dispersed. Complaints about 'fresh' material won't be heard here.

Gold continues to lead this market charge, and it's well worth taking a look at how a few representative issues have done since the Thanksgiving Holiday. Better yet, let's look at how the top ten gainers have done since their 22 November Bid.

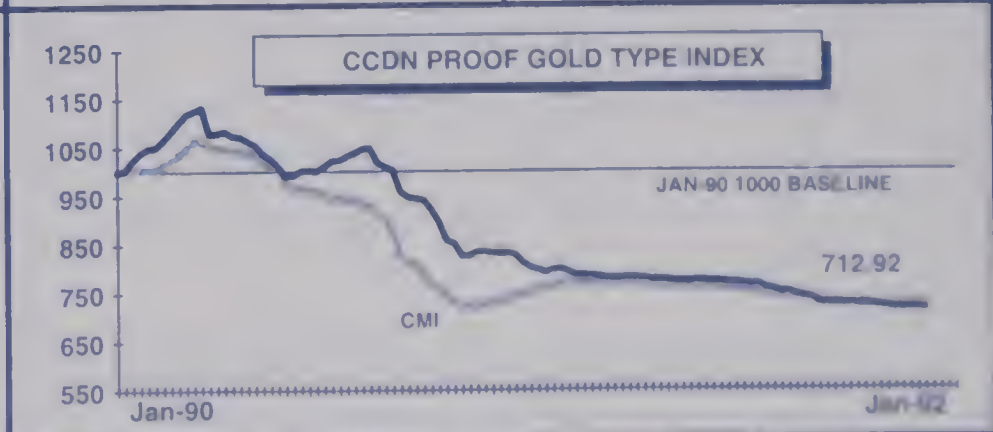

Denomination	Grade	11/22/91	1/31/92	% Gain
$2.5 Indian	MS64	$845	$1520	80%
$2.5 Indian	MS63	$420	$725	73%
$2.5 Liberty	MS63	$456	$685	50%
$5 Liberty, w/m	MS62	$238	$352	48%
$10 Indian	MS63	$700	$1000	43%
$20 Liberty, T.3	MS63	$570	$800	40%
$1 Liberty, T.1	MS63	$825	$1140	38%
$10 Liberty, w/m	MS63	$835	$1150	38%
$5 Liberty, w/m	MS63	$745	$1020	37%
$2.5 Liberty	MS64	$680	$930	37%

The lessons learned should already be obvious to everyone in the market. These coins are priced at levels that collectors can afford, and are sufficiently available for collectors to find them. And coins in the MS63 and MS64 grade are of high enough quality for everyone to want them.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market prices for coins as determined by the most active grading services. The numbers represent the bid or offer price determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids. Ask prices, trading information, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market prices because the highest Bidder removes his Bid but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn's very means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer - are strictly the responsibility of the dealer and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

CCNY does not expect that it is possible to purchase oil well stock at lower bid prices. Given its slight-minor trading position, it expects to receive an substantially higher level of interest.

Slabs Sizzle in Superior's Sessions Active Long Beach Predicted

Dealers are well into one of the busiest weeks of their year, with Southern California hosting two coin shows and two auction sales. Superior Galleries' two sales, their Roger S. Cohen, Jr. Collection of Half Cents and their Century Collection Sale, set the stage for an active Long Beach Coin Show. The market is definitely heating up, and Bidders certainly did their share - prices realized (including the 10% premium) were reported above $8.8 million. Prices of the Century Proofs confirmed that there is still a strong market for the $10K+ priced rare coins, especially when the quality is so superb. The auction sessions reminded many dealers of activity during the last boom - packed room, sustained bidding, most lots selling to floor bidders, and high prices realized. There was even consistent laughter on the floor, as Bidders responded to the auctioneers continued (and accurate!) description of Century Lots as "The finest known". And there were happy buyers, proud of their purchases. The auctions demonstrated strength in several areas, from the Early Copper through Proof Type Coins, with some significant lots of Gold rarities. Among the highlights:

Denomination	Grade	Price realized	Denomination	Grade	Price realized
1907 Dime	PCGS Pr68	$11,550	1884 Quarter	PCGS Pr68	$16,500
1914 Quarter	PCGS Pr68	$16,500	1897 Half Dollar	PCGS Pr68	$18,700
1908 Half Dollar	PCGS Pr68	$18,700	1896 Morgan	NGC Pr68	$18,150
1861 D $1 Gold	PCGS50	$10,450	1827 $2.5	PCGS61	$12,100
1904 $2.5	PCGS Pr65	$11,550	1847-C $5	PCGS61	$10,450
1907 $10, WE, Per	PCGS65	$39,600	1932 $10	PCGS66	$12,650
1910 $20	NGC66	$10,450	1912 $20	NGC Pr66	$51,700

Much will be learned about the strength of this recovery on the Long Beach Bourse, as dealers quickly react to levels of demand. The size of the crowd, the size of the checkbook, and their areas of activity will do much to determine the market's direction over the next three months. Dealers will be anxious to lock in some profits to offset the damage the slide did to their inventory values, but buyers are still not so anxious that they will automatically pay premium prices for every coin. For super quality and super rarity, maybe for super common, too. The opportunity to buy really nice coins at nice prices got collectors back into the market, the new demand, if it continues to drive prices upward, will ultimately attract investors again.

Silver Commemoratives showed strength in MS64 through MS66, MS68. Gold Commemems also strengthened. Morgan Dollars advanced in MS60 through MS65 with interest in the DMPL specimens picking up. Peace Dollars advanced in MS63 and MS64. Mint State Type was steady, with some scattered pluses. Mint State Gold Type shows several minus signs as dealers choose to take profits, but at these levels it continues as one of the leading recovery factors. Proof Type shows scattered plus signs, while Proof Gold Type was largely unchanged. Buffalo Nickels were largely unchanged in the late dates, although there were some discounted sells in the earlier issues. Mercury Dimes showed a little activity, primarily in late date MS66s and MS67s. Walking Liberty Halves were stable in the early dates, with later date MS65 generics advancing. Most of the activity in Proof Singles focused on the Halves.

PCGS Professional Coin Grading Service, Newport Beach, CA: Established in 1986, PCGS grades and authenticates U.S. and world coins. PCGS has certified more than two million coins. All coins must be submitted through one of the 560+ authorized dealers; contact PCGS at 800-447-8848 for a list.

PCGS has more than 15 graders on its staff; each coin is examined by at least two graders before the final grade is determined. No person involved with the grading process may be active in the buying or selling of U.S. coins. Fees start at $26 or $35 depending on the type of coin, plus postage and insurance; several levels of Express service are also available. PCGS coins are sonically sealed in an inert plastic "NumisCap" holder before return to the customer.

PCGS has a cash backed Guarantee of Grade and Authenticity. PCGS has a comprehensive grading set which includes most major series. PCGS is a grading service only and does not make markets. PCGS dealers are responsible for their own making of markets in PCGS coins. PCGS publishes a monthly Population Report.

ANACS ANACS: The first authentication service (established in 1972), to which grading services were added in 1978. ANACS authenticates and grades all U.S. coins and patterns, rendering unbiased third party grading opinions using prevailing market grading standards. After grading, the coins are placed in the sonically sealed ANACS Cache,™

ANACS has over 700 active submission centers. All coins can be sent through the submission centers or directly to the ANACS office. Submitters can also become Market Makers. The fee for a standard submission is $23, and various levels of express service are available between $40 and $125.

Free information is available from ANACS, P.O. Box 182141, Columbus, Ohio 43218-2141. Phone 1-800-888-1861.

CCDN Bids primarily reflect 1989 and newer certified coins (post ANA's sale of ANACS). Earlier certifications (including pre-Cache certificates) may realize varying Bids. ANACS Bids are listed only once each month.

NGC Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America. Established in 1987, to grade and authenticate U.S. coins. Located in Parsippany, New Jersey. You must submit coins to NGC through authorized NGC dealers. Phone (201) 984-6222. NGC has more than 15 graders on its staff and every coin is viewed by a grading team of 3-5 members. A finalizer assembles the grades and verifies the final grade. The finalizer must not be in the buying or selling end of the coin business. The service costs a minimum of $19, plus postage and insurance. After it is graded, it is then placed in a "lab tested" (inert), hard plastic holder and sonically sealed, then returned to the customer.

There are over 550 authorized NGC dealers who will send coins in for grading. Many of these dealers will make sight unseen bids for NGC graded coins. NGC will not grade coins dated after 1964. Their grading philosophy is designed to be strict no matter what condition the coin market is in. The principals of NGC do not buy or sell coins for commercial profit, "Arm's length". NGC has a grading set for the popular series and is currently working on sets for other series.

NCI Numismatic Certification Institute. Organized in June, 1984, to grade and authenticate U.S. coins. NCI guarantees the authenticity of every coin it certifies. They are located at Heritage Plaza, Highland Park Village, Dallas, TX 75205-2788. Phone (214) 528-3500. NCI uses three graders in a determination of a final grade, and thirty professional dealers act as consultants. Many of these dealers also market NCI coins.

Grading is based on the philosophy of James Halperin ("N.C.I. Grading Guide") which may be considered somewhat liberal (lenient) compared to the other three services listed. Regular cost is $24 per coin. You may request a specific grade and if NCI can certify it that grade on holder, a certificate will be issued; if not, the coin will be returned ungraded with a charge of 50% of the regular fee. They will certify coins already on holders without removal, if requested.

NCI has established grading sets for Silver Dollars, $20 St. Gaudens, and Walking Liberty Halves. Due to current trading volume, NCI coins will only be listed once a month. CCDN Bids reflect 1987 and newer certified coins.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Blue Sheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for gold and silver coins, active grading services. The numbers reported are based on a study of market activity including the highest bid, the lowest bid, the highest ask, and the lowest ask. The CCDDn may not alter market values, but the highest bid removes the bid and the lowest ask removes the ask, which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at bid levels. Client or sight seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

LEADERSHIP FOR A GROWING INDUSTRY.

All prices are sight unseen. Ingersoll's is a cash business.
 Bid prices are for the most common city makes and sizes.

CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected commodities at these Bill Level 1 Commodity prices. It is expected that prices for commodities can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

For certified coins not listed in the CCDn, please refer to the COIN DEALER newsletter for current Bid levels.

Long Beach Logs Another Success Market Demand Still Growing

Dealers came to Southern California hoping that the market would be as strong as the most optimistic were predicting - and for a change, the optimists were right. Dealers during (and after) the Show report that they were very pleased with the results. The few complaints came from dealers who had priced their material well above the new higher market levels, and who were trying to sell very common material at premium prices. Dealer inventories are still relatively high, and you can be sure that nobody is going to stretch to buy a twentieth piece for stock. Dealers who came to Long Beach to buy and sell reported being very successful at both. The new bullish spirit was also evident at Heritage Numismatic Auctions' Long Beach Bullet Sale, which reported spirited bidding and prices realized just under $1 million. At the end of this month, Heritage will also be conducting the Auction at the Early Spring A.N.A. Convention in Dallas. The catalogue covers material from Ancients to Modern Proofs, with something of interest for the many specialties of numismatics.

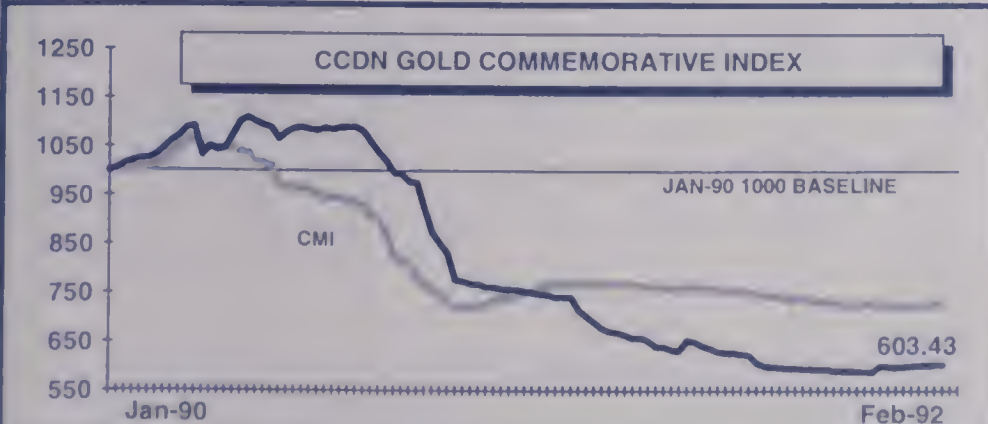

Bidders who seek only certified coins may be denying themselves an incredible opportunity if they limit their participation in Superior Galleries' upcoming gold collection of Ed Trompeter. Trompeter chose not to have his coins certified, but that isn't going to stop any of the knowledgeable gold collectors. There are any number of rarities which can only be found in this fabulous collection. A pedigree from such a major collection is important, and if recent pedigreed sales are any indication, the Trompeter coins should yield a substantial price. This collection is simply overwhelming and the catalogue is a masterpiece. In fact, many collectors who cannot afford such premium pieces will still be certain to purchase a copy of the catalogue - classic, landmark sales are like that.

Speaking of Gold, we had several dealers request that we chart the recent price increases on the Mint State Indian Quarter Eagle Types. Since last October, the Bid on these attractive coins has been accelerating, and even some recent profit-taking doesn't seem to have slowed demand much. While many Gold Types have a long way to go to establish new highs, it is good to see this important area driving the bullish market feelings.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for coins certified by the most active grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids, Ask prices, trading information on prior bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value because the high Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

PCGs DMPL and NCG DPL bids are for fully Deep Mirror Frodo-like items. Bids for PCG DPL and NCG PL (not full mirror prooflike or one-sided PL) will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CPM (Contract Bid) NCG items are not considered fully deep mirror prooflike specimens.

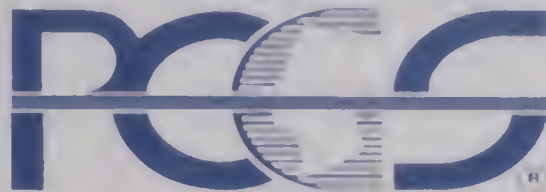

CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at these Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

NEED TO MAIL?

Need to contact America's leading numismatic dealers? Make your advertising and postage dollars count with America's best dealer listing. The company name and numismatist sections of the

are available for rental. Since the Directory is fully copyrighted, this is your only source for this proven list of more than 5,500 current names and addresses. And current is a promise taken seriously - the data base is updated daily. All for only $325 - well below the mailing industry standard of $75/thousand.

To make this offer even more attractive, labels are available in both First Class - Zip Code order or Presorted for Third Class - Basic Bulk Rate mailings (you can save more than $425 over First Class postage rates!). Need just one state or region? Need a trial sample? Contact us for details!

Market Rebound "Looks Real" Customer Actions Help Convince Dealers

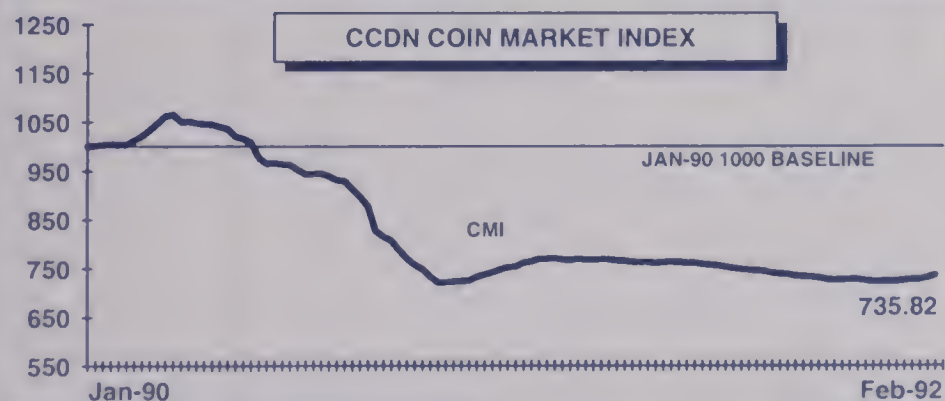

The plus signs are continuing their steady show of force; they seem to be making up for lost time after their long-awaited reappearance. Bids continue to rise across the market, and while the plus signs are impressive in themselves, of even greater significance is the 'invisible' strength of the market: There are more confirming Bids at current levels than we have seen in many months. So we have all the visible signs of a true rebound: More Bids, more Bidders, higher Bids, and coins trading. Even one of the principle skeptics of this market was heard to utter that this rebound "looks real". Hopefully, the increases in demand and prices will be sure and steady; while a rising market generates additional demand, this is still a market fueled by the apparent "value" at current levels.

Silver Commemoratives showed growth across a wide spread of issues, with many plus signs among the MS65 and MS66 grades. In fact, across many of the charts, interest in MS66 examples seems to be increasing - there is no denying the attractiveness of such superb quality at prices that still often look reasonable. Gold Commems are also showing advances, a welcome change from their history over the past few years; many of the plus signs are in the MS64 and MS65 grades. Morgan Dollars are strong across the board, with many of the advances coming from strong bidders re-entering this market; many trades are occurring as dealers work to reposition their inventories for what many believe will be a sustained climb. MS64 and MS65 grades were especially strong, although MS66s weren't lagging much behind. Peace Dollars were also strongest in MS64 and MS65, with equivalent advances in the MS66s.

Advances in Mint State Type are concentrated in the MS63 through MS65 grades, with some selected MS66 Types advancing as well. Mint State Gold Type is continuing its rebound, with pluses dominating the chart. Plus signs in Proof Type are scattered across the chart from MS61 through MS67, and across many of the issues. Proof Gold Type continues to be holding steady. Buffalo Nickels were especially strong in MS66 and MS67, in fact, this is one of the few areas where MS67s are advancing. Mercury Dimes were largely steady, with some advances in the later dates. Later date MS65 specimens are leading the charge in Walking Liberty Halves, with sustained increases caused by the bidding activities of several dealers; lower grade, early-dates are also advancing. Advances in Proof Singles were strongest in PR65 and PR66. If you still need convincing on the market direction, look at the activity in the monthly specialty charts.

Further evidence of the current market strength can be found by viewing the CCDn CMI (Coin Market Index). It now stands at 735.82, up nearly 5½ points this week. It has been steadily climbing since its low (722.83) in early January.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for coins certified by the most active grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity, including the highest nationally reported visible Bids. Ask prices, trading information, prior bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value because the high Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

LEADERSHIP FOR A GROWING INDUSTRY.

the CCDn ASKSHEET

a monthly publication for coin dealers
featuring Lowest Asks or Last Trades:

€(.034) 54 66¢ Φ /A 125¢

How do the experts value coins?

For more than a year, dealers "in the know" have been subscribing to the CCDN ASKSHEET. Nowhere else could they find such a useful source of information for determining the latest Lowest Ask or Last Trade information for certified coins. When combined with the Bluesheet, this information has made dealers more confident in the buying and selling of certified coins.

Why is it so important to know both the wholesale Bid and Ask? High Bid and Low Ask define the parameters of market value to dealers; with this same information, you can feel more secure knowing the limits inside of which you want to operate to make that sale! In a volatile supply-demand marketplace, dealers turn to the name that they have trusted for more than 29 years - the Coin Dealer Newsletter family of publications.

Market Concentrating on MS63-65 Trompeter Collection Sells to Strong Bidders

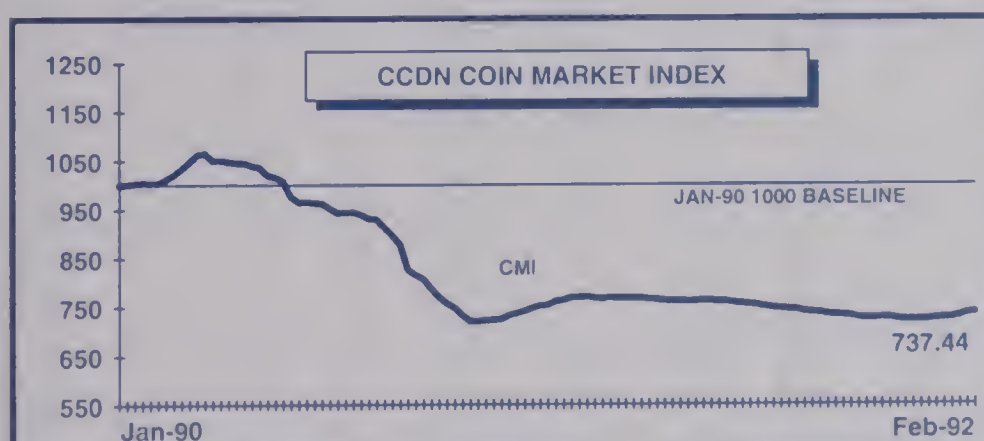

The market has taken on a decidedly different feel this week, as dealers were juggling their travel schedules. Despite the large number of dealers on the move, teletype activity for certified coins was not as quiet as many expected - there are still any number of major dealers whose business depends upon keeping their Bids visible. But for many others, first on the list of activities was attending Superior Galleries' auctioning of the fabulous Ed Trompeter Collection of U.S. Gold. The coins were rare, the room was packed, and they came to Bid & Buy. The 209 lots of the Trompeter Collection (Part I) realized $3.85 million; to make that number even more impressive, consider that it translates into an average price exceeding $18,000 per coin! There was only one certified lot in the sale: an 1873 Closed 3 $1 Gold, graded PCGS MS65, and it realized $15,950.

Many dealers were picking up their newly purchased treasures and heading straight to Dallas to attend the 1992 ANA/PNG Early Spring Convention. The ESC may still be the 'smaller brother' of the ANA's Summer Bash, but it is growing in popularity as dealers gravitate towards the larger shows. With Heritage's accompanying auction sale, both dealers and collectors have ample opportunities to fill those Want Lists. The ability to buy coins sight-seen remains very important to many dealers, especially in a market where demand seems to focus on selected grades of coins. The specifics may vary from series to series, but this rally is generally focusing on the MS63, MS64, and MS65 issues.

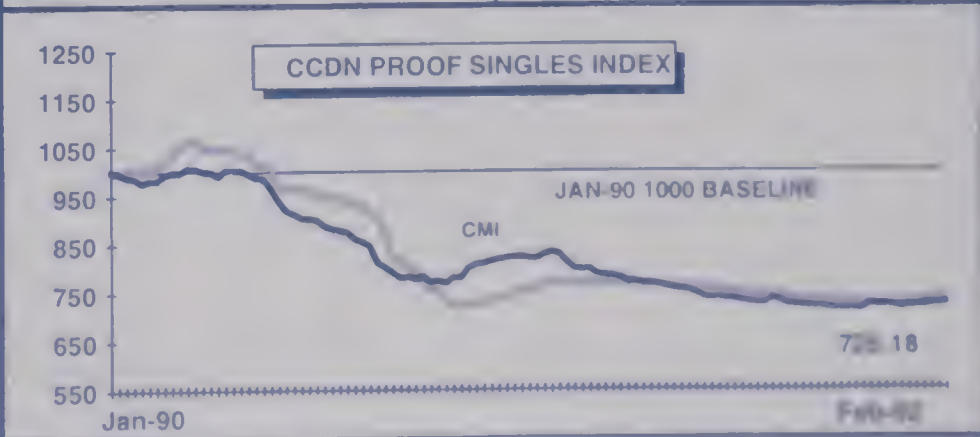

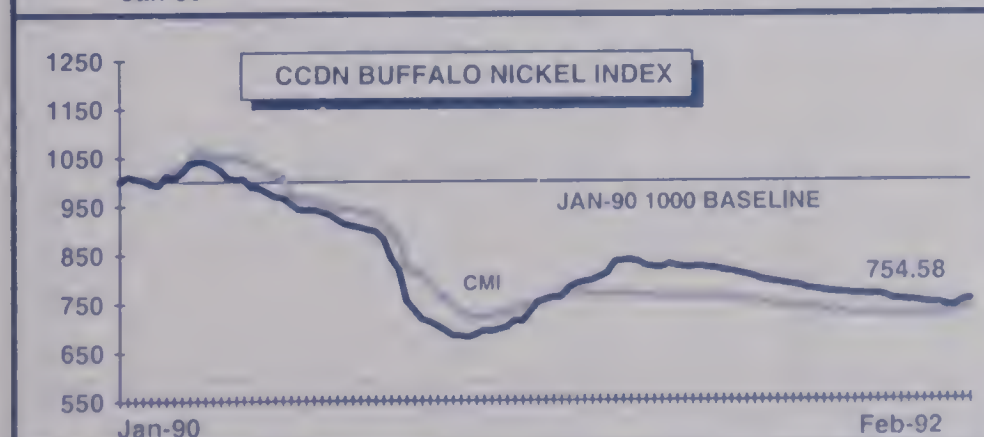

A dealer friend at the Superior sale made a comment that, in retrospect, is worth repeating; at the time he made it, the jaws of everyone listening were too busy dropping to catch the nuance. "It's good to see some minus signs." This seemed such an extraordinary comment in an industry that has been celebrating the return of plus signs. But it was meant seriously. "I like to see some balance kept when the market starts to move ahead quickly; too many plus signs and we all forget what the last two years were like." It was an interesting thought, and one that reflects a lot of market reality. This week, Morgans showed strength in the MS64 and MS65 grades, yet MS65 generic prices dipped. Is it a contradiction when generics and better dates go in opposite directions? Not if the demand is focusing on better coins. It is to paraphrase a matter of balance.

Dealers will need to pay careful attention to the grades that are hot in their respective series; it can make all the difference between an inventory that is making sales and profits, and one that is languishing. Silver Commemoratives, while showing some solid advances in MS64 & MS65, were positively dynamic in MS66. Gold Commems strengthened in MS64 & 65. Morgan Dollars boomed in MS64 & MS65, with MS63 not too far behind. Peace Dollars advanced on the persistent efforts of an NGC Bidder. Mint State Type advances in MS64 & 65, with many plus signs to be seen in the MS63 & 66 columns as well. Mint State Gold Type gave up some of its hard won gains, as sellers pushed some prices downward. Proof Type Coins were actively increasing across all grades, but Proof Gold Type was relatively quiet (probably waiting for the results from Superior's Sale). Buffalo Nickels advanced in MS64 & MS65, especially in the early dates. Mercury Dimes fell slightly under selected selling. Walking Liberty Halves continue strong, with interest on the early issues, and the later date, higher-grade coins. Proof Singles were higher, with bidding concentrated on Cents and Quarters.

The numbers are determined through careful study of market activity including the nationally reported visible Bids. Ask prices trading information including levels and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value, but the Bidder removes his Bid but will be strongly influenced. A k's or Trade with the near or below current wholesale value. CCDn's very means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheet prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer are strictly the responsibility of the dealer and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-see trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Demand Focuses on Selected Grades Quality Coins Sought

The coin market continues to bask in the 'good news' of recent events. The successes of the Long Beach Coin Show, Superior's Trompeter Sale, Dallas' 1992 ANA/PNG Early Spring Convention, and Heritage's Auction have all contributed to the optimistic attitudes defining this market. The number of plus signs seen since 1992 began has been both cause and effect of this rally; dealers bidding higher create plus signs, and the visible plus signs encourage other dealers to Bid as well.

This week we have seen continued focusing of the bidding activity that we have reported previously. The number of plus signs, while continuing to be impressive, is not the key to understanding this market. An increasing number of issues have confirming Bids at current levels, which means that the market is strengthening. After some of the excesses of the past, most dealers agree that a stronger market, one with depth and liquidity, is more important than selected issues rising. Not that anyone is opposed to plus signs - only that it's nice to have more cake under the icing.

Speaking of plus signs, we call attention to the number of plus signs in the upper grades of the Morgan Dollar series. Numismatists will note that many of these represent substantial increases; they may also note that many of these coins have not yet been certified. We are occasionally asked why the Bluesheet reports Bids on coins that don't exist, and it is a fair question. Certification is still a relatively new concept, and there are an extraordinary number of premium-quality coins that have not yet been put in slabs. We need only point to the 208 uncertified lots (out of 209 total lots) of the Trompeter collection to prove the point. There is no certainty that 3 pop coins will not be certified tomorrow, or next week, or next year. In the meantime, we provide the highest Bid visible in the marketplace. Sometimes such Bids seem ridiculously high; other times much too low. In the past, when a coin is finally certified, we have seen many enormous increases on top of Bids that seemed high only one week before! Market pricing depends upon information, and we will continue to bring subscribers the most accurate information possible.

Dealers are telling us that they have to spend more time than ever staying on top of customer demand. There remains a reticence to buy too much material for inventory, so it becomes especially critical to know what customers and the marketplace are seeking. While high grade coins are bearing the brunt of the demand, every series has different grades which are most in demand.

Silver Commemoratives continue most active in MS63-MS66, while the relatively stable Gold Commemems show only a few scattered plus signs. Peace Dollars are moving upward along with the Morgans. Mint State Type is steady, while MS61-MS65 Mint State Gold Type is moving back up on its recent roller coaster activity. Proof Type is most active in PR63-PR65, but demand is strengthening overall. Proof Gold Type is also steady, as the absorption of the Trompeter coins seems to have had little impact on pricing. Buffalo Nickels are continuing strong in MS63-MS65, while Mercury Dimes are soaring in MS66FB and MS67FB. Walker performance was mixed, with many of the plus signs coming from a persistent strong buyer. Proof Singles were largely steady.

PCGS Professional Coin Grading Service, Newport Beach, CA: Established in 1986, PCGS grades and authenticates U.S. and world coins. PCGS has certified more than two million coins. All coins must be submitted through one of the 560+ authorized dealers; contact PCGS at 800-447-8848 for a list.

PCGS has more than 15 graders on its staff; each coin is examined by at least two graders before the final grade is determined. No person involved with the grading process may be active in the buying or selling of U.S. coins. Fees start at $26 or $35 depending on the type of coin, plus postage and insurance; several levels of Express service are also available. PCGS coins are sonically sealed in an inert plastic "NumisCap" holder before return to the customer.

PCGS has a cash-backed Guarantee of Grade and Authenticity. PCGS has a comprehensive grading set which includes most major series. PCGS is a grading service only and does not make markets. PCGS dealers are responsible for their own making of markets in PCGS coins. PCGS publishes a monthly Population Report.

ANACS ANACS: The first authentication service (established in 1972), to which grading services were added in 1978. ANACS authenticates and grades all U.S. coins and patterns, rendering unbiased third party grading opinions using prevailing market grading standards. After grading, the coins are placed in the sonically sealed ANACS Cache.TM

ANACS has over 700 active submission centers. All coins can be sent through the submission centers or directly to the ANACS office. Submitters can also become Market Makers. The fee for a standard submission is $23, and various levels of express service are available between $40 and $125.

Free information is available from ANACS, P.O. Box 182141, Columbus Ohio 43218-2141. Phone 1-800-888-1861.

CCDn Bids primarily reflect 1989 and newer certified coins (post ANA's sale of ANACS). Earlier certifications (including pre-Cache certificates) may realize varying Bids. ANACS Bids are listed only once each month.

NGC Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America. Established in 1987, to grade and authenticate U.S. coins. Located in Parsippany, New Jersey. You must submit coins to NGC through authorized NGC dealers. Phone (201) 984-6222. NGC has more than 15 graders on its staff and every coin is viewed by a grading team of 3-5 members. A finalizer assembles the grades and verifies the final grade. The finalizer must not be in the buying or selling end of the coin business. The service costs a minimum of $19 plus postage and insurance. After it is graded, it is then placed in a "lab-tested" (inert) hard plastic holder and sonically sealed, then returned to the customer.

There are over 550 authorized NGC dealers who will send coins in for grading. Many of these dealers will make sight unseen bids for NGC graded coins. NGC will not grade coins dated after 1964. Their grading philosophy is designed to be strict no matter what condition the coin market is in. The principle of NGC is not buy or sell coins for commercial profit. "Arm's length" NGC has a grading set for the popular series and is currently working on sets for other series.

NCI Numismatic Certification Institute. Organized in June 1988 to grade and authenticate U.S. coins. NCI guarantees the authenticity of every coin it certifies. They are located at Heritage Plaza, Highland Park Village, Dallas, TX 75205-2788. Phone (214) 528-3500. NCI uses three graders in a determination of a final grade, and thirty professional dealers act as consultants. Many of these dealers also market NCI coins.

Grading is based on the philosophy of James Halperin ("N.C.I. Grading Guide") which may be considered somewhat liberal (counterpoint) compared to the other three services listed. Regular cost is $24 per coin. You only request a specific grade and if NCI can certify at that grade or higher, a certificate will be issued. If not, the coin will be returned ungraded with a charge of 50% of the regular fee. They will certify coins already in holders without removal, if requested.

NCI has established grading sets for Silver Dollars, Gold Dollars, and Walking Liberty Halves. Due to current trading volume, NCI coins will only be listed once a month. CCDn Bids reflect 1987 and newer certified coins.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer to Dealer Bids.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market prices for coins certified by the most active grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids, Ask prices, trading information, or bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value because the high Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Ask or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer; it is the responsibility of the dealer and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Plus Signs Pepper Charts Market Continues Strengthening

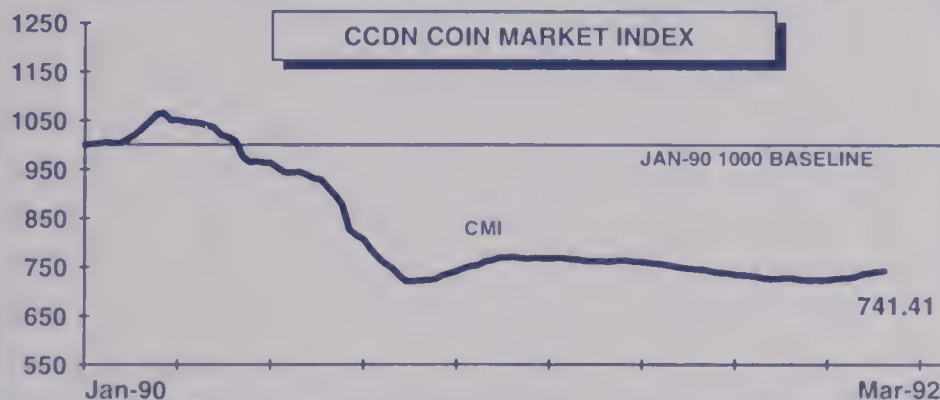

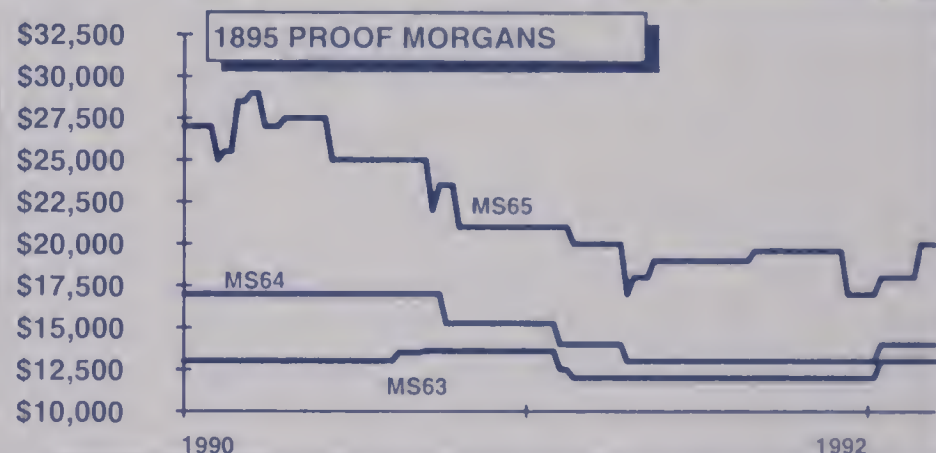

The certified market continues to strengthen, with solid advances found on many of the charts. As noted previously, as dramatic as the plus signs may be, they are only the tip of the strengthening 'iceberg'. Behind every plus sign, there are probably five coins showing consistent bidding activity at these levels. This underlying strengthening of the market is the primary reason for dealer's optimism - although the plus signs never 'hurt'.

Silver Commemoratives continue strong, especially in MS63-MS66. Gold Commems also are showing some movement across all grades, but mostly in MS64 & MS65. Both Morgan & Peace Dollars continue on their upward course, with many of the plus signs in MS65 & MS66. Mint State Type Coins are strong at current levels, with some noticeable action in NGC Coppers. Mint State Gold Type continues on its uneven recovery, showing a multitude of plus signs this week. Proof Type is largely constant, with many of the advances in Pr64 and Pr65. Proof Gold Type advanced in Pr64, but is otherwise steady. Buffalo Nickels were steady, Mercury Dimes were strengthening in the later dates and higher grades, and Walkers again are seeing activity in the later date MS67s. Proof Singles are rising, slowly but surely.

Bowers & Merena's upcoming Spring Quartette Sale will be featuring many certified lots of interest (in addition to the broad range of numismatic material that one expects of a major sale). Among the highlights are: 1877 Shield Nickel in PCGS Pr65; 1814 Bust Dime in NGC64; 1916-D Mercury in PCGS64FB; 1835 Bust Quarter in PCGS66; 1894-S Barber Quarter in NGC66; 1901-S Barber Quarter in NGC65; 1924 Standing Lib Quarter in PCGS68; 1827 Bust Half in PCGS63;

1859-D $1 Gold in PCGS63; 1871-S $1 Gold in NGC64; 1803/2 $5 Gold in PCGS62; 1877 $10 Gold in PCGS50. 1910 $10 Gold in PCGS Pr65. March 26th & 27th in New York City - be sure to contact Bowers & Merena for a copy of the catalogue.

Every so often, we like to take a look at some of the classic rarities in American numismatics, just to see how they are reacting to current market conditions. Few would deny the 1895 Proof Morgan its place among the most desirable of U.S. coins, yet it quite often lags the market. The spread between the Pr63 and Pr64 specimens is as narrow as we have seen in some time, and since the start of this year, they have barely reacted to the market recovery. MS65 specimens have been recovering a little more strongly, but it is apparent how high they can rise if the market rally recovers enough to match the last cycle.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for coins certified by the most active grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids. Ask prices, trading information, prior bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value because the high Bidder removes his Bid but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

1930-S $10 PCGS MS-65

PCGS has only rated two pieces this high with none higher. A solid rarity that is worth a lot even in MS-60. MS-64's traded at $50,000 in 1989. The Monthly Supplement estimates the value for this piece at $70,000 to $78,000 dollars. Priced reasonably for sale at. . .

1884-S MORGAN $1 PCGS MS-66!

Without a doubt, one of the three rarest dates in gem uncirculated condition. The word RARE would be an understatement. A glowing, satiny, semi PL obverse accentuated with ultra light toning at the edges. The reverse is superbly frosted. Highlighting ownership of this piece is the addition of your own name to the impressive pedigree. Originally in the Neil Chamberlain collection, it was sold to Jonathan Hefferlan in 1978. Nick Buzolich purchased it for $7,500+, immediately resold it to Bruce Amspacher for the astounding sum of $15,000! Working as an agent, Bruce placed the coin with a good customer. It resided there until 1989, when it was sold to John Highfill & Mark Yaffe, for over $400,000! Immediately, it was sold for $500,000 to a retailer assembling a superb $ set. Surely an opportunity to own this coin might take another 15 years. Don't wait - call Spectrum today on this exceptional rarity.

Rally Strengthens Bidding Activity Is Grade Selective

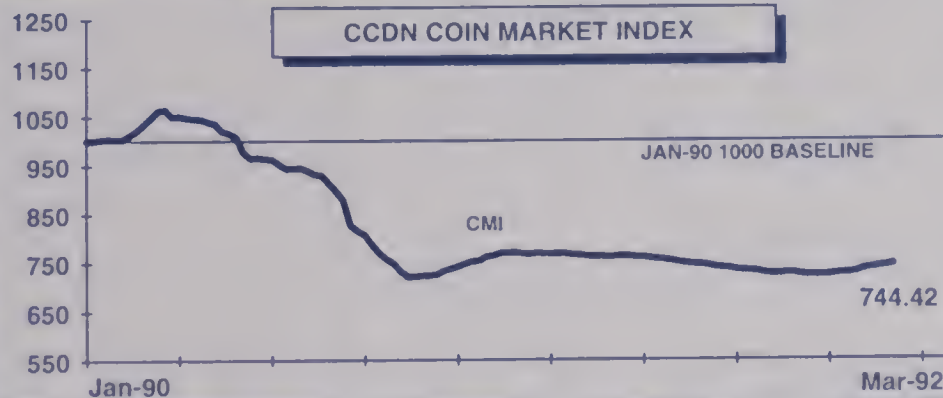

The coin market rally that started with the new calendar is continuing, and the same dealers that couldn't wait for last year to be done are hoping that this one will never end. We are seeing more and stronger Bids, as well as ratchet-climbing Asks. All indications confirm dealers' expectations that prices will continue to rise; and, of course, as long as dealers believe that prices will rise, they will raise their Bids in order to buy coins. It only reinforces the importance of buying at the bottom of a market cycle, and selling on the way up (just before the peak, preferably). As our CMI continues to rise, the market will continue to look more attractive to the fresh money needed to sustain the rally.

Abundant plus signs can be found on just about every chart this week, although the trend of grade-selectivity is continuing. Silver Commemoratives are moving higher in MS64-MS66, and advances in the Gold Commem series are mainly found in the MS63-MS64 grades. Morgan Dollars are continuing strong, especially in MS63-MS65. A large component of the CMI figure was created by a strong buyer bidding on all MS67 NGC Morgans at PCGS levels. Peace Dollars continue to climb on the wave of demand for Dollars. And well they should - you can still get a lot of coin and a lot of history for very little money. Advances in Mint State Type are continuing to focus on MS63-MS65, and the increases are starting to pull along MS62s. Mint State Gold is rising up through MS66. Proof Type is rising steadily, although the chart doesn't seem to be enjoying the demand that Mint State Type is seeing. Proof Gold was largely stable this week, with only a few advances. Buffalo Nickels are rising in MS63-MS65. Mercury Dimes were stable, with only a scattering of plus signs. Walking Liberty Halves are advancing in MS61-MS64 in the early issues, and in MS65-MS66 in the later dates. Proof Singles are moving up cautiously, with this week's increases focused on Early Halves and PR64-PR65 Cents.

More than one dealer, over the years, has remarked to us that if you stay in coins long enough, you will see everything. True enough, at any of the levels of meaning, and the last few weeks we have been watching still another new variation played on an old theme. All other things being equal, every numismatist knows that prices drop as population counts increase. Wrong! The correct answer is that it all depends. Let's sketch out a scenario - strictly hypothetical, of course. Let's imagine a rare coin, say a Mercury Dime, with a population (between both PCGS and NGC) of, say, only four. Then let us imagine, strictly hypothetically again, that a dealer holding a hoard of gems had ten certified. Anyone expecting Bid to drop might certainly be surprised to see Bid double. The owner of 10/14th of the existing population can safely Bid at ever higher levels, since at most, he may (hypothetically) have to purchase only 4 more specimens, and he has the opportunity to sell many more at the higher levels.

So, is our hypothetical Mercury Dime worth half or double? It all depends. If you owned one of the original four and hit the high Bid, your coin was definitely worth double. On the other hand, if you buy one of the ten (recently graded) at double-plus and the high bidder stops bidding, then your coin may well be worth substantially less. It all depends upon whether the highest Bidder in the marketplace is bidding to buy, or bidding to sell. Gosh, supply/demand markets sure are fun, aren't they?

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for coins obtained by the most active grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids, Ask prices, trading information, prior bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value because the high Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Silver Commemoratives Sizzlin' Quality Coins in Demand

The certified market continues to gain ground, as growing demand is pushing prices higher across a broad range of issues. While the demand continues to take a different form on nearly every chart, there has been a real tendency for the demand to focus on the 'better' grades - the MS64 through MS66 columns. Whether this is real collector/investor demand, or dealer demand remains to be seen. The past experience of the market has been that the greatest profits are made in the coins with the better grades. Offsetting that, some dealers have remarked, is the fact that relatively few MS67 coins traded during the recent slump - consequently, their relative Bid levels remained higher. If this is an accurate scenario, then MS67s may not climb as much - simply because they didn't fall as much! On the other hand, if the real demand by retail buyers is on the lower graded material, and dealers are reinvesting their proceeds in the higher grades, the market will soon reflect that dichotomy.

While the plus signs were taking a 'breather' on some of the series, others were positively hot! Silver Commemoratives are benefitting from much of the market demand this week, with substantial advances in the MS64+ grades; our confidence in the rally is strengthened by such activity in the core collector charts. Actually, we look upon Commemoratives as a good indicator of the buying activity of advanced collectors. In speaking with novice collectors, we often find that they will buy Modern Commem issues directly from the Mint, no matter what series they collect. As the collectors grow more sophisticated in their collecting habits, we find that a certain number will develop a real interest in the classic Commemorative series. Whether that interest is expressed in the 50-piece set (most commonly), or in the full 144 pieces, Commems provide much of the very best that numismatics has to offer. With the advantages of both a consistent series and different designs, the coins provide a history of America in their topics, and a history of artistic styles in their execution. Gold Commems were also moving upward this week, especially in the MS63 through MS66 grades.

While the Morgan Dollar chart doesn't show as many plus signs as in recent weeks, demand is continuing strong at these levels, and profit taking is noted, as might be expected at this stage in the rally. Peace Dollars are steady, with some selected increases. The Mint State Type chart reflects scattered advances, with many of the plus signs in the MS63-MS65 range. Mint State Gold is advancing in the 'lesser' uncs, and steady in the higher grades, some of the high bidders are now taking advantage of the sight seen opportunities to examine major coins before buying. Proof Type remains relatively quiet, with scattered plus signs (mostly on the 'better' grades); substantial advances here will be a major indicator of the rally turning into a "bull" market. Proof Gold Type remains steady. Buffalo Nickels and Mercury Dimes are both steady across the dates, with a few scattered changes. Walking Liberty Halves, especially the earlier dates, are enjoying very strong Bidding interest at current levels - there is active bidding across the issues, and good depth of support. Persistent bidding on later date Walkers in NGC65 and NGC66 is again producing major plus activity. The Walkers may be poised for a major move, just as Morgans were during the last several months. Proof Singles, which had been trailing the rally, are showing an abundance of plus signs across the chart.

The Bluesheet

Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market activity as determined by the most active trading series. The numbers are not intended to be an indicator of the overall market activity, including the most active trading series. Ask prices, trading information, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market values because the highest Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Ask or Trade, which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn's every effort is available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Rally Support Broadens Market Still Selective

The market continues to grow in strength, although the rally is still being somewhat selective. This is one of those situations where pictures are truly worth thousands of words - and anyone who has been carefully studying the Bluesheet charts over the past several months will know exactly what I mean! On the one hand, it is safe to say that the rally has been broad-based - that is self-evidently true, based on the recent plus signs to be found on every single chart. On the other hand, it is equally safe to observe that the rally has been very selective, in that only certain grades, and at times certain series, have been advancing.

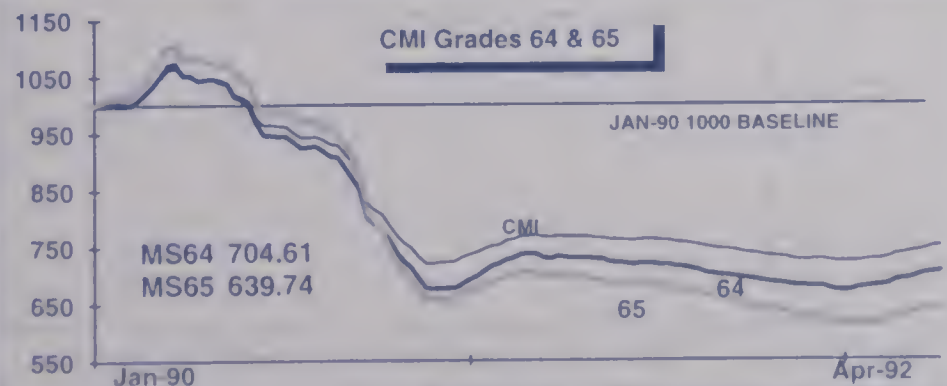

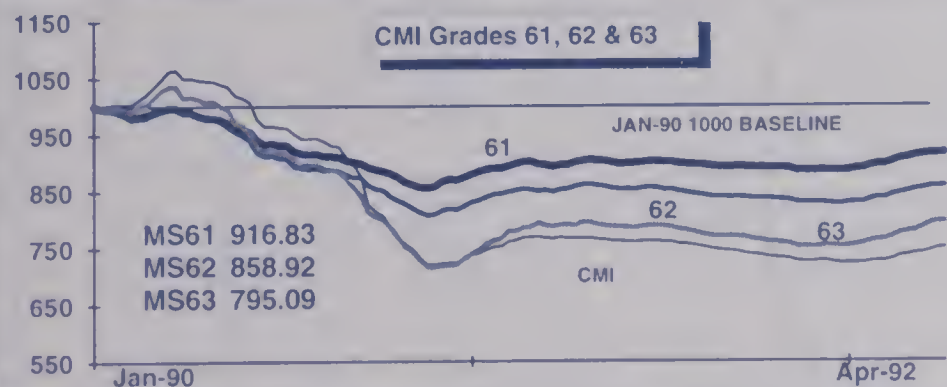

The two observations are not necessarily contradictory, and old-timers will recall having seen this kind of market turn-around before. In fact, it is probably a healthy sign. As one dealer put it, "Nothing would scare me more than to see everything advancing!" The recent market decline certainly exposed some weaknesses in the support base of the coin market, and a slow but steady recovery will help restore confidence more than a wild rush to higher prices. One of the disadvantages (or is that an advantage?) of a free supply/demand market is that prices can rise quickly as soon as demand asserts itself. Another dealer friend, who was a Realtor at one point in his career, always answers questions about coin pricing by talking about real estate. "Would you sell your house for $150,000 if someone was willing to spend $175,000 for it - and in cash?" Sometimes rhetorical questions have a way of cutting through the clutter, although he might get a few blank stares if he was talking to California homeowners.

Another sign of the broad-based support in the market comes from the auction segment. Bowers & Merena recently concluded their $2 million + Spring Quartette Sale and certified coins (especially gold) performed well. Among the certified Gold highlights:

The rising market is also visible in this week's plus signs. The Silver Commemorative Chart is again loaded with plus signs, concentrating on the MS63 through MS66 grades. Gold Commems advanced in MS65, but were quiet otherwise. Morgan Dollar advances, while still strongest in MS64 and MS65, are starting to pull up prices in the MS61 through MS63 columns; there are enough minus signs to signify a healthy, functioning market. Peace Dollars are continuing their climb in MS63 through MS65. Mint State Type is showing scattered plus signs, mostly in the MS63 through MS65 columns (as might be expected). Mint State Gold is continuing to strengthen in the 'lesser' uncirculated grades, with plus signs focusing on MS61 through MS64. Proof Type is still showing a modest amount of upward activity - steady, to be sure, but a little slower than one might expect in a rising market. Proof Gold Type continues steady.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for coins graded by the most active grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity including highest retailably reported visible Bids/Ask prices, trading information, prior bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market values because the highest Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight seen Trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

PCGS DMP1 and NGC DMP1 holders for false Deep Mirror Prooflike coins. While the PCGS PL and NGC PL holders come, prooflike or one-sided PL will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CIBD (now called BGS) later added 100,000,000 fully deep mirror prooflike specimens.

CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected ones at these bid levels. From our sight seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Rally Support Broadens Market Still Selective

The market continues to grow in strength, although the rally is still being somewhat selective. This is one of those situations where pictures are truly worth thousands of words - and anyone who has been carefully studying the Bluesheet charts over the past several months will know exactly what I mean! On the one hand, it is safe to say that the rally has been broad-based - that is self-evidently true, based on the recent plus signs to be found on every single chart. On the other hand, it is equally safe to observe that the rally has been very selective, in that only certain grades, and at times certain series, have been advancing.

The two observations are not necessarily contradictory, and old-timers will recall having seen this kind of market turn-around before. In fact, it is probably a healthy sign. As one dealer put it, "Nothing would scare me more than to see everything advancing!" The recent market decline certainly exposed some weaknesses in the support base of the coin market, and a slow but steady recovery will help restore confidence more than a wild rush to higher prices. One of the disadvantages (or is that an advantage?) of a free supply/demand market is that prices can rise quickly as soon as demand asserts itself. Another dealer friend, who was a Realtor at one point in his career, always answers questions about coin pricing by talking about real estate. "Would you sell your house for $150,000 if someone was willing to spend $175,000 for it - and in cash?" Sometimes rhetorical questions have a way of cutting through the clutter, although he might get a few blank stares if he was talking to California homeowners.

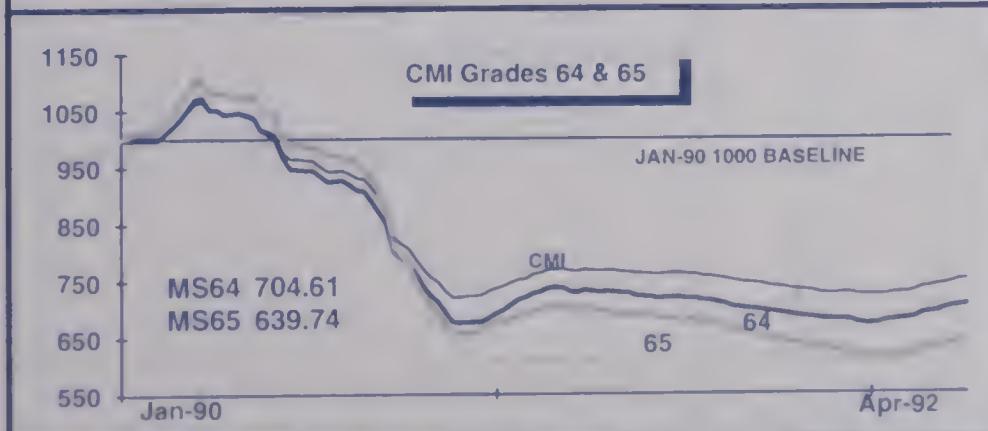

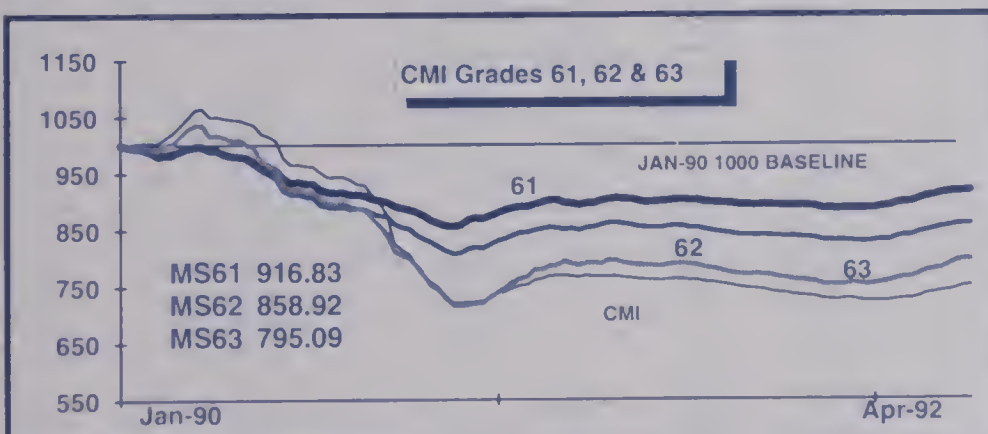

Another sign of the broad-based support in the market comes from the auction segment. Bowers & Merena recently concluded their $2 million+ Spring Quartette Sale, and certified coins (especially gold) performed well. Among the certified Gold highlights:

The rising market is also visible in this week's plus signs. The Silver Commemorative Chart is again loaded with plus signs, concentrating on the MS63 through MS66 grades. Gold Commems advanced in MS65, but were quiet otherwise. Morgan Dollar advances, while still strongest in MS64 and MS65, are starting to pull up prices in the MS61 through MS63 columns; there are enough minus signs to signify a healthy, functioning market. Peace Dollars are continuing their climb in MS63 through MS65. Mint State Type is showing scattered plus signs, mostly in the MS63 through MS65 columns (as might be expected). Mint State Gold is continuing to strengthen in the 'lesser' uncirculated grades, with plus signs focusing on MS61 through MS64. Proof Type is still showing a modest amount of upward activity - steady, to be sure, but a little slower than one might expect in a rising market. Proof Gold Type continues steady.

The Bluesheet

Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market prices for the most popular U.S. coins. The number of coins reported is based on the highest bid for the coin. The CCN may not alter market values because the highest bidder removes his bid but will be strongly influenced by the bids or trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported bids based primarily on the highest sight unseen bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer and are strictly the responsibility of the dealer and may fluctuate according to needs. CCN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at bid levels. Client or sight seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

MS65 Peace Dollars Continue Climbing Market Rally Still Widespread

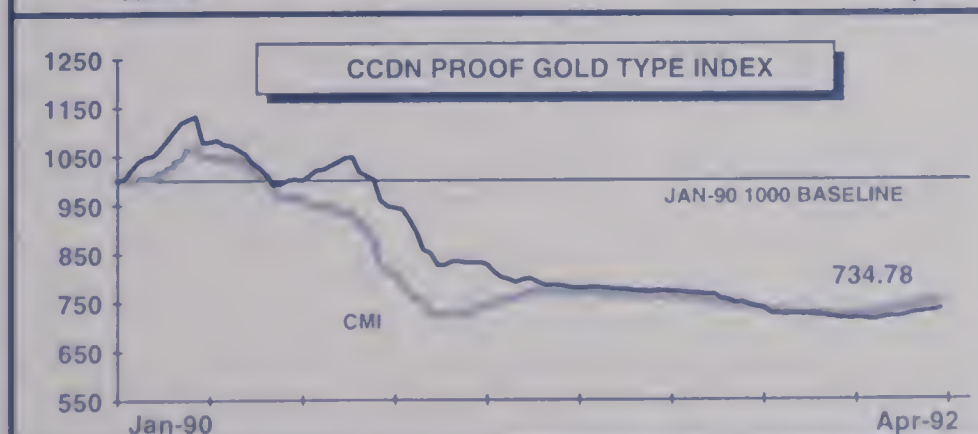

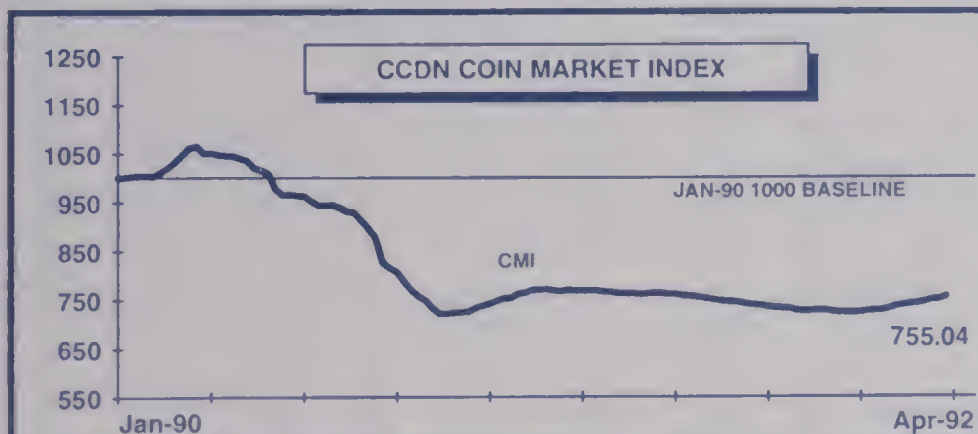

The market has continued strengthening this week, with plus signs dominating changes on the Bluesheet charts. Silver Commemoratives are enjoying an abundance of plus signs, especially in the MS63-66 grades. Gold Commems have also shown a major movement upward in the same grades. Despite the recent increases, dealer predictions lean toward few advances in MS67 - the rising market is providing strength to support the current levels for the few specimens that are available. Morgan and Peace Dollars both resumed their upward climb.

The rise in Bid for MS65 Peace dollars since the first of the year has been nothing short of spectacular, and they have been pulling MS64 Bid right behind them. Gem Peace Type started out the year at 138, and hovered around that figure for the next two months. Their serious climb began in March, and Bid has soared over the last four weeks from $146 to $194:

Issue Date	MS64 Bid	MS65 Bid	Issue Date	MS64 Bid	MS65 Bid
Jan. 3, 1992	$31	$138	Feb 28, 1992	$37	$135
Jan. 10, 1992	$34	$142	Mar. 6, 1992	$41	$135
Jan. 17, 1992	$33	$140	Mar. 13, 1992	$41	$146
Jan. 24, 1992	$35	$140	Mar. 20, 1992	$41	$146
Jan. 31, 1992	$35	$142	Mar. 27, 1992	$44	$156
Feb. 7, 1992	$36	$142	April 3, 1992	$45	$180
Feb. 14, 1992	$36	$138	April 10, 1992	$47	$194
Feb. 21, 1992	$37	$143

While we have often commented about the number of generic MS65 Morgans available in the marketplace, the situation is a bit different for the Peace Dollars - among the three generic dates in MS65, a bit less than 10,000 gems have been certified by PCGS & NGC. A large order for 500+ pieces has substantially moved the market. The best news is that these incredibly attractive coins are finding new homes among non-numismatic investors who are used to taking a little risk in order to reap rewards. The rise in MS64 specimens has been a little more consistent, rising from $31 in early January to $47 this week - it is still very possible to make enormous profits in rare coins.

Mint State Type is showing a greater number of advances than it has recently, as more than a few dealers have noted. Mint State Gold, whose advances have defied analysis (other than to attribute the rise to increased demand), is advancing in MS61-64. Proof Type has joined the action with numerous advances scattered across the charts. If Proof Type begins to quickly catch up with the rising market, there could be substantial profits to be realized. Proof Gold, which has also been pretty quiet lately, is also showing several plus signs. Among the specialty series, Buffalo Nickels are showing just a few increases among the early dates, with a broader based increase in the later dates. Mercury Dimes are steady. Walking Liberty Halves are moving strongly in the early dates in MS61 through MS64, and in the later dates in MS65 as well. Proof Singles are showing scattered advances in Dimes and Halves, with Quarters quiet.

The Bluesheet

Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market prices for the most active grading service. The numbers derived are based on a careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids/Ask prices, trading information, prior bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market values caused by the high Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Active Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer and are strictly the responsibility of the dealer and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Optimistic Predictions for Central States Dealers Will Be Coming to Buy

The 53rd Annual Central States Numismatic Society Convention (May 1-3), long a major event for dealers, is expected to attract a significant crowd to Minneapolis this year (and don't forget PNG day on April 30th!). With the market continuing its upward trend, dealers have been complaining about not having enough material to inspect for purchase, especially fresh material. With Want Lists that need filling, dealers won't want to wait too long to grab needed inventory as soon as possible. Dealers with extensive holdings will be anxious to convert them to cash so that a new round of buying can begin. All these forces, according to several dealers, should mean a bourse floor 'that is really hopping!' It should be fun to watch! A really first-rate, action-packed show would be a real 'shot in the arm' to the current market.

The 1992 Convention Sale of the C.S.N.S., to be conducted by RARCOA on May 1 & 2, contains some notable certified coins. Among the highlights:

This week's Bluesheet charts reflect the growing sense of optimism that is pervading the market. Silver Commemoratives are continuing their recent trends, with strong Bid movements in MS64 through MS66 — and the MS67s are starting to move too! The level of Commem activity was as

Issue	Certified Grade
1902 Indian Cent	PCGS67 Red
1855 3-Cent Silver	PCGS65
1809 Bust Dime	NGC65
1835 Bust Dime	PCGS Pr62
1930 SL Quarter	PCGS67 FH
1799/8 Bust Dollar	PCGS63
1894 Morgan Dollar	PCGS Pr67
1897 Morgan Dollar	PCGS Pr67
1868 $1 Gold	PCGS65
1883 $1 Gold	PCGS66
1831 $2 1/2	PCGS63
1813 $5	PCGS64
1842 $10 L.D.	PCGS63

strong as any we have seen in more than a year, especially for NGC-certified specimens. Gold Commems are again showing plus signs after being down for so long, is this finally the rebound? Morgan Dollars remain very strong, with pluses across the charts, only a few discounted sells are reflected. Demand for Peace Dollars, which seems to have 'come out of nowhere', is continuing to force prices upwards.

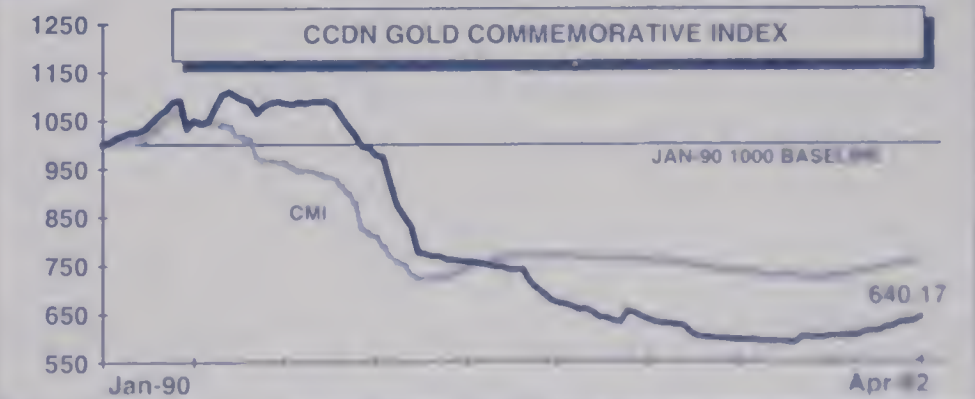

Mint State Type is starting to move a little more, both in level and number of Bids, while the pluses are concentrated in the 'middle' uncirculated grades, at least Mint State is finally joining the party. Mint State Gold is stable, with advances in the MS62-MS64 column. Proof Type is likewise looking much stronger, with plus signs across the entire chart, and serious increases in the Pr63-Pr65 columns. With both Mint State and Proof Type rising, the rally is demonstrating serious broad-based strength. Proof Gold Type remains steady.

Buffalo Nickels and Mercury Dimes are both quiet, with only occasional plus signs. Walking Liberty Halves are definitely hot in the early dates (up through MS65) and in MS64-MS66 in the later years. The growing demand for Walkers is certainly expected at this stage in the rally; the weaker showing of Buffalos and Mercs is most unexpected. Will dealers predicting these as substantial opportunities for profit be proven correct? We are as contrarian as they come, and we know that laggards can ultimately produce big profits, but we are still seeing relatively low levels of demand here. Proof Singles are steady, with plus signs focused on the higher grade early halves. Standing Liberty Quarters reflect widespread growth during the month. Franklin Halves are rising in MS65 & MS66. St. Gaudens' $20s are showing a large number of small declines (after many previous advances) as dealers take some profits.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for coins as reported by the most active grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids. Ask prices, trading information, error bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value because the high Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Selling Activity Increasing As Bids Continue to Climb

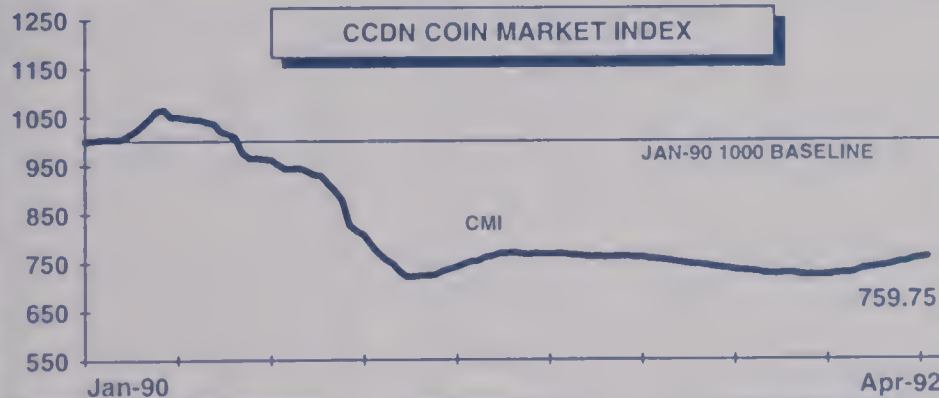

This week's headline is not an exercise in controlled confusion; rather, it is an apt description of one of the more curious aspects of a developing market recovery. Since the beginning of the year, we have been watching Bids rise across a broad range of issues, and across many grades within those series. While the increases have been selective in that manner, plus signs have never-the-less covered most of the Bluesheet charts one week or another. In addition, we are seeing increased numbers of Bid messages at current levels; the support for the current market is stronger than any we have seen in two years. So, with all this activity on the Bid side of the market, why are we headlining "Selling Activity"?

The answer to that question is hopefully self-evident to every dealer in this recovering market. Selling is the great driving engine of this recovery; one could argue that the recovery did not begin until customers finally found that prices had lowered to an irresistible level. And a similar parallel holds for the wholesale market as well. Dealers who didn't want to (or didn't need to) sell into the dealer-to-dealer market during the bull market ran fewer "Sell" messages. Since the first of the year, the wholesale selling messages have increased in frequency right alongside the Bid messages; this week, there was an abundance of "Asks".

As another sign of a healthy market, the sell messages as a whole convey the intentions of dealers serious about selling their wares. To be sure, there are always a few dealers who issue "wish lists" of selling prices, and a few dealers will occasionally offer a coin at a discounted level in order to facilitate a quick sale, but the vast majority of the Ask prices in this market are quite realistic. Most dealers don't have time to waste running messages or advertising coins at levels that preclude a buyer's response. Dealers want to move coins because they know that sale proceeds mean profits and working capital to turn into more coins and more profits. The growing demand for coins means buyers want to buy coins; dealers who are looking to capitalize on that demand know that this is the time to sell coins. Maybe prices will continue to rise, and they may buy back that coin a year from now at a much higher price for a new customer; so be it. In the meantime, their profits will have been put to good use generating more profits. During the downtime, a dealer friend was loudly complaining that he felt 'like he was running a museum'. With the market recovery, and a major jump in sales, he assured us that he intended to continue selling coins.

As strong as Silver Commemoratives were last week (and believe us, they were strong), this week they showed even more intense activity. Bid levels in MS64 through MS66 increased almost unanimously, with MS67s again putting in a strong showing. Gold Commems were equally active in MS63 through MS66. Morgans took a little breather from last week's hectic pace, but still presented a respectable number of plus signs scattered across the charts. Peace Dollars were off their feverish climb as well, although demand at current levels remained high. Mint State Type climbed in MS63 through MS66, while Mint State Gold Type turned undecided (again!). Proof Type is continuing to advance in Pr63 through Pr65; Proof Gold Type is just on the "Plus" side of steady. Buffalo Nickels are showing some signs of life in the early dates (MS63 through MS65) and in the MS65 later issues. Mercury Dimes remain quiet this week. Walking Liberty Halves are strong in the early dates as well. Proof Singles are quietly moving upward.

Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports that while the market is currently flat, the active trading rises. The numbers reported show that the coin trade is market active in bidding. The high bid is reported visible Bids. Ask prices trading information is not reported and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market prices. The high Bidder removes a Bid but will be strongly interested. A Askers Trades which are near or below current wholesale value CCDn does every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Is Major Recovery Under Construction? Sight-Unseen Lays Foundation

Every week the market gets a little stronger, and every week we seem to see more plus signs. The best evidence of market strength that we can present is the number of plus signs seen this week - especially knowing that so many of the nation's leading dealers are heading to Minneapolis for the Central States Numismatic Society's 53rd Annual Convention. For anyone counting, this marks the second time this year that prices have continued to rise right through a major coin show. This is most remarkable considering the number of coins that will be available in Minneapolis. With the sight-unseen market this strong, dealers are predicting a wildly successful Central States.

The Bluesheet focuses on the sight-unseen activity in the certified coin market, but we are mindful both here and in the Greysheet of the critical role that sight-seen trading plays in the coin market. We understand the value and importance of the sight-unseen Bid, but we also understand the significance of sight-seen activity.

The only signs of weakness (and perhaps that is really too strong a word!) that we see in the market are that demand continues to be selective and a trifle uneven, and that the rally is being felt unevenly by the dealers. At this point, Bid increases are still very much directed towards specific charts, and specific grades on the charts. We are not concerned about the relatively small number of minus signs; discounted sells (in small numbers) only means that some dealers are taking their profits. As long as coins are moving, that is another sign of a healthy market.

We are starting to have a little concern over information that we are receiving from a few dealers; bluntly, not all dealers are enjoying the considerable psychological and financial benefits of this recovery. Some smaller dealers who need the "trickle down" of demand are still waiting for it to reach them. A lot has to do with how the dealer has positioned himself in the dealer community, and how he has cultivated his customer base over the last several years. The market is strengthening, no question, but the dealer who is still waiting for the old market to come back (as far as the new market to come to him) is going to be disappointed.

Silver Commemoratives continue to strengthen, and show real strength in MS63 through MS65; we are starting to see some carry over of demand in the MS66 and MS67 columns, but the 'lesser' uncs are holding steady. Gold Commems were most active in the MS65s and MS66s. Morgan Dollars continue strong, and a persistent buyer of NGC coins had a major impact on Bids for the 'lesser' uncs. Peace Dollars are enjoying a lot of attention after their recent runup; a great deal of activity and support is taking place with this series. Mint State Type is showing much the same vigor that it displayed last week, although it still has some 'catching up' to do with the rest of the rallying market. Mint State Gold Type, that bane of numismatic prognosticators, ended the week on the down side of a mixed performance. Proof Type coins show a scattering of advances with just a little building on last week's more impressive showing. Proof Gold Type is stable. Buffalo Nickels have come alive in MS63 through MS65, breaking out after their rather steady performance of late. Mercury Dimes are continuing steady, although a persistent Bidder has been moving prices upward on the NGC later dates. Walking Liberty Halves saw some profit-taking, but selected issues were also moving up. Proof Singles were steady.

GRAPHICS

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market prices for the most popular and valuable grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity in using the highest quality reported visible Bids, Ask prices, trading information, and other relevant level, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market values because the high Bidder removes his Bid but will be strongly influenced by Ask. Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses very reasonable measures to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN albeit, on a sight basis.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Dealers Pause to Sell Many Charts Continue Rising

Bourse activity at last week's 53rd Annual Convention of the Central States Numismatic Society was strong, coin sales were brisk, and RARCOA's auction enjoyed active bidding; thus proving once again, that there is a serious market for rare coins out there. So, the good news was pretty good, and the "bad news" is pretty minimal this week. The charts don't show quite as many plus signs as they have recently, as dealers seem to be taking a little "breather" from their recent hectic pace.

We noted in last week's Bluesheet that the sight-unseen market was rising, despite many dealers heading to Minneapolis. Add to that the observation that the Central States' bourse was very active, although most of the activity was taking place sight-seen. So where is the bad news? We heard from a few dealers that customers were looking through groups of coins, selecting the very best example, and then expecting to pay Bluesheet Bid. Every so often we need to remind all of our readers of the message appearing on the very bottom of this page and throughout the Bluesheet: Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

We have always had trouble imagining dealers taking the time to pick through coins, select the finest, and then walk away from the transaction because the price wasn't based on the level for the worst possible example of that grade! We also don't understand retail customers thinking that they can buy at dealer prices (although, to be fair to customer expectations, at shows held during the bottom of the market, we did see dealers cutting some pretty special deals in order to turn inventory). At the risk of mixing metaphors, you can't buy cream at bottom of the barrel prices! Some try, only to find that the rising market has made the coin more expensive when they return later for the prized selection. For anyone who wants to buy coins sight-seen, we recommend that they use the Coin Dealer Newsletter (the "Greysheet"), wherein sight-seen Bids for certified coins are included in the charts.

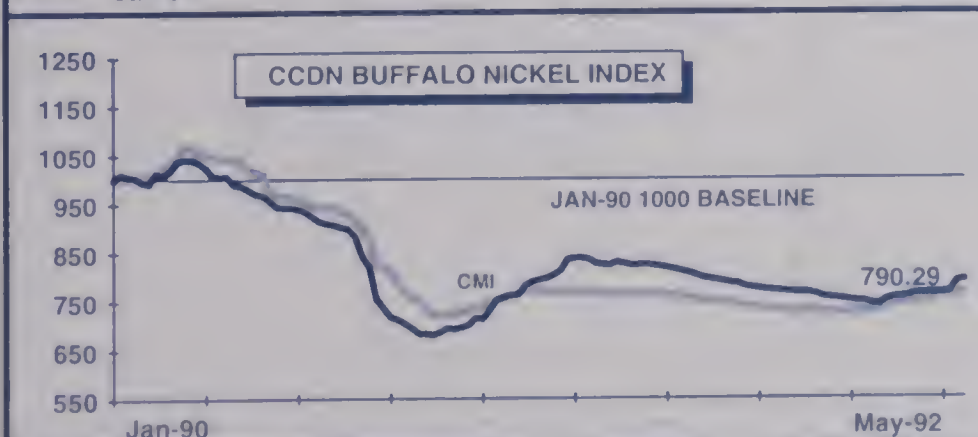

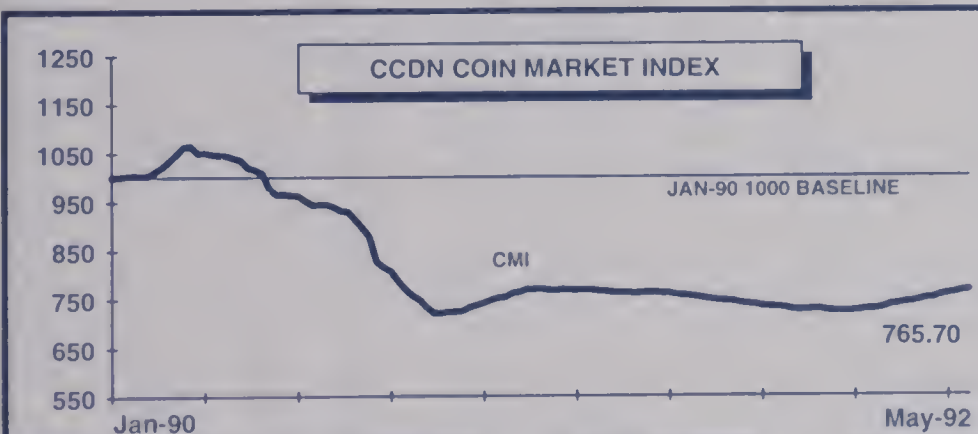

The only other signs of weakness found in the market were Mint State Gold Type and Peace Dollars, where profit-taking has continued this week. Since Gold Type is such an important component of the coin market, dealers are watching prices here very closely. Although one dealer was labelling this a "correction", we wouldn't want to make too much out of this; many dealers are taking a moderate respite from raising Bid levels. Dealers with strong Want Lists are continuing to chase coins; dealers who have been building inventory seem to be just a little anxious to sell right now, in order to stay in a strong cash position.

Silver Commemoratives continue to show increases in the MS64 through MS66 grades; a few minus signs track a little profit-taking. Gold Commems show a few advances; any advance here is always welcome. Morgans were up overall, with strong Bidding continuing for the 'lesser uncs' on the NGC side. Peace Dollars, which have been so strong lately, saw some discounted sells. Mint State Type has scattered advances, many on the 'lesser uncs'. Profit-taking continues on the Mint State Gold Type. Proof Type advanced modestly, while Proof Gold was steady. Buffalo Nickels were strong. Merics were steady, and Walkers were mixed on the plus side. Proof Singles were steady.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for coins as certified by the most active grading services. The numbers reported here are based on the highest statistically reported visible Bids. Ask prices, trading information, prior bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value because the high Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Ask or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective (on one or both sides) with less reflectivity than the original mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's but command a premium over non-P/L strikes.

Market Consolidating Discounted Sells Mark Profit-Taking

The certified market took a deep breath this week, and twenty weeks of solid advances were vandalized by a few large players who decided to dump inventory. Now, don't get us wrong - the market still shows lots of signs of health - and, we firmly believe in the need for active trading to have a healthy market - and, there should be absolutely nothing wrong with a trade that finds a buyer and a seller meeting at a mutually acceptable Bid level. All that is true enough, so why are there so many unhappy dealers in the market this week? The answer is that for the coin market to prosper, we need to be able to demonstrate to the larger investment world that we have an orderly market, with steady increases or decreases. Excessive volatility belongs on the track, not in the coin market. In the face of wanton selling, many dealers have adopted a prudent 'wait & see' attitude; they are not personally selling coins at a discount just to get rid of them, but they have retreated in their bidding posture. Over the last twenty weeks, we had seen the spread between Bid and Ask narrowing substantially; that spread has widened considerably now, with most of the movement coming on the Bid side.

The larger question might be the role of computerized trading in the marketplace. In the stock market, we have seen how computerized program trading can destroy a market rally. The computers are programmed to look for certain indicators that might signal a rallying peak, and when the magic numbers come up, bang - the computers dump stock and drive prices down. A self-fulfilling prophecy, and one that profits a few while hurting many. Some of the larger players in the coin market also are doing some very sophisticated computer analyses, and this week one of the largest decided to dump inventory. In many cases, the sales were not made to the highest Bidders in the marketplace only the easiest to locate; this in itself drove many Bids down lower than necessary.

As we noted here in recent weeks, the rate of advance had been slowing, and some dealers were predicting a period of consolidation. We try to stay out of the predicting game, but we feel it important to pass some along when we hear them from enough dealers - after all if enough dealers believe in the coming market direction (either up or down), the result is the reality of belief. Yes, indeed, the coin market is one of those places where your dreams can come true. The problem occurs when the dreams of many are offset by the nightmare of bigger players. As one dealer put it, "in a free market, you have to take the good with the bad; if you don't like what the market leadership is doing, become a leader and act more responsibly."

How did the charts do this week? Silver Commemoratives backed off their recent climb, and discounted sells overpowered some advances. Gold Commems advanced strongly in MS65. In Morgan Dollars, advances were also offset by discounted selling. Peace Dollars were mixed. Mint State Type coins were steady, with some scattered discounted sells. Mint State Gold Type, which has been showing some weakness, were again driven lower by profit-taking. Proof Type coins were steady, as were Proof Gold Type. Buffalo Nickels showed some substantial increases on the NGC side. Mercury Dimes were steady. Walking Liberty Halves advanced in the 'lesser uncs' in the early dates, and the premium grades in the later years. Proof Singles showed some scattered advances.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market values for coins certified by the most active grading services. The numbers reported are determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids. Ask prices, trading information, prior bidding levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value because the high Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

NGC Slabs Trompeter Gold

The certified coin market seems to be living up to its reputation for volatility, as discounted sells have again become the driving force in this week's price changes. Not that there aren't plus signs - there are, and several represent some very serious demand for selected coins. Dealers seem to be a little unsure as to what exactly has changed in the market, but a few seem to have put their 'finger' on the market's pulse. It is common knowledge that the coin market was looking pretty grim during '90 & '91, as prices continued to decline. Then 1992 dawned fresh and bright, and prices began to recover — slow and steady, just the way you want to build a foundation for future growth. Knowing the cyclical nature of their market, dealers anticipated that the market would need to take a breather now and then. So, after more than four months of climbing, the market stopped for a quick breath - and several sellers immediately began to push large quantities of material onto the market. 'Getting out while the getting was good'. OK.

While bids have been falling in the sight-unseen market, dealers are equally concerned over the rise in sight-seen bidding. The reasons for wishing to inspect a major coin before purchase are self-evident, but dealers can also use sight-seen Bids as a market stabilization mechanism — they can keep their Bids high without being committed to a purchase. Some coins only feature sight-seen Bids, which defeats the concept of a sight-unseen trading system. This could become a dominant issue.

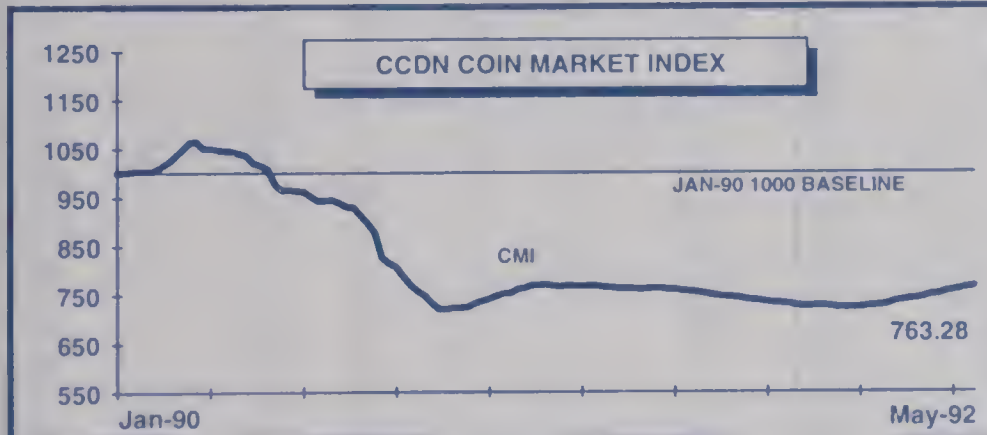

Auctions continue to provide the market with a large percentage of its "good news". Superior Galleries has just announced that the Numismatic Guaranty Corporation has graded and slabbed their Trompeter Part II Sale. Ed Trompeter lived long enough to see Part I of his magnificent collection realize nearly $4 million, and it was no secret that he did not like slabs - he preferred to hold his piece of history in his hands. When Trompeter realized that he would not survive to see his remaining coins sold, he made the difficult decision to have the remainder of his coins slabbed (in the best interest of his heirs! Ed was that kind of man. Trompeter chose NGC because of their grading expertise, and the appearance of their holders - he especially liked the look of his proof gold against their white background!

Trompeter Part II will offer complete sets of Proof Gold as follows: $5, 1858-1915; $10, 1858-1915; $20, 1859-1915. As impressive as is the completeness of Trompeter's achievement, equally impressive is the quality that was proof of his discerning "eye". Of the 185 coins certified by NGC, the premium specimens tally as follows:

	$5	$10	$20	Patterns
Proof-65	19	16	15	3
Proof-66	8	6	7	3
Proof-67	1	1	1	2
	28	23	23	8

Need to be further impressed? Perhaps you might be interested in the Extremely High Relief $20 in Proof67 (some dealers believe this may be the first coin to realize a million dollars at auction!). And just to prove that nobody is entirely consistent, one Mint State coin did make its way into this session: a High Relief in MS69 - the highest ever graded by NGC! Nice mate for the Proof67, yes? Pattern collectors will be avidly chasing the Amazonian set, which remains in the PCGS holders in which Trompeter purchased them. October 13th, the Beverly Wilshire Hotel will be the focus of the entire numismatic world.

The Bluesheet

Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports on the wholesale market for coins as reported by the most active grading services. The numbers are determined through a careful study of market activity including bid, ask, and trade prices. The CCDn may not alter market values, but the Bidder removes his Bid, but will be strongly influenced by Ask and Trade which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer are strictly the responsibility of the dealer and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Long Beach Faces Market Direction Will Sight-Seen Spur Activity?

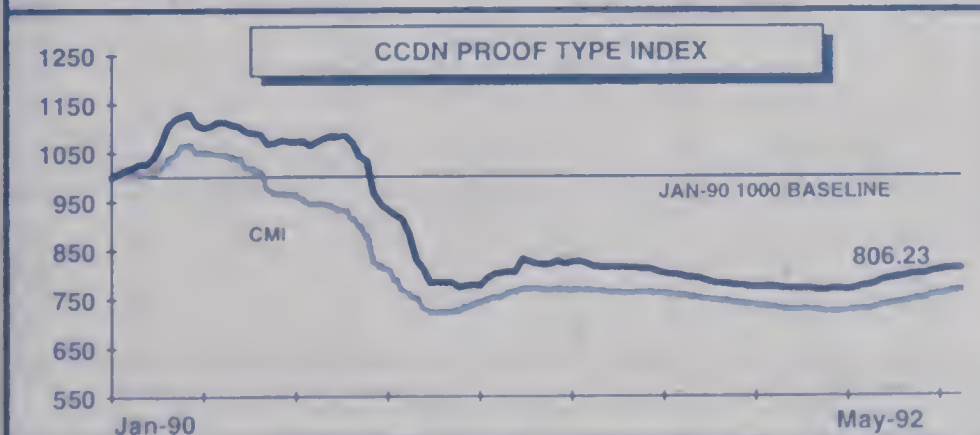

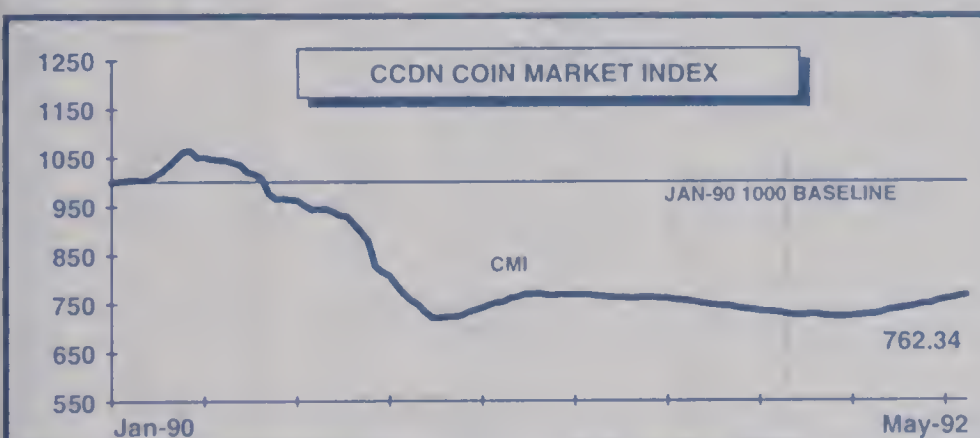

The upcoming Long Beach Numismatic, Philatelic & Sports Card Exposition will provide dealers with the opportunity to set market direction through the ANA Convention. We have often repeated the belief (common among dealers) that Long Beach gives them the best possible show the market will allow - and sometimes even a little bit better! But dealers also know that the best Long Beach Show cannot eliminate dealer uncertainty about the market without a little help. Dealers will need to overcome the recent slowdown if they are to help themselves.

The electronic exchanges have recently been sluggish, as dealers withdrew their support from many segments of the market - we are seeing fewer Bids, and lower ones at that. While dealers are waiting to see which way the market moves, sight-seen activity is picking up (although lower sight-unseen Bids encouraged some renegeing on the part of sight-seen bidders). This gives us some optimism about Long Beach, as it reinforces the revival of sight-seen trading. If dealers with extensive Want Lists start buying early, it will have a positive effect on market psychology. If they hold back in the hopes of lower prices, they may have their 'wish' fulfilled (at a toll to inventory). Some additional help will come from the collectors (and investors!) who are facing a real opportunity: there will be a buying window on the first day, when dealers are anxious to convert inventory into cash. If the market firms, dealers will be holding out for higher retail; otherwise, cash will be King!

In addition to the Long Beach Bourse, buyers will have their choice of several important auctions. Bowers & Merena will be hosting the Somerset Collection May 29 & 30, including several specially collected lots of Colonials, Bust Halves, and Early Gold. Superior Galleries will be offering the Dr. Jack Adams Collection Sale May 31-June 2, with 600+ lots of Half Cents and Large Cents (care to guess where the Early Copper devotees will be that night?), and an even larger selection of Bust Halves. Perhaps the incredible enthusiasm generated by specialists may be telling dealers something about future trends in the market. Heritage Auctions will be hosting the Long Beach Show sale.

Silver Commemoratives held steady this week, with only a few Bids declining from lowered Asks. Gold Commemoratives were stable, with a few changes resulting from light trading activity. Morgan and Peace Dollars were largely steady, with some declines due to discounted sells joined by slight slippage of the generics. Mint State Type coins ended on the bottom side of steady; while most sellers are waiting to see if the market continues its climb, a few discounting sellers moved the overall market lower. Mint State Gold Type continued their slow decline as buying demand seems to be seeking bargains elsewhere. Proof Type is also on the minus side of steady, with selected sells driving Bids lower. Proof Gold Coins were steady, with little trading activity. Buffalo Nickels advanced in the premium grades, with scattered declines in the 'lesser' uncs. Mercury Dimes were moved off of 'steady' through a decline in the 'lesser' generics (who ever imagined that a MS65 FB would be considered a lower grade?) Walking Liberty Half Bids reflected increased demand through MS64, with scattered changes in the premium pieces; one strong Bidder can make a difference in this market. Proof Singles were steady.

The Bluesheet

Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market prices for coins as determined by high market value. The number of coins reported through careful study of market activity including high bid, high offer, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market value as the high Bidder removes his Bid but will be strongly influenced by Asks or Trades which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn's every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer, are strictly the responsibility of the dealer, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

Auction Activity Starts Long Beach Week $6 Million Hammered at Superior's Adams Sale

The drawing power of high-grade certified coins in numismatic auctions was abundantly demonstrated in the two major auction sales held in the Los Angeles area prior to the Long Beach Coin Show. Bowers & Merena Galleries conducted their $3 million Somerset Collection last weekend, followed by Superior Galleries' $6 million sale of the Dr. Jack Adams Collection. While both auctions benefitted from very active dealer participation (it never hurts to have every major dealer in town!), there is no doubt that it is the specialty collections that are generating such enthusiastic Bidding participation from the collector-specialists. Sophisticated buyers know their rarities, and they know that when scarcities appear in the market, it usually requires substantial enthusiasm and financial resources to 'bring the treasure home'.

Among the certified highlights of the Somerset Sale:

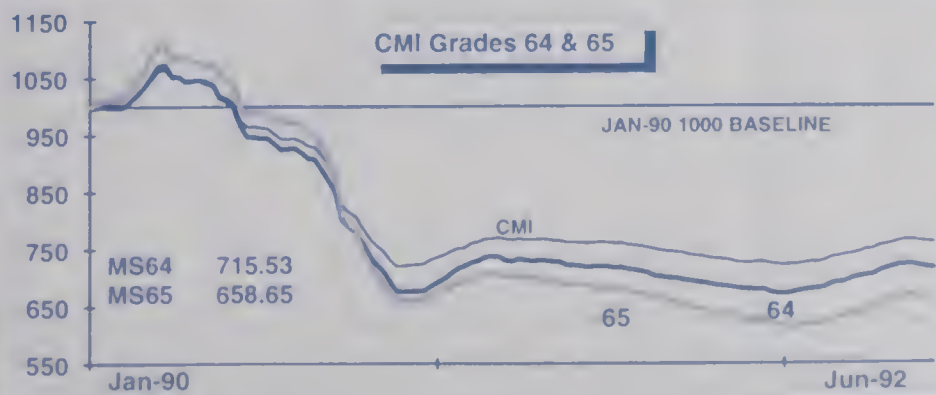

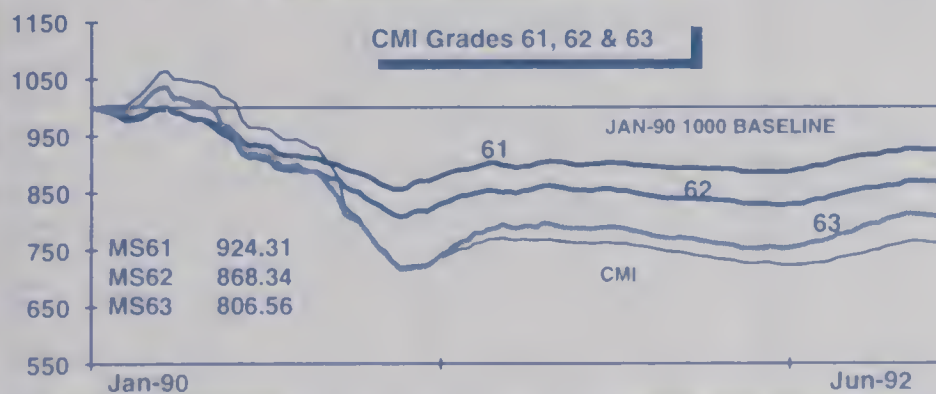

Issue	Cataloguer's Grade	Price Realized
1895 Morgan	PCGS-Pr62	$12,650
1808 $2.5 B-1	PCGS58	$28,600
1848 $2.5 "CAL"	PCGS58	$22,000
1879 $4 FH	PCGS-Pr63	$31,900
1880 $4 FH	PCGS-Pr61	$39,050
1799 $10 B-5G	PCGS58	$7,700
1842 $10 L.D.	PCGS61	$14,850
1871-CC $20	NGC50	$8,250

While much of Superior Galleries' Adams Sale was devoted to specialty collections of Half Cents, Large Cents and Bust Halves, the supply of premium certified gold was almost an embarrassment of riches. With about a thousand Bust Halves to entice them, Overton-specialists were in their glory, while many of the varieties did not lend themselves to certification, those slabbed specimens performed very well. Still, there is simply no denying that the gold coins stole the show, and especially the run of premium grade Eagles, while only a few can have the privilege of owning these spectacular coins, many numismatists had the pleasure of examining them and watching them sell in spirited Over Bidding. Among the Superior Galleries highlights:

Issue	Cataloguer's Grade	Price Realized
1808/7 Bust Half, O-101	PCGS63	$4,400
1817 Bust Half, O-104	PCGS40	$10,450
1839-O Bust Half	PCGS64	$11,000
1907 $10 Rolled Edge	PCGS66	$82,500
1907 $10 No Motto	PCGS66	$20,900
1908-D $10 No Motto	PCGS66	$44,000
1908-S $10	PCGS68	$60,500
1909-D $10	PCGS66	$52,250
1910-S $10	PCGS65	$41,250
1911-D $10	PCGS63	$33,000
1912-S $10	PCGS65	$38,500
1915-S $10	PCGS65	$60,500
1920-S $10	NGC65	$79,750

When Heritage Galleries completes hosting their Long Beach Sales, the total Prices Realized for the Auction Events during Long Beach week should easily exceed the $10 million mark - not a bad way to 'warm up the crowd' for the Long Beach Coin Show.

The Bluesheet

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter reports current wholesale market prices for coins listed by the most active grading services. The numbers listed are based on a careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported visible Bids. Ask prices, trading information, and auction prices. The CCDn may not alter market values caused by high Bidder removals but will be strongly influenced by Ask or Bid levels which are near or below current wholesale value. CCDn does not mean it is able to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheets prior to April 1991 reported Bids based primarily on the highest sight-unseen Bid. Individual buy and sell prices will vary from dealer to dealer are strictly the responsibility of the dealer and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Buying Opportunists Active "Wait & See" Attitude Pervasive

Dealers with active retail customers and Want Lists were finding real buying opportunities in this week's market, although taking advantage of the 'best' bargains required some flexibility. The dealer actively seeking specific items often found no great bargains (dealers do resist 'giving away' bargains into demand), but by patiently examining inventories, dealers were sure to pick up some 'buys'. This might be expected in a market exhibiting substantial uncertainty; while most of the changes in this Bluesheet are downward, many dealers have adopted a "wait & see" attitude on this reversal.

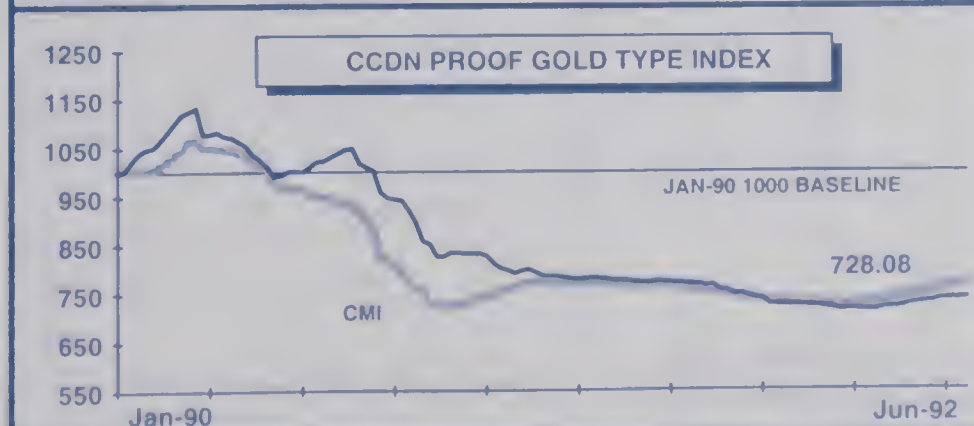

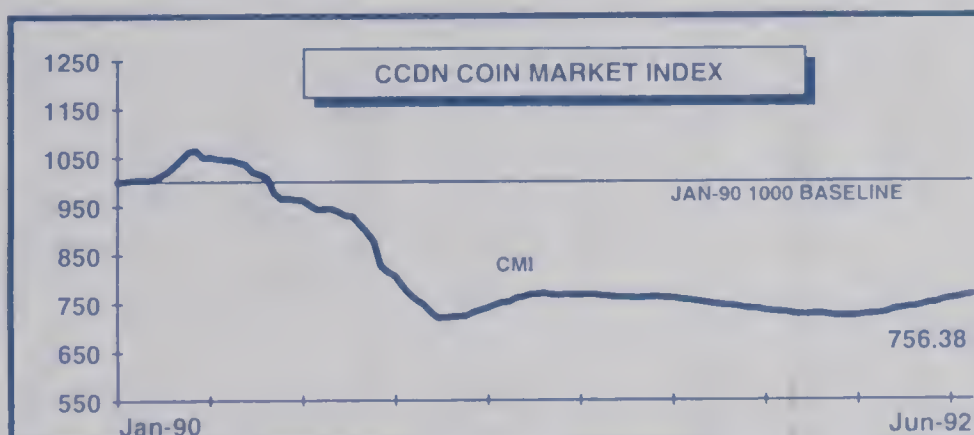

The big question remains whether this is a short-term correction or another phase of the post-1989 liquidation. For sound reasons, dealers don't want to believe that the market will continue downward; the first five months of 1992 were too enjoyable for anyone to be content with a declining market. As a measure of their uncertainty, dealers have substantially lowered their Bids overall; they are still willing to buy, but nobody wants to "overpay" right now! We would remind our readers that even though electronic sight-unseen Bids are lower, the Bluesheet is continuing its policy of lowering our Bids only when a Trade or discounted offer to sell suggests a reevaluation. This is an expression of our philosophy that the true value of a coin may not be reflected by a sight-unseen Bid in a marketplace suffering from anxiety. This attitude is supported by the fact that many coins are still enjoying sight-seen Bids at higher levels than Bluesheet Bid. Just don't expect (this week) to find an active sight-unseen buyer at these prices.

While underlying Bids have slipped quite a bit on the Silver Commemoratives, the good news is that few Trades or Discounted Sells have forced Bids downward the bad news is that when Trades occur, it is usually at a lower level. Gold Commems have also been trading lightly, but the few changes were all downward; dealers are reticent about selling rarer issues at a loss unless absolutely necessary. Morgan Dollars still enjoy relatively active trading, although at lower levels; prices will forever vary, but the trading of coins remains a sign of health. Peace Dollars are gathering their share of Discounted Selling, but also remain in demand at the lower levels.

Mint State Type changes were scattered up and down, with the majority being downward (especially in the MS64 and MS65 columns); some plus signs remind us that many dealers are still actively seeking material for which they have customers. Mint State Gold Type is reflecting the weakness evident throughout the market, with a few of the declines being substantial in retrospect, gold was a real market indicator when this rally began in early 1992, and was quick to reflect this more recent slowdown. Proof Type is also feeling the impact of the market sell-off, with scattered minus signs in all grades. Proof Gold Type remains relatively stable, again a benefit of infrequent trading and fewer offers to sell.

Buffalo Nickel declines seem to be concentrated in the MS64 and MS65 grades in the early dates, with some declines in MS66 in the later dates. Mercury Dimes remain fairly steady, with only scattered declines. Prices for generic Walking Liberty Halves have slipped somewhat, producing a large number of minus signs in the later dates, some discounted selling on better dates is also evident. Proof Singles were stable, with weakness evident in the later Franklins.

Corn and Corn Dealer newsletter, 1991, p. 10. The Corn Market Committee's report states that the "The numbers of bids received for corn at the bid level market activity in July 1991 were significantly higher than in June 1991." The report also states that "The CCN may be of altered market value if the bid level is removed from the bid but will be significantly influenced by the number of bids which are near or below current wholesale value." CCN values are not available to ensure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale values shown. Bluesheet's prior to April 1991 report of bid-based prices for corn at the bid level is not strictly the responsibility of the dealer and is not a recommendation. CCN does not represent that it is possible to predict the outcome of bids at the bid level. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Plant TSPV and MYC-SPV. Independent isolates from M. sexta (Florida) were positive for TSPV-RT and MYC-SPV. Positive proofing of one isolate (10-11) for both viruses was approximately twice that of the TSPV-RT virus alone. However, no other isolates from M. sexta were positive for both viruses.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

June - A Month for "Buying-In" At Lower Levels

The "wait & see" attitude of dealers that we discussed in last week's Bluesheet editorial seems to have changed into "worry & sell". Market expectations are definitely turning towards the negative, and dealers are now predicting further declines (while you can nearly always find a coin dealer with an 'opposing' opinion, optimistic dealers are becoming scarcer than hens' teeth). As increasing numbers of coins are being offered at discounted levels, most trades are resulting in minus signs. Again, the good news is that coins are trading, even if the levels are lower than sellers would like; as long as coins are changing hands, the possibility remains for turning a profit. We are seeing many high-grade coins selling to the new higher Bidders, even though their Bids are at lower levels. In a better market, these coins would usually be sold on the Ask side of a transaction. As long as buyer and seller are meeting at a mutually acceptable price, the market will continue to find new homes for old coins.

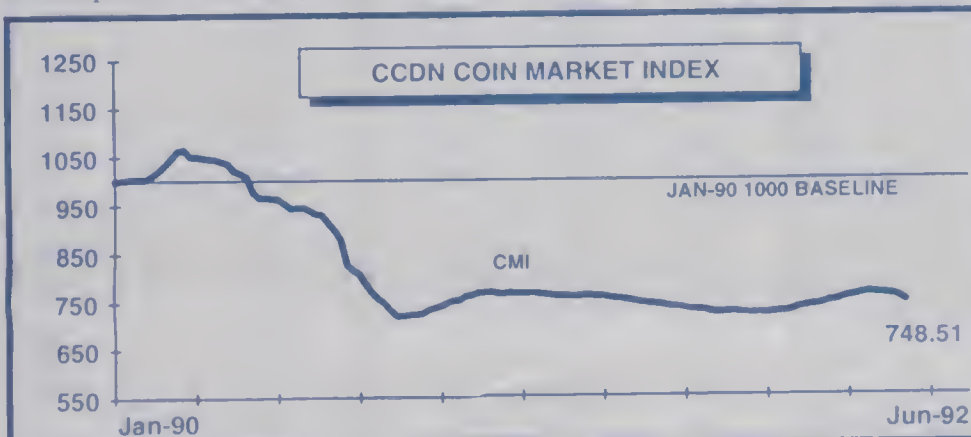

One thing is certain, dealers who were excited about the upward progress of the market, and had committed to enlarging their inventory in order to better serve their clients, are again feeling the sting of declining wholesale values. Dealers know that if wholesale values decline sufficiently, retail demand will also be chasing lower prices. The good news here again is that when enough retail demand builds at the lower levels, then the wholesale market will begin moving upward.

The coin business has always been inventory-based, but the volatility of the past three years has made many dealers challenge that assumption. Certainly one of the factors in the growing success of the auction segment of the coin business is that the owners continue to bear the majority of risk (and/or reward) in changing market values between consignment and sale. In a declining market, dealers are not going to be especially anxious to purchase material over the counter unless the price is real cheap or they have an immediate customer.

Discounted selling in Silver Commemoratives was especially prevalent in MS64 through MS66; interspersed throughout the 'bad news' were plus signs indicating that dealers are still willing to chase selected issues. Gold Commem declines are only partially caused by discounted sells; the CCDn will also adjust Bid downward when the high bidder lowers his Bid and there is no underlying support. Morgan Dollars continue to be a market leader in activity, which also means that they are going to reflect many of the lowered Asks. Peace Dollars moved downward in MS63 through MS65, as dealers continue to 'back-off' on their Bidding until they get a better feeling for new market levels.

Mint State Type shows scattered minus signs, mostly concentrated in the more heavily traded MS62-MS65 grades. Mint State Gold continues to reflect the overall market condition. Proof Type, while showing declines from discounted sells, also has an unexpected number of increases - buyers still know what they want. Proof Gold Type is steady. Buffalo Nickels were trading in MS65 and MS66 at lower levels. Minus signs were scattered across the Mercury Dime chart, without the concentration seen on some other coins. Early Walking Liberty Halves were relatively stable, but the later dates (especially generics) were weaker. Many issues of Proof Singles were lower.

Wholesale Buyers Increasingly Selective Bluesheet Adds ASKSHEET Pricing

Any doubts about the latest market reversal have pretty much evaporated, as demand levels for most coins continue to slide. Just as the overall spirit of the market from January to May was optimistic, dealers are now increasingly disheartened. Virtually the entire sight-unseen market has moved down one 'bidding notch' under the relentless pressure of discounted selling; in some cases, the discounts are substantial. To those minuses, we have added some required downward adjustments (where trades have not yet occurred) to keep selected items in line with the current market. This is an exception to our usual philosophy of letting dealers' actions speak for the market, but it becomes necessary in markets that are rising or falling rapidly.

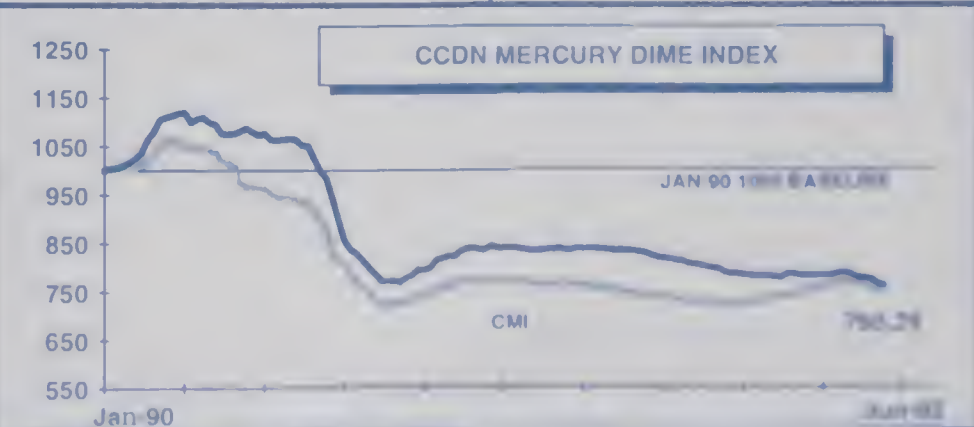

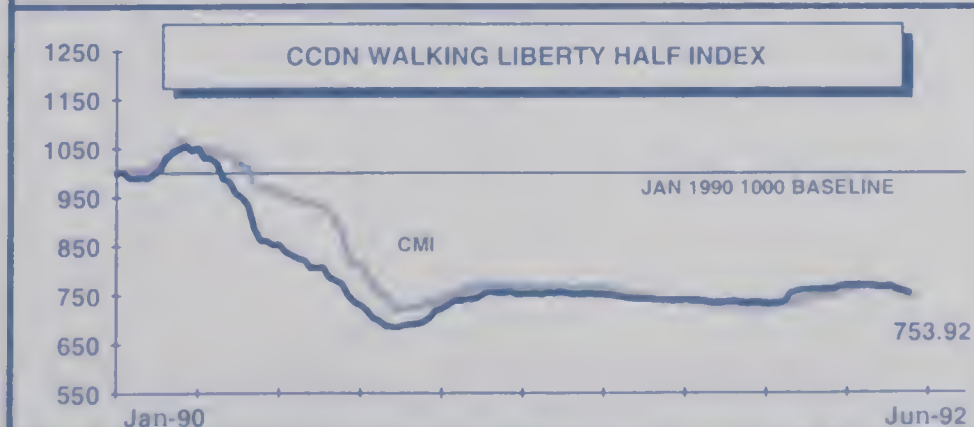

We hasten to add, however, that there are some positive signs in the market. We are receiving many reports that dealers are still doing business (albeit at lower levels). We have even heard from some hard-working dealers who are conducting business at higher levels than the new lower sight-unseen bids (although such premiums are being paid primarily for in-demand rarities and sight-seen transactions). So, as bad as the sight-unseen market may appear right now, the overall market may be somewhat healthier than it appears. In a declining market, dealers aren't willing to commit their capital to sight-unseen coins unless the price is very attractive; they are buying coins from dealers who cannot afford to hold out for the last dollar. It is a fact of numismatic life that dealers' attention focuses on the items that sell lower or higher than expected; this can be a problem in volatile markets. In a declining market, dealers' attitudes will be affected by the lowest sell, which is usually generated by the dealer with the greatest need to cash in, who wants their inventory valued according to the dealer with the least money? In a rising market, attention focuses on the highest Bids, and the entire market can be buoyed by one or two dealers with excess cash to spend, but who wants to compete in buying needed coins with a dealer who can afford to inflate Bid 10% or 20% in a week?

We are pleased to announce that each month's fourth issue of the Certified Coin Dealer newsletter will now include the integrated "CCDn ASKSHEET" (which will cease as a separate publication). The ASKSHEET began in response to urgent requests from dealers, and it was our goal from the beginning to ultimately integrate the two publications. We believe that dealers will find the new format easier to use, and the subscription savings are a real bonus for Bluesheet readers. For more information on our pricing policies for the ASK columns, please note the box located on the top of Page 2a (we are keeping the same pagination structure as the weekly Bluesheet). In summary, we report on the wholesale Lowest Ask or Last Trade seen during the previous four weeks. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. With both High Bid and Low Ask available to set the parameters of market value, buyers can make more informed purchasing decisions. ASKSHEET subscribers will note one enhancement to our timing codes. We have added "It" and "Im" codes to classify prices that appeared during the previous month. See Page 2a for details.

Son's bids within represent very conservative sight unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Market Cools As Thermometer Rises Summer Slowdown Serious

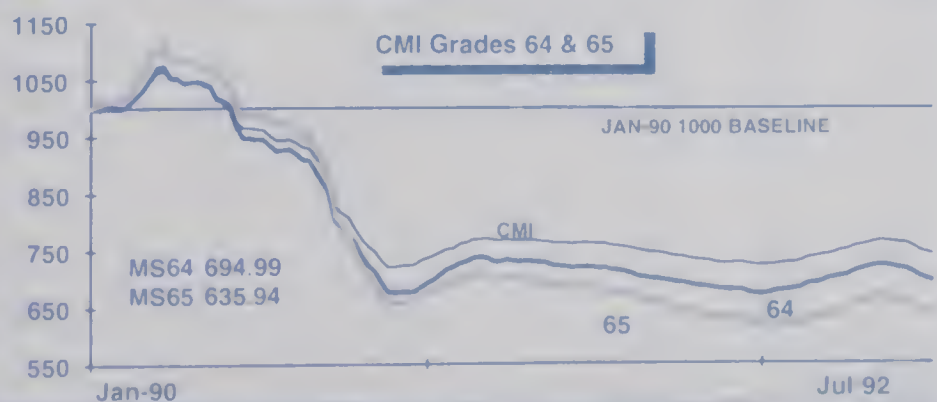

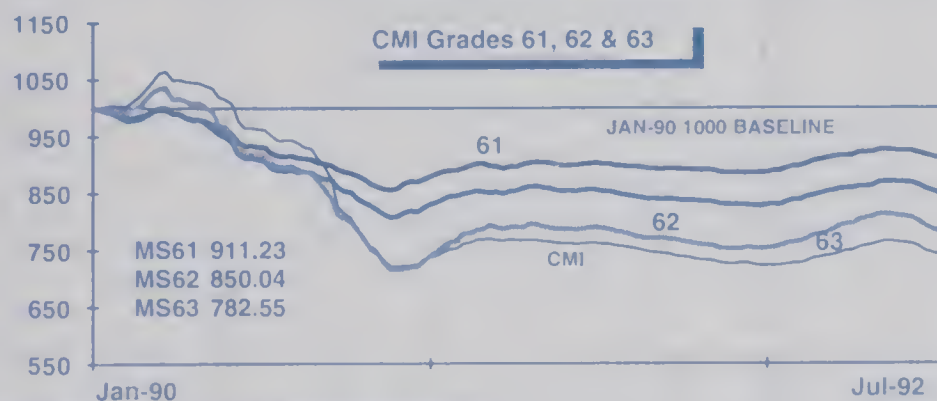

Dealers are used to cool markets during the hot summer months, and dropping Bids promise to make this summer no exception. We are hearing reports from retail Over The Counter dealers that their collector customers (on whom their businesses depend) are negotiating a little harder, but they are definitely buying at the new lower levels. While declining Bids are always a serious matter in an inventory based business, there is no denying that lower Bids make coins more attractive to potential buyers. And the more potential buyers that come into the shop, the more sales that a retail dealer can make.

This is certainly the case for the dealers who are reporting that their astute clients take advantage of the summer slowdown to do some of their most active buying. Cash on the counter during July and August makes for some interesting discussions. Retail buyers with a $2,000 coin on their 1988 dream list are now confronted with the real possibility of owning one around $1,000. They will settle on an acceptable price with their dealer, and take physical possession of a piece of a dream.

The key, for the dealer, is to have a clear idea of what is an acceptable price. The coin market is always moving towards some equilibrium between dealers' desire to turn inventory versus holding out for the maximum profit. We have heard more than one dealer describe the big lesson of the last two years as 'I'm not in the museum business'. The balance between holding and selling is always in flux. Some dealers can afford to hold their inventory until prices rise; others need to turn their inventory as often as possible. Whatever their personal business philosophy, their business will be affected by the cumulative actions of all the other dealers (and collectors) acting on their philosophy. If the rest of the numismatic community is trading MS65 Morgans below $100, it makes little sense to price yours over $200. However, the issue gets a lot murkier if you have fastidiously selected every one of your Morgans, and you are asking $120. Are your retail customers willing to pay a little more to 'cherry pick' your premium quality inventory? Or are they going to be limited by the lowest price being charged by the dealer with the ugliest coins? Have you educated your clients about your philosophy? One of the unpleasant side-effects of putting precise numerical grades on coins is the supposition that all such coins are equal. If this premise were true, then all coins would be worth the lowest prices in the free market. Dealers know that some coins are created more equal than others, and their customers have to be reminded of that sometimes too! Dealers get a reminder every time they pay the replacement cost for premium quality coins.

If you find some spare time on your hands, why not invest some of it in your OTC customers? Make sure that they understand the realities of the market. After all, the opportunity presents itself each time they ask to look at five coins and proceed to select just one. And by all means, ask them what they think about the coin market. You need to perfectly understand the motivations of your customers in order to serve them fully - and that seems to be the only real opportunity for profit during the coming months. Your ANA will be that much more successful if you arrive with a fattened Want List and the knowledge that a cash sale lies ahead for each astute purchase.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Can "Wall Street" Teach the Coin Market? Dealers Trying "New" Marketing Tips

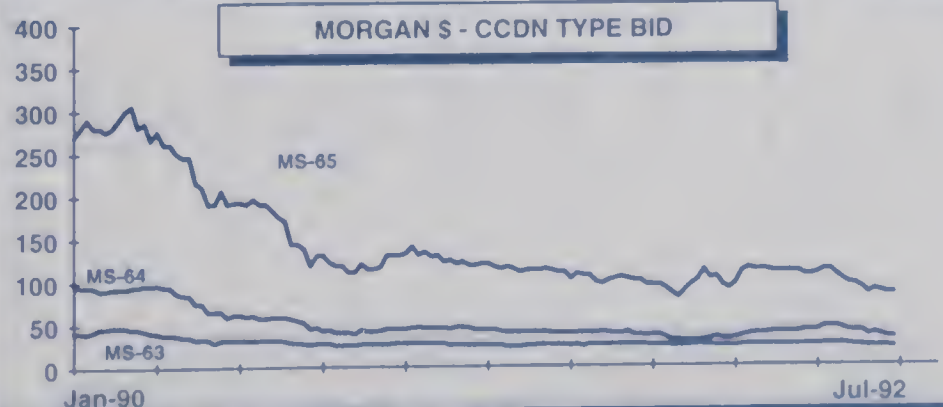

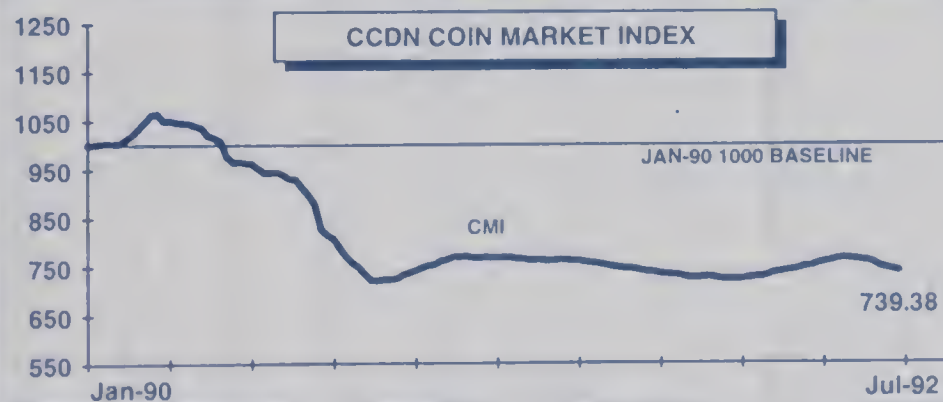

Since cyclical financial markets were 'invented', dealers have been forced to deal with down cycles. Coping with the latest slide in coin prices has some dealers complaining vociferously that this is all the fault of "those Wall Street investors." Now, that is a topic best suited for a round table in the nearest pub after the bourse closes. However, in the course of such a discussion, one dealer (hovering somewhere between irony and gravity) suggested that maybe we can apply some "Wall Street" strategies to the coin market.

Stock brokers make money in down markets because 1) they still charge commissions, 2) they limit their exposure, and 3) they have devised instruments that allow their customers to gamble on the future direction of the market. Now our dealer friend was not suggesting that we begin to short MS64 Barber Halves (although future delivery has been seriously proposed at times). No, he was more interested in the other points. Coin Auction houses take their commission percentage in good markets and bad (although they prefer good markets for the same reasons as the rest of us), and they do it by risking a minimum of their own money. This is the coin market's equivalent of the OPM principle - it is always better to be using Other People's Money. Consignors hold the title, they accept the risk, and in a rising market, they get the reward.

By and large, brokerages hold little stock (ignoring Initial Public Offerings); many economic cycles have taught them that it is better to give the risks and rewards to their clients. How can the inventory-based coin market use that same approach? After all, this is a business where the size of one's inventory is an indication of market leadership, and a commitment to serving the customer. In the short term the only answer is to put as many coins as possible in the portfolio and collections of your customers. If you have developed a solid relationship with your best customers, it is possible to use their holdings as an extended inventory. The retail dealer holding a large inventory must make a larger 'commission' (read spread, profit, or buy-sell margin) to offset the risk of holding coins and the attendant overhead expenses. We have been seeing the spread between Bid and Ask increasing on many coins recently, and view this as a healthy sign. In an inventory based business, with an unknown holding period, how can anyone make money with a 5% or 10% margin? That isn't even enough to cover the Time Value of the money!

There is another aspect that is so basic, it is almost condescending to mention; and yet, it lies at the heart of surviving a down cycle. If you cannot generate more 'commissions' from your existing customers, then you need more customers; and the best place to get 'new' customers is from your 'old' customers. When business is slow, a stock broker goes through his Rolodex and customer files, contacting anyone out of the market for several years. What dealer doesn't have 'old' customers that have been out of the market? Now is the time to get on the phone and renew that business relationship. Maybe they will want to sell, and you will have the opportunity to earn commissions or profits. And just maybe they will understand that it is a lot easier to make lemonade in a lemon market, and take advantage of the lower prices to lock in some future profits. Wall Street didn't get that rich by being stupid.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P.L. Dollars may be semi-reflective (on one or both sides) with less reflectivity than the normal mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P.L.s are usually much lower than for DMPL's but command a premium over non-P/L strikes.

Cherry-Picking in the Lemon Market Selective Buying Marks Activity

While Bids remain typically 'summer market' weak, this year we are seeing more aggressive selective buying. By that, we acknowledge that the slow summer months have always provided an opportunity for serious buyers to pick up some bargains. This year we are seeing the "cherry picking" occurring more intensely. While our headline may be mixing metaphors, the point remains valid. There are buyers out there, and they are spending big bucks cumulatively, but they are not going to overpay for any one coin; if they think the price is still too high, they'll pass and move on to the next coin or the next dealer.

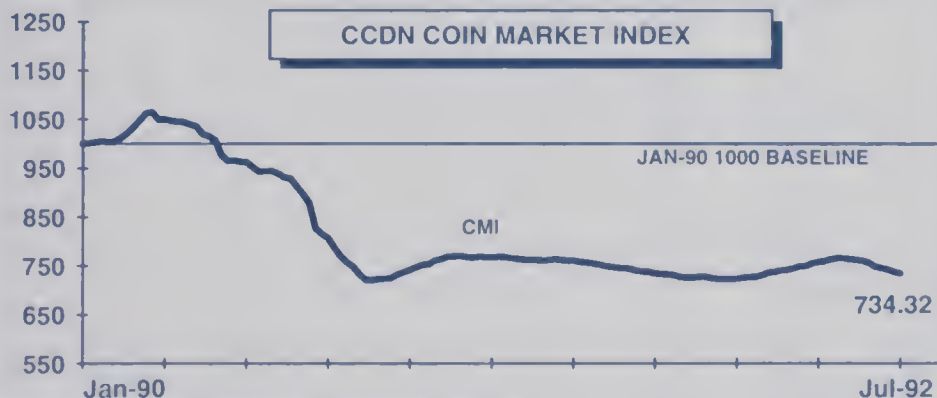

As a result of this approach to the doldrums, we are seeing dealers with longer Want Lists than ever before. The prices on any one coin on the Want List may be low, but there are more Bids than usual. And the buyers are willing to spend the 'big bucks' if they can get the coins at their prices! Curiously, this approach is being followed by dealers and collectors alike, so it looks like this season will be remembered for its bargaining as well as its bargains.

A surge in demand is seen for Mint State Gold, with buyers taking advantage of the lower levels; several 'better' issues registered advances. Silver Commemoratives had some small declines, with many trading at current levels. Changes in the Gold Commems were mixed, with specific issues advancing on targeted demand. Morgan Dollars, while continuing their slump (driven by discounted sells and lessened demand), are still actively trading. Peace Dollar demand remains mixed, with some better issues selling at reduced levels. Mint State Type and Proof Type were steady, with selective buyers searching for just the right "deal". Buffaloes were firm, with advances on some better issues. Mercury Dimes were constant, with most minus signs generated by generics. Walkers were also steady, with discounted selling in the MS65 & MS66 grades. Some Proof Singles sold at reduced levels.

When we write about auctions or major transactions, it sometimes seems like we concentrate on the premium grade or premium price coins. Big numbers are impressive, and the top of the market often defines how the rest of the market is getting along. And we also share the genuine amazement that a coin may have been struck (and had the good fortune) to survive as an MS68 or MS69. Such coins are exciting to read about, to inspect, to own. Well, there is a silver dollar being sold at auction in September that will have the numismatic world watching, and it has been certified as a lowly Proof 62.

What Proof-62 deserves this much attention? Christian Gobrecht's very own specimen of his 1836 Gobrecht Dollar. Passed down in the family until 1965, the coin is accompanied by all manner of documentation to support its pedigree. Could there be a more illustrious pedigree for one of the great coins in American numismatic history? Not only will this Judd-60 be actively pursued by Silver Dollar collectors, but by Pattern collectors as well. And by the buyers assembling the ultimate Type set. Such a coin might come along only once a century, and it has the ability to become the centerpiece of many different types of collections. Gobrecht's personal specimen will be auctioned by Bowers & Merena Galleries as part of their Stewart Witham/Raymond Sansoucy Collections sale, September 14-15 in New York City.

Spectrum Summer Sale!

PROOF LIKES!

Spectrum Numismatics has recently acquired a freshly graded original batch of "Proof-Like" Morgan Silver Dollars. These coins were previously untouched for nearly 50 years, resting in a Nevada Bank. Prooflike Silver Dollars have always been the fancy of Morgan collectors, due to their superior sharpness and mirrored fields which is the result of early striking and highly polished dies. We have the following:

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

ANA on Numismatic Horizon Treasures on Bourse & Block

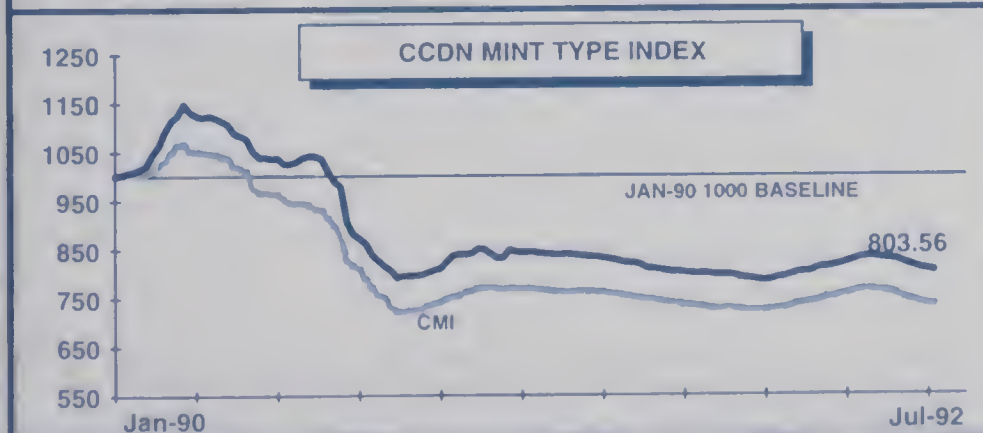

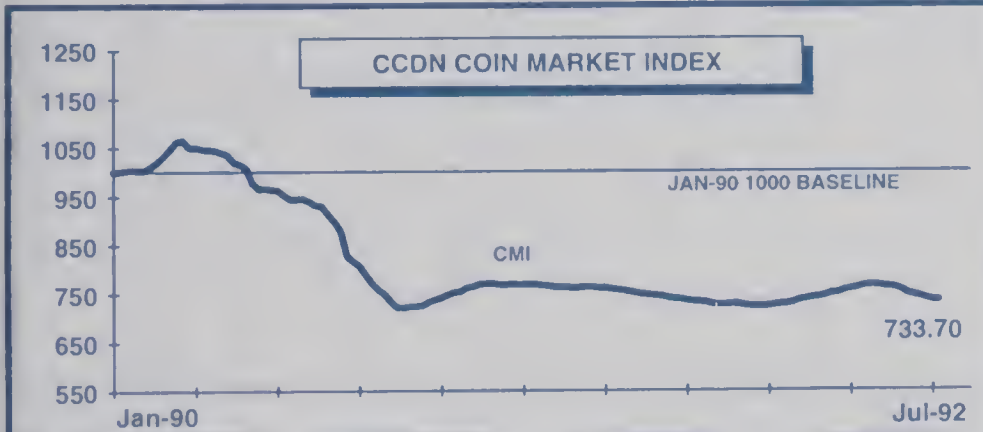

Orlando will soon be playing host to one of the more interesting ANA Conventions (August 12-16; PNG day Aug. 11) in recent memory. The market remains unsettled after experiencing yet another wave of liquidation, and trading activity is being impacted by several different motivations. We have seen a decrease in the number of coins being sold to the current highest Bidder on the electronic exchanges; their Bids are just too low to generate much enthusiasm for selling. On the other hand, we are seeing an increase in trading activity, as dealers with ready customers and/or ready-cash are buying material in the negotiation zone between Bid & Ask. On the other hand, we hear from many dealers that they intend to sell in Orlando, while a few quietly admit to looking forward to a buying trip.

Whether buyers prefer to obtain their treasures on the bourse floor or the auction block, there will be an abundance of material available. Auction activity starts with Early American Numismatic Auctions' Orlando '92 sale (Aug. 9), featuring a strong offering of rare Colonial coins, and much attractive regular-issue type material. Following (Aug. 10) will be Superior Galleries' Orlando Sale, with some unbelievable high-grade proof specimens. Thanks to the discovery of still another pristine hoard of late nineteenth century mint-issue proof sets, and the decision of the consignor to sell the coins individually, collectors buying for Type or for Series specialization will be taking home many "finest-knowns". Any question about the quality of these coins can be settled by contemplating the following NGC certified Proof68 issues:

Naturally many of these are the finest known for the issue, if they seem a little rich for 'your blood', you might want to consider some of the 55 proofs certified as Pr67, or the 59 certified as Pr66. Numismatists will be taking some very deep breaths before these 178 exceptional lots hit the block. Anyone wishing to purchase coins certified by PCGS or NGC will have no trouble spending their allowance in Orlando.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

This commitment goes beyond simply providing superior and consistent coin grading services to a select dealer network. In the coming months NGC will announce a series of unique, valuable and exclusive plans and programs designed to foster pride, professionalism and growth. Watch for details.

Practicing for the next semester starts. Before class, many students bring notes about the previous class session, and discuss them with their peers. Each student has a notebook and a pen, and they take notes.

Plus Signs Appearing Again Selective Buying Patterns Evident

While we haven't brought out the cake and ice cream yet, it is nice to have something to celebrate in the coin market - this week, we have seen a major resurgence of plus signs. In many cases they are scattered across the charts, while elsewhere we see concentrated pockets of demand. We are hearing little "news" from dealers, although many of them have noticed the upturn in activity. Combining fewer discounted sells with more aggressive bidding may indicate that many dealers feel that we have reached another bottom, but we aren't hearing anyone make that speculation yet. Perhaps dealers have been burned so many times with their predictions that they are reticent to take a stand. As noted below, the market is still sending mixed signals, and there is certainly no clear indication (at this time) of future direction. With ANA upcoming, however, it is always preferable to speculate on the positive indications that we are seeing.

Silver Commemoratives turned in a mixed performance, with trading activity fairly high on these ever-popular coins. Overall, Silver Commems seem to be weaker in the higher grades, with many of the plus signs in the 'lesser uncs'. Gold Commems also saw some activity, with equally mixed results. It seems that a serious customer means a plus sign, while a serious seller generates a minus. Morgan Dollars were mixed, although trading activity seems to have backed off a little - perhaps this is a sign that owners just aren't quite as willing to sell at current levels. Selective demand is still responsible for quite a few plus signs, as buyers continue to seek desired specimens at advantageous prices. Peace Dollars were mainly steady, with scattered changes.

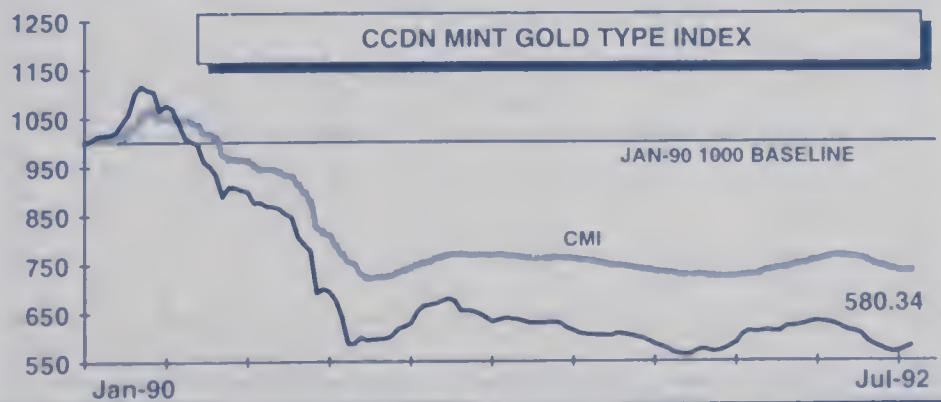

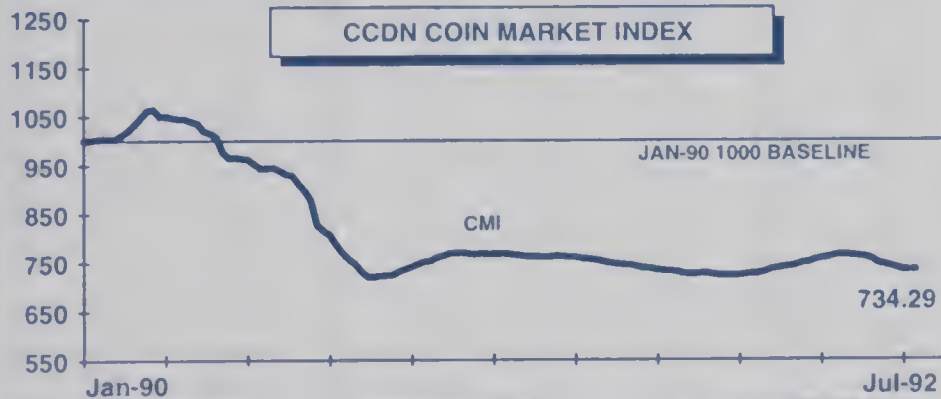

Mint State Type changes were mainly lower, an observation that concerned several dealers. Increased plus signs signal a rising market, especially when spotted on the Mint State and Proof Type charts. Instead, activity here is still being driven by discounted selling. Mint State Gold Type, on the other hand, is showing an abundance of plus signs. A modestly rising bullion market has been receiving some attention in the financial press lately, but bullion activity cannot account for all of this demand. Proof Type coins show only scattered advances, with slightly more minus activity coming from discounted selling. Proof Gold Type remains steady. Buffalo Nickels were largely steady in the early issues, with more activity in the later dates. Mercury Dimes were steady, with few trades being seen at current levels. Walking Liberty Half Dollars were steady with few changes. Proof Singles showed consistent advances in the Pr61 through Pr63 columns, with only a few discounted sells forcing minus signs in the higher grades.

Heritage Galleries' 1992 ANA Sale catalogue is now available, and it adds to the growing list of exceptional-quality certified coins that will be available at auction in Orlando. It simply isn't possible to mention all of the highlights in such sales, but a few of the premium Gold pieces will convey the flavor

ANA on Every Collector's Want List Selective Demand Growing

Numismatics really has a dual identity, as the phrase is normally used. This "science and study of coins and currency" is still just that — a means of pursuing knowledge about history, politics, economics, and a host of other related ways of examining our cultural proclivities. It is quite possible to spend a lifetime studying coins and not actually collect them - but that is rarer than an 1849 $20. Numismatics, as the term is commonly used, is equally about the collecting of coins. There is something in the collector that drives him to own these pieces of our past, that makes us all want to know more about the stories that every coin is waiting to tell. And many an investor has become a collector after being hooked on the beauty and history of coins.

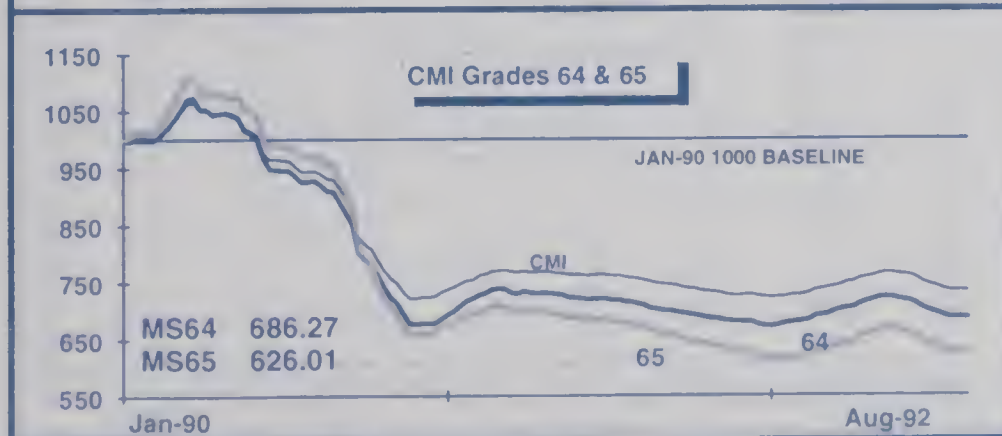

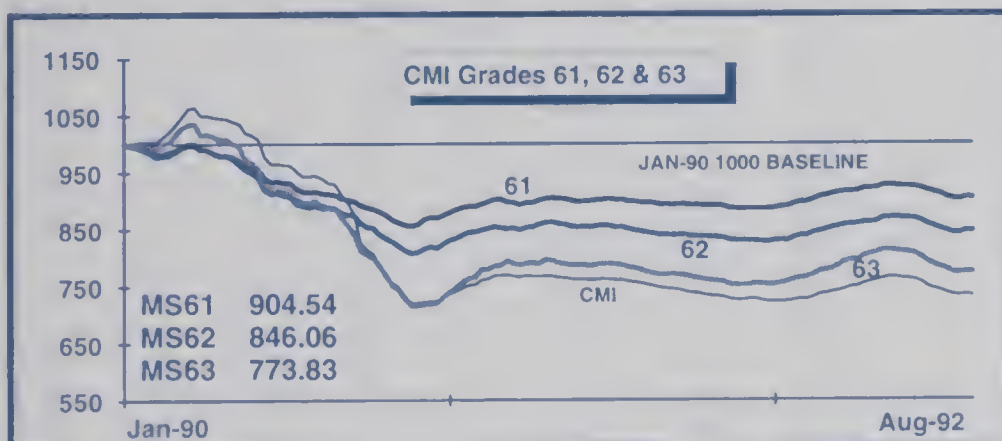

One of the great aspects of the annual conventions of the American Numismatic Association is that they provide for all types of numismatists. The exhibits, seminars, and other special events provide more than a week's worth of entertainment and learning, and for the vast majority who love owning coins, the ANA is an unbeatable experience. It isn't possible to view even a small fraction of the coins available on the bourse; adding in the auction lots can make this an overwhelming experience. Where else can you find the opportunity to examine and handle $50 million in rare coins in one week (or $100 million if you have stronger eyes and feet than most!)? And when it is held in a terrific vacation site like Orlando, you should encourage every one of your customers to attend.

We are continuing to see more plus signs in the market, and dealers are telling us that many of them are being generated by Want Lists provided by their customers. Happy will be the dealer arriving in Orlando with a pocket-full of collector demand and many of them are advertising their needs ahead of time. This demand is selective, with collectors usually requiring specific items, but we are seeing the plus signs scattered across the charts.

Silver Commemoratives were largely steady, with most of the changes being to the minus side. Gold Commems showed scattered changes, with demand offsetting the discounts. Morgan Dollars remain steady, with continuing adjustments forcing the market to seek its proper level. Peace Dollars were steady, with most of the declines being minor. Mint State Type continues to show little evidence of the recent demand increases. Mint State Gold, after last week's impressive show of strength, has another round of plus signs. Discounted sells of Proof Type material were more numerous than increases, which can be viewed as a continuing sign of market weakness. Proof Gold Type remains mostly steady.

Buffalo Nickels were steady in the early dates, but the later dates turned in a mixed performance. Mercury Dimes were steady, with increases in the early dates. Walking Liberty Halves were steady in the early dates, but drops in the generic Bids produced the usual minus signs. Proof Singles were steady, with some discounted selling. Overall, the charts demonstrate both strength and weakness; this uncertain market remains quite a challenge to dealer profitability. In this market only one thing is certain - profits need to be generated on the turning of coins, and not on the holding of coins. As one wave of liquidation after another hit the coin market over the last several years, the dangers of large inventory positions became abundantly clear.

ANA to Identify Market Direction Superior Auction Totals Nearly $6 Million

One of the immediate and desirable benefits of attending the ANA is that dealers can gain tremendous insight into the current state of the market, and that in turn is used to make better informed observations about future direction. Naturally, wholesale-oriented dealers must attend these major conventions, as they represent prime trading opportunities. Imagine the logistical nightmare of having to travel to see 100 (or 200 or 500) dealers. The wholesalers naturally represent the cutting edge in gathering market information and acting upon it. If the show starts out like gang-busters, they may begin by buying and end with selling. If the market looks unhealthy, they may sell hard and fast, and use their cash to advantage later in the show. The wholesalers communicate a great deal about the market (both directly and indirectly) to the dealers with whom they trade, and this in turn influences even more dealers.

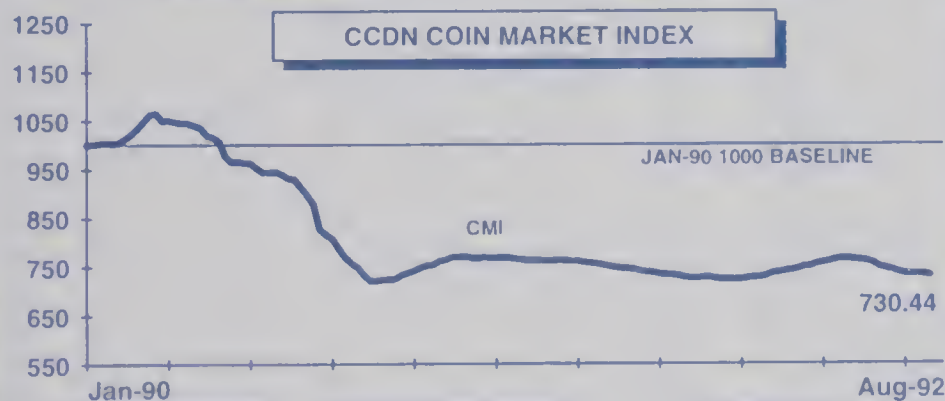

Ultimately, this magnificent supply/demand information-gathering apparatus produces a single price on a single coin, whether in a wholesale or retail transaction. At that point, a coin is offered for sale, and the buyer will accept, reject, or negotiate. The coin market has always been thus, and probably always will. Certainly, today's information technology is much superior, with instantaneous satellite communication available to virtually every spot on the globe. Computers gnash away at more information than ever before, and dealers are forced to wade through all the data to find the pieces of significance. Even with all the satellite dishes and computers, it still comes down to putting a price on the coin, and waiting to see if the market was judged correctly.

Early prices are in from Superior Galleries magnificent Orlando Sale, and they report total Prices Realized of $5,977,191. In this uncertain market, we can anticipate that some of the certified pieces will have sold above current Bid levels, while others sold below current levels (these will be reflected by minus signs). The greater significance of this sale lies in the fact that the market continues to absorb major collections/raising the auction block — collections of superb quality — and bids remain relatively steady in the face of an uncertain economy. Every coin that a dealer buys at auction will ultimately have to find a customer, and that starts the cycle anew as one price has to be put on one coin.

Among the highlights from the magnificent run of Proof Singles in Superior's Orlando Sale:

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Auction Coins Shine in Orlando Slow Bourse at ANA

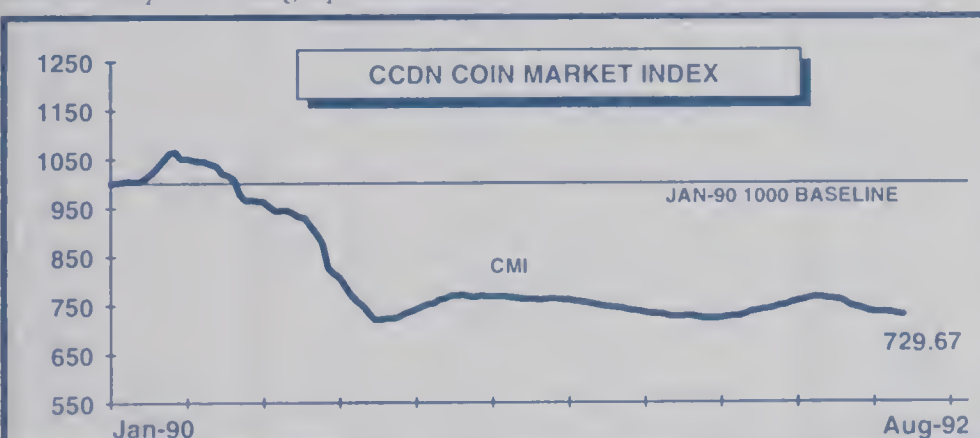

Activity may have been slow on the bourse of the ANA Convention but things were certainly hopping in the Auction 'department'. Superior Galleries reported total Prices Realized of $5,977,191 (highlights in last week's Bluesheet); Early American Numismatic Auctions' sale yielded an additional $638,502; the Official ANA Convention sale hosted by Heritage Galleries reported Prices Realized of $5,026,340; and Heritage's ANA Bullet sale yielded $789,333. In total, $12.4 million in rare coins found new owners through the auction process. The ability of a "slow" numismatic market to absorb such a quantity of premium-quality, rare coins is always astounding.

The other good news coming out of the coin market is that collector coins continue to lead trading activity, and dealers are beginning to shift their investor/customers into that material; since that is where the action is, that is where the short-term profits will be found. For the dealers themselves, it takes a major adjustment to shift inventory (not to mention thinking) from MS65 slabs to EF45 Bust Dollars or AU50 Barber Halves, but coin dealers have always managed to find a way to follow the demand of their customers. At least they do if they want to remain coin dealers. Other dealers are acting as contrarians, and putting away premium quality coins as long-term investments - they have gone through enough cycles to be certain that high-grade slabs purchased at advantageous prices will be long-term money makers. We know of one dealer preparing to invest $10,000 of his own long-term investment money in MS65 Walkers - with Bid around $75, the potential profit (even if they only reach 50% of their previous high) far outweighs the risk of any possible further decline. This is just one example of a coin whose risk has already been largely bled out.

While some were disappointed at the pace of ANA activity (most had anticipated a slow show), there were other dealers who emerged contented. I quote one dealer (and it is not a coincidence that he has focused his business on the collector for many years): "The show was a great one for us, and we spent the entire time from PNG Day onward looking at coins and buying for our inventory and want lists. We appreciated the opportunity to acquire coins for stock." One of the great things about our hobby is that there is material available for every interest and price range, and one dealer's slow market is another dealer's buying opportunity.

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Discounted Market Provides Reasonable Buys PCI & INS added to Bluesheet Coverage

The results of the slow activity levels at the ANA Convention are becoming apparent in market prices. Dealers seem convinced that if sales are going to be slow at major shows, then sales are going to be even slower in-between. Collectors and investors who have been holding off on major purchases will be starting to examine the market very carefully, as dealers reducing their inventories even further will be adding more supply into a market characterized by lowered demand. In short, collector demand should be whet by the possibilities of obtaining coveted specimens at even lower prices. As Asks chase the Bids downward, coins become available at more reasonable levels.

While we have great sympathy for dealers caught with inventories of declining value, we recognize that as one of the inevitable consequences of a supply/demand market. The possibilities of profit always have to be balanced against the risks in a cyclical market. We prefer to look on the bright side—as long as coins are trading, dealers stand a chance of making a profit on the flip, with the added benefit of lower replacement costs. Contrarian buyers, whether dealers, collectors or investors, are starting to snap up some of the bargains that the market is producing, but even such buyers are proceeding warily. There is no clear consensus that we have reached any sort of a bottom. Why buy today what might be had next month even cheaper? The answer to that essential question lies in attitudes about rarity and risk. The coin market has always been cyclical, and at some point prices will be low enough to attract buying. Dealers can best judge the 'resistance' levels of their customers to current prices.

Silver Commemoratives mixed performance ended on the downside with discounted sells weighing down the progress made by sporadic Bidding efforts. Gold Commems, a series plagued by minus signs over the last two years, has been plusing rather consistently of late. Morgan Dollars were especially hit by discounted selling; not every trade produced a minus sign, but it certainly seemed that way. Peace Dollar activity was mixed, with sells dominating the activity. Mint State Type looks steady, but the chart is peppered with minuses generated by discounted sells. Mint State Gold, a chart that seems to have a mind of its own, is showing a decent number of plus signs. Proof Type, another series that has been having trouble of late making up its mind, was on the steady side of slightly down. Proof Gold Type remains steady in the face of light trading. Buffalo Nickels were steady, with the few changes being downward. Mercury Dimes were steady with moderate declines. Walkers have declined across the chart, especially in the later issues. Proof Singles were steady, with nearly all changes being lower.

This issue marks the beginning of extended coverage of selected coins certified by the Photo Certified Coin Institute (PCI) and the International Numismatic Society (INS). These coins are finding their way into the market (especially PCI), and will be encountered more often by buyers. Sight unseen Bids on these selected issues are not that common in the marketplace yet, so we would caution readers to carefully evaluate both the coins and our listed Bids. As Bidding increases, we will fill in the 'blank' prices in each chart. We encourage all dealers making markets in these coins to make their Bids known to us and the marketplace.

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Trades Driving Market Activity Dealers Compete to Keep Coins Moving

Selling activity continues to drive the market, with dealers concentrating on 'making the sale'. Sometimes this means selling at a discount, but this week saw less of that than previous weeks. Dealers this week seem to have decided that prices are 'right enough', and that sales can be made at current levels. There remains a slight downward tendency to the overall market (as seen in the CMI numbers), but in a word, the market this week has been "steady". This is a welcome respite from the last few weeks, when it seemed that nearly every trade was generating a minus sign. Even though dealers are used to the 'rough and tumble' of life in a supply/demand market, several have commented that they are ready for a little more 'boredom' right about now!

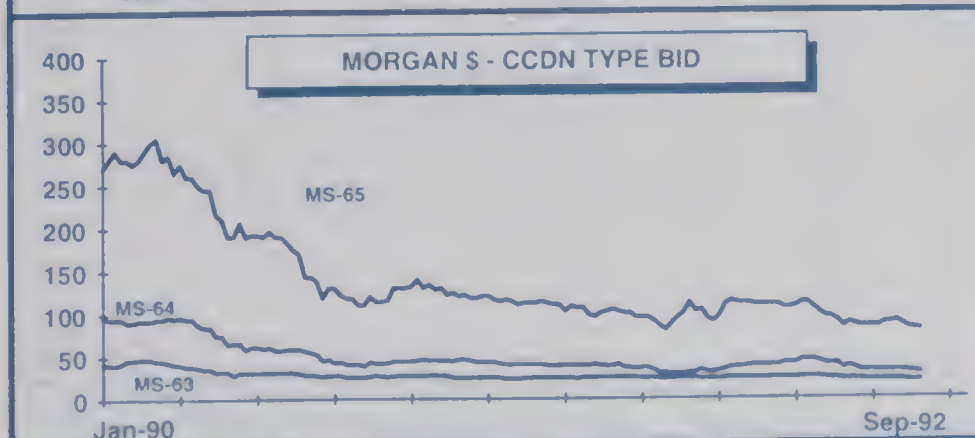

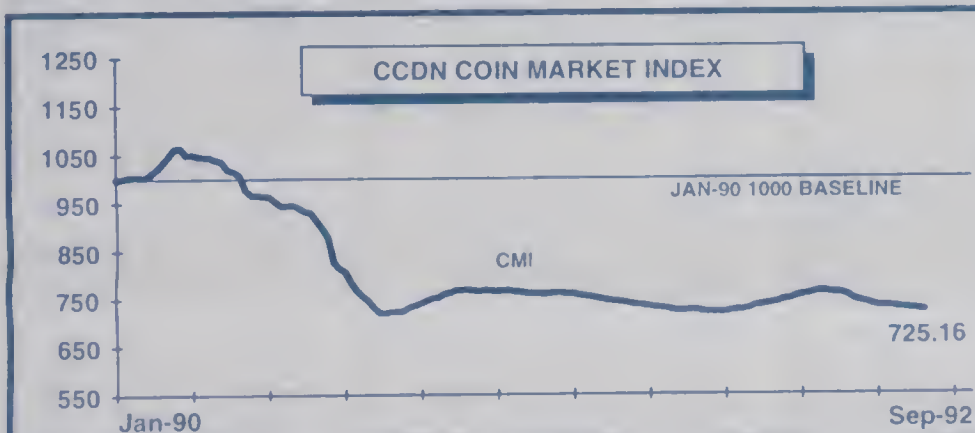

Silver Commemoratives were mainly steady, with small adjustments on selected issues providing just a little excitement. Gold Commems rose in MS63-MS65, in what is turning out to be the surprise of the 'slow season'. Morgan Dollars were mainly firm, but a slight dip in generics has produced an abundance of minus signs. Peace Dollars were a little less firm, with a few more discounted sells. Mint State Type is slightly on the downside, but most coins are trading above Bid. Mint State Gold, while not advancing as strongly as it has lately, still is showing signs of life in the "lesser uncs". Proof Type was steady, with advances in the 'lower' grades offset by discounts in the premium grades. Proof Gold Type was steady. Buffalo Nickels were steady, with some declines in the later issues. Mercury Dimes were steady. Walking Liberty Halves were steady with increases in the later issues. Proof Singles were firm.

During the past several weeks, Mint State Gold has been the brightest area of performance. Since January of this year, many of the Types covered on the Mint State Gold chart have advanced handsomely; underlying the leaders has been steady activity. Our CMI for Gold stood at 573.79 in January, and now stands at 589.56 not the strongest rise granted, but consider what other series have been doing. And consider especially that it may well be time for gold to show some advancing — the CMI did stand at 1000 in January of 1990! Some of the Types that have performed really well since January of 1992.

Issue	Jan 92 Bid	Sept 92 Bid	% Increase
$10 Indian, MS64	$1320	$2250	70%
$2.50 Indian, MS63	$476	$720	51%
$3 Indian, MS63	$2860	$4200	47%
$2.50 Liberty, MS64	$745	$1080	45%
$1 Indian, T.3, MS64	$825	$1180	43%
$10 Liberty, W/M, MS64	$1460	$2050	40%
$2.50 Liberty, MS63	$520	$720	38%
$1 Liberty, T.1, MS62	$402	$550	37%
$2.50 Indian, MS65	$3340	$4520	35%
$1 Liberty, T.1, MS63	$865	$1170	35%
$5 Liberty, W/M, MS63	$810	$1090	35%
$1 Indian, T.2, MS61	$2160	$2850	32%

The most interesting aspect of this "high-performance" list is the nearly complete absence of better grade types. In fact, it will come as little surprise that the list of Mint State Gold Type losers since January of 1992 is loaded with the premium grade specimens. This has not been a kind market to MS66 and MS67 grades.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

Gobrecht's Dollar Realizes $15,950 Auctions Sunbeam through Market's Clouds

Auctions continue to provide the "good" news in the coin market, as both dealers and collectors actively pursue auction lots. While auctions may never replace collectors' Saturday morning excursions to the local coin shop, they do seem to be continually growing in popularity. Sales containing more than $1 million seem to do well under most circumstances, but especially when held in concert with a major convention; the sale that features specialized collections (Early American Coppers or Bust Halves) would sparkle even if held at 3 A.M. under the 47th Street Bridge. While the number of book (mail) bidders seems to increase every year, so do the numbers of numismatists who take advantage of lot viewing to give themselves a numismatic education. And while certified coins are proving to be extremely popular at auction (due, no doubt, to the assurances that third-party grading provides), bidders continue to spend long hours examining the coins in person. In fact, one finds the slabs selling to floor bidders more often than to the book!

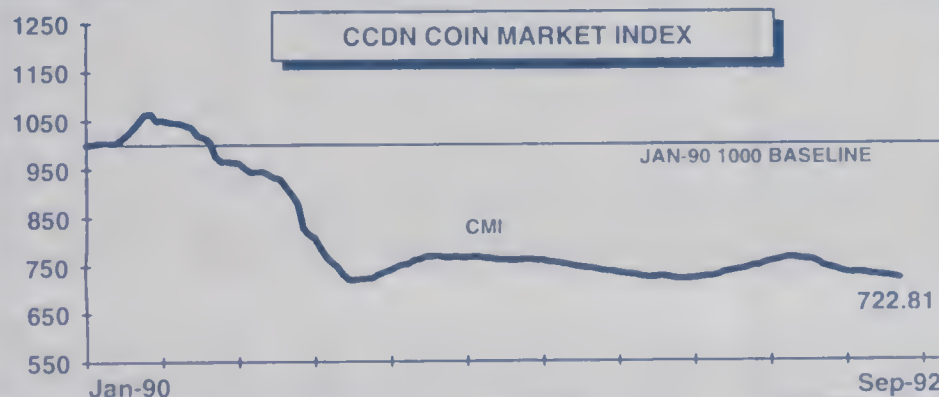

With dealers and collectors in attendance for the Greater New York Numismatic Convention, two major back-to-back sales were gavelled in the Big Apple this week. Stack's offering realized more than $1.66 million, and Bowers & Merena's Witham and Sansoucy Collections Sale brought in over $2.9 million. Our favorite coin in the Bowers & Merena sale was Gobrecht's personal specimen of the 1836 Gobrecht Dollar (in Proof 62). While the coin sold for multiples of its 'non-pedigreed' cousins, it is amazing that numismatic history is still available at such reasonable prices. One lucky Bidder now has a piece of the past around which an entire collection (and hopefully display) can be built. Among the other highlights:

Bidding this week generally remained steady, with some increase in activity. Many of the charts are dotted with minus signs created by discounted sells, but at least trading activity is being encouraged. Silver Commemoratives were largely steady with the mixed changes leaning towards declines in the higher grades. Gold Comems advanced across the bottom grades of the chart. Morgan Dollars generated pluses on lower-grade generics, with scattered minuses from discounted sells. Offers to sell Peace Dollars were encountered more often in this week's market, and the minus signs indicate that many dealers were willing to negotiate to make the trade.

Mint State Type coins were steady, with a smattering of changes in both directions. Mint State Gold also turned in a divided performance. Proof Type was just on the minus side of steady, and Proof Gold Type was unchanged. Buffalo Nickels were largely steady (with scattered declines in the early dates), as were Mercury Dimes. Early Walking Liberty Halves in the middle grades advanced solidly, while the later dates showed a little weakness in MS66. Proof Singles were mainly steady, with some weakness in the Mercury Proofs.

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Market Slowdown Makes "Worth" Important October Auction Sales to Dazzle

Every so often we like to revisit the concept of worth. This excursion is courtesy of a CT dealer's challenge regarding our lowering Bid on 1926-S Standing Libs (PCGS-66) from $4,000 to $3,100 last week. Of the three coins reported in the last PCGS Population Report, CT 'owns one at $5,400, and controls another at $4,800'; finally, CT stated that he would "pay $4,000 now for any on the market." Since we are dealing with MS66 quality, we can put aside the issue of Bids based on the lowest quality slab (a considerable factor when dealing with larger populations); but, even one of his coins is worth $600 more than the other. Moreover, if you control the entire population of an item, you have the opportunity of setting worth through your Asking price (and an accompanying 'safe' High Bid, anticipating no new specimens). For unique coins, the seller's price establishes value; however, controlling 2/3 of the pop. is a different matter.

What is the 1926-S SLQ in PCGS66 worth? Remember, that is a different question from its Bid value. Our drop in Bid was based on the sale of one for $2,860 in Heritage's Florida ANA Auction. If purchased by a dealer, there is no way of knowing whether he was prepared to pay substantially more, but it is clear that Bid needed to be lowered. The $2,860 needs to be viewed in the context of a generally declining market (significant in higher grades), ANA exposure vs. a 'sleeper' lot, a 33% growth in population (there are four now), no current Bids found anywhere, and a current SLQ market with strong bidding by a major dealer from IL (source of many plus signs on the chart). Our evaluation yielded a Bid of $3,100. We will add one final consideration; the same day we received CT's appeal, we also saw a 1926-S offered for sale by a Massachusetts dealer for $4,400. So what is the 1926-S SLQ in PCGS66 worth? To last month's (FL) seller, $2,600 (less commission). To today's new highest Bidder (CT), $4,000. To the Buyer who indicates on buying and today, $4,400 (MA). Out here in CA we can only summarize that if you think a coin is worth more, then publish your Bid so it can be seen. Don't show up the day after an auction and complain about the prices realized.

While the market continues slow, the auction scene continues to dazzle with some incredible upcoming sales. First of the major events will be held by Superior Galleries on Oct. 11 & 12 when they reveal the Clark E. Adams and Duncan MacMillan Collections. Among the certified highlights:

There are some incredible certified coins that will not be appearing on the auction block as previously planned. Superior has announced that Part II of the Trompeter Collection has been postponed, and should be rescheduled following resolution of estate complications.

We need to mention next month's other big event — Stack's Oct. 20-22 sale of the Starr Collection. While the highlights are not certified yet, they will be soon enough! This superlative gathering, from Colonial to Proof Gold (rich in Specimen Proofs and Proofs) must be seen, and will be remembered.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

RED LABEL FOR "PROBLEM" COINS

PROBLEM COIN CERTIFIED CAPSULE
(actual size)

UPDATE: Chattanooga, TN OCTOBER 1992

Beginning July 1st, 1992: When you submit U.S. coins — every one of them will be graded and encapsulated. Never before has any grading service offered such extensive attention to your coins. Coins without any problems will continue to be graded and holdered with the premium "old-familiar" GREEN INSERT LABEL. Coins with problems will now be graded and holdered with the new certified RED INSERT LABEL. These will be graded with the problem described and printed below the grade. Collectors and dealers can now get their coins graded, certified and slabbed even if the coin has a problem.

You make the choice between other grading services and PCI. And when you do please consider the following reasons that make the difference:

(1) PCI only charges $7.50 per coin (plus postage etc.) to grade, authenticate, encapsulate and to process your order regardless of its value. Compare this to $50 or $23 or even $12!

- (2) More collectors, dealers, individuals and banks (over 4100 total) have submitted coins to PCI than any other grading service. We challenge any grading service to match our record beginning the day we opened on June 1, 1989 until now!
- (3) Our standard express "turn-around" time from the day we receive your coins to the day we ship them out is 6 working days. At all of the other services this will cost you a minimum of $23! Our price is $7.50.
- (4) Anyone may submit coins to PCI at the same low rates. The 2 other major grading services have formed exclusive dealer networks... thereby restricting who may get coins graded. Why do you think they charge so much? It's obviously money in the dealers pocket not yours! No longer do you have to go through an "in-crowd" to get consistently graded coins. It's your private business!

- (5) Every genuine dated coin you now submit (except plugged, holed, altered or undistinguishable) will be encapsulated in either the GREEN LABEL or RED LABEL slab. Collectors know that coins in slabs are generally worth more and now you can get in on the profits. PCI does reserve the right to refuse to encapsulate any coin for any reason it feels would be detrimental to the numismatic industry.
- (6) Any purchaser or submitter of a PCI coin who believes their coin(s) is misgraded, improperly attributed, or has questionable authenticity may resubmit the slab for a re-evaluation and/or reslabbing. The resubmitted process of evaluation and/or reselling will be paid for by PCI (excluding return postage and insurance which you pay)

6 DAY EXPRESS SERVICE SLAB SUBMITTAL FORM

Coins will be shipped on or before the 6th working day after we receive them and will be sent U.S. Registered Mail.

Market Activity Confronts Liquidity Discounted Sells Obvious on Better Material

Following-up last week's discussion on worth, looking at a 'common' coin might be in order: the 1879-O Morgan Dollar. This is not a rare coin below MS65; combining PCGS & NGC pops gives us healthy numbers (MS61, 325; MS62, 764; MS63, 1089; MS64, 548), so we anticipate no one will try to corner this market. This is an actively bid and traded coin, so where's the controversy over value?

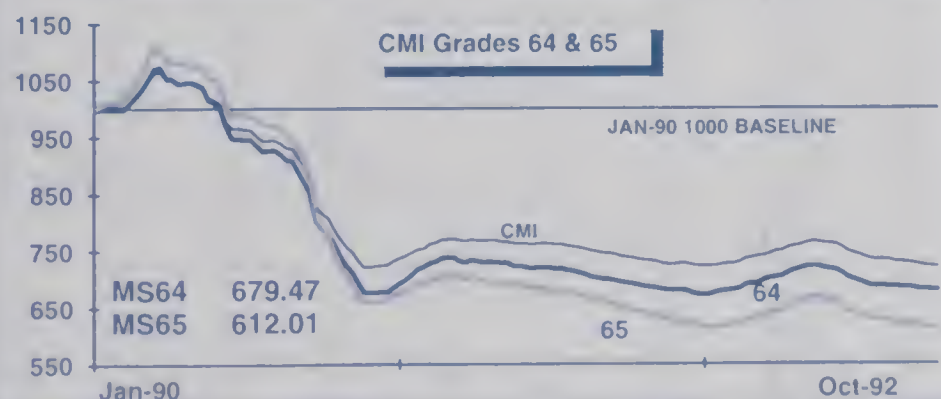

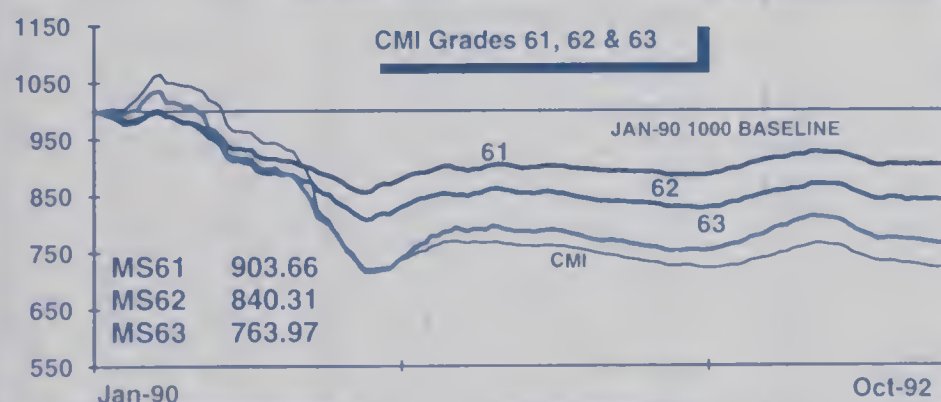

A NY dealer has been bidding on 79-Os for at least two years on a regular (almost weekly) basis, running messages with specific Buy prices on one electronic service. They are consistently the highest sight-unseen Bidder on MS61-MS64 coins. They are true market-makers, and their Bid is normally listed in the Bluesheet. Yet, we consistently see 79-Os selling elsewhere for less than high Bid; we assume that sellers just aren't willing or able to take the time to locate the highest Bid. Every so often, their Buy message skips a week, and a trade forces a temporary dip (until a new message restores Bid). This week, a seller's message on the same system offered a 79-O (in PCGS62) for $52; the $94 Bid message was running. What is that 79-O worth? To this seller at this time, $52; to other sellers unwilling or unable to find the highest Bidder, around $80. To the CCDN, $94, knowing that the active Bid is consistently visible. To the arbitrageur keeping his eye on such situations, the 79-O can be worth the handsome profit to be gained from knowing current market, and how to get it.

This week was marked by an increase in discounted selling, and minus signs pepper the charts. Trading continues to dominate market psyche, so if discounting a few bucks will make the deal, so be it. Long-term, this will erode prices further, but short-term, trading activity is helping to buoy the market. There is also some good news about 'coin-hay' material (which one could argue now includes MS65 Morgans!) - so-called "collector" material is starting to show some demand. The market for certified material continues to suffer from the lack of 'fresh cash' both in the coin market and in the economy. Our market depends upon fresh customers and fresh cash walking through the front door, and it is possible to motivate customers to buy in this market!

At the risk of repeating, there are some fabulous buys 'out there' at current levels. The son of a major dealer, spending some quality time with Dad at the ANA, decided to start a collection - a complete set of PCGS/NGC Peace Dollars in MS63. Two days of comparisons on the bourse, less than $2,000 spent, and a beautiful matched set was 90% complete! Dad was so impressed that he dispatched Junior to assemble another set for Son #2. This is the essence of marketing coins: now is a superb time to begin assembling reasonably-priced collections. Prices may go up or down a bit during the effort, but in the end, a proud owner will have something of beauty and value.

Another dealer reminds us that he has taken a different approach: he continues to sell only premium-quality rarer coins at PQ prices. His customers know that his prices are high, but they aren't just buying a coin; they are buying the finest example that is on the market. They are buying the rewards of years of effort and a keen eye. Even in a difficult market, customers sometimes need to be reminded that PQ coins can't be purchased at a Bid level appropriate for lesser-quality specimens.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In the cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Long Beach Faces Slower Market Will Buying Opportunities 'Make' the Show?

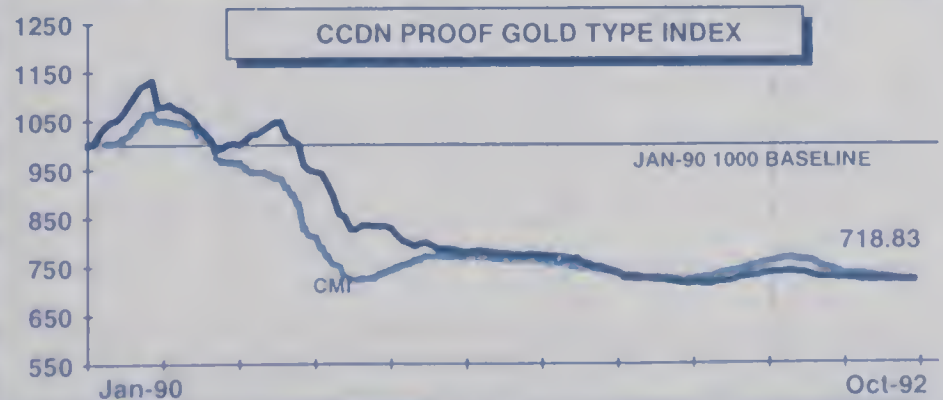

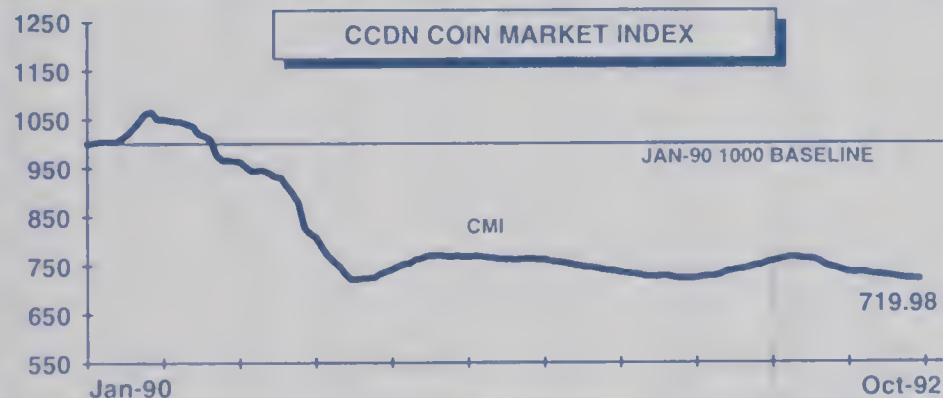

In this lackadaisical coin market, even the Long Beach Coin Show may not be able to work its usual magic. Dealer uncertainty seems greater than ever, as the market continues to send mixed signals. One week the market will seem to strengthen, with Bids increasing in number and amount. The next week, Bidders seem to go into hiding. However, there are some consistent themes, and the most important is that sight-seen Bidding continues to grow in popularity. Another is that inefficiencies in the market are giving wholesalers opportunities for turning extra profits (speaking of which, last week's low seller of the 1879-O $, quoting one of our favorite dictums from the silver screen, has confirmed that "Knowledge is Good").

Among the more interesting observations is the way sight-seen and sight-unseen Bids are covering the numismatic landscape. A two-tier system is definitely developing, and this will have major implications for the prices dealers are willing to pay for material (wherever they are buying). We are seeing the most common generic material trading at sight-unseen levels, as you might expect. We are also seeing the rarer coins trading at sight-seen levels (and more in line with Greysheet prices), as you might expect - especially if you are one of those dealers who want to look at a coin before plunking down your $3,000 or $4,000. Either way, coins continue to trade at current levels, and this suggests that Long Beach may surprise the pessimists yet. The big question is whether retail customers are ready to take advantage of the lower price levels to add some spectacular coins to their holdings at the cheapest prices in years. Word is definitely starting to get out that it is a "buyer's market", and one which is bound to last at least through the November elections. An infusion of fresh cash would do wonders for the market.

Long Beach dealers will also be getting lots of market input from the accompanying auction sales. Superior Galleries will be offering their Clark E. Adams & Duncan MacMillan Collections Sale Oct 11-12 and you can bet that anyone missing those 'spectacular coins first time around' will have a second chance to buy some of them on the bourse floor.

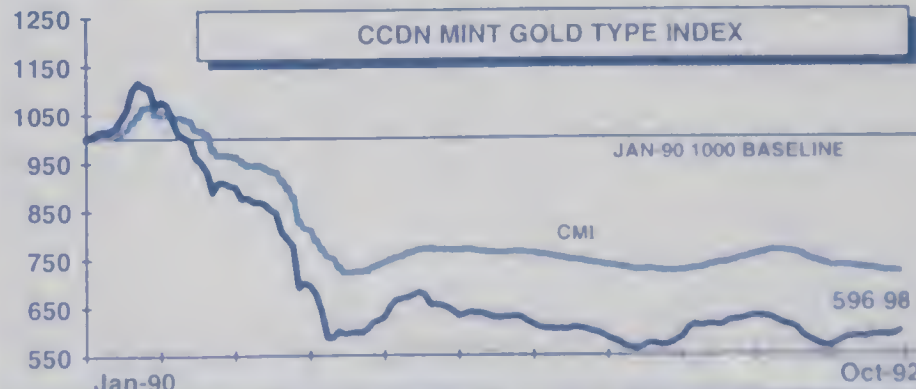

Heritage Numismatic Auctions will be featuring another of their Bullet Auctions (which have proven to be so popular in this market). In markets with 'rapidly' changing prices, the short lead times of the Bullet sales provide the consignors with an extra measure of control. The lot photographs may be missed at times, but the convenience of this auction method cannot be overlooked; besides, most of the successful Bidders have taken the opportunity to inspect the lots. Plus, Bidders have the added assurance of dealing only with certified material. It's no wonder the sales have proved popular. With three sessions, October 15-17, Heritage hopes to attract both dealers and collectors. Among the highlights:

The World's Most Important Coins Are Graded by PCGS...Are Yours?

Why are the world's most important coins graded by PCGS?

Because when a discriminating collector goes to the ends of the earth to select the finest known coins for his collection, you can bet he's going to insist on having those coins graded by the most respected and reliable third-party grading service in numismatics -- the Professional Coin Grading Service.

But regardless of the size or significance of your collection, we know the importance you place on your coins. We grade each and every coin with equal care -- regardless of value or pedigree.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Will Gold Star in Long Beach? Superior Sale Realizes $3.47 Million

We wish to repeat that we give no credence whatsoever to the oft-remarked correlation between Long Beach Coin Shows and declines in the spot price of gold. The fact that gold does seem to dip just in time for the Show is irrelevant, as is the fact that this happens again and again; after all, shouldn't facts and precedence always be disregarded in the face of logic? As important as gold is to American coin dealers, we are but a drop in the ocean of demand for the precious metal — so ignore the early week declines in spot. We assure you, it has nothing to do with reality (just like it didn't all the other times!).

Actually, gold deserves to be in the headline this week, as it is the source of one of the coin market's brighter spots. While bullion is wavering on the minus side, Mint State Gold is holding pretty steady, and $20 Saints are strong. In fact, if one were to look at just the Supplemental chart of $20 Saints (knowing nothing of the coin market), one would conclude that we are in the midst of a boom. Bids are that strong! Bid levels are no doubt being helped by the advancement of Type prices through MS65, but many of the 'better' dates are firm if not climbing just as much. Few changes will be noted in the MS66 & MS67 grades, but these prices are pretty much stratospheric already.

Superior Galleries started Long Beach week with their offering of the Clark E. Adams & Duncan MacMillan Collections, grossing $3,466,960. In addition to the many certified highlights, Bidding was extremely active on the specialty collections of Large Cents and Bust Halves (as expected). One of the sessions must be attended to truly understand the demand half of the pricing equation! Bidding was also intense on the beautiful collection of Silver Commemoratives, many with exquisite toning. The Patterns also enjoyed strong demand — evidently, these collectors understand the importance of purchasing high-quality rarities when they come on the market: not all coins can be purchased when it is convenient.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

sight seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

For certified coins not listed in the CCDn, please refer to the COIN DEALER newsletter for current Bu values.

Starr Coins At Auction Zenith Active Long Beach Sets Course

U.S. coin dealers have a lot to smile about this week. The Long Beach Coin Show was quite active, and many dealers expressed warm satisfaction with the results. "Better than the last Long Beach", "Better than the ANA"; "Best show I've had this year"; "Good traffic" were all heard from dealers. In fact, some of the comments were so flowery as to be (almost) embarrassing. One dealer who came to buy "if the prices were right" happily spent all of his money and was equally happy to cancel an upcoming buying trip. Another dealer, who had come to sell reported "an excellent show". Profits are possible in this slow market, as many dealers are indicating, but it requires a good eye and a sure touch at pricing and negotiating. The aisles at Long Beach saw more retail traffic than some previous shows, and there were certainly some serious retail buyers, but it seems that the happiest dealers were also busy trading wholesale.

The "good vibrations" from California could also be felt in New York, as Stack's began offering the Floyd T. Starr Collection. The First Session consisted of only 613 lots, but it still took longer than six hours to finish 'hammering' them. Principals of the auction house attribute one of their longest sessions ever to the packed house. In fact, as collectors and dealers vied for pieces of the famed "Philadelphia Estate", auction 'musical chairs' took place with differing specialists vying for the best seats. When the last of the 613 lots was sold, the prices realized topped $2.87 million. We will report on the entire sale, as well as providing highlights, in next week's Greysheet. As we noted, many of these masterpieces (sold in their original, uncertified state) will soon be headed for the grading services.

This week's Bluesheet charts indirectly confirm the effective strategies at Long Beach. Across the charts, there are not many plus signs; the happy faces are not due to rising Bid prices. Instead, the successful dealers are the ones who have come to terms with current levels. Profits in a slow market depend upon coins changing hands, and that means the right coin at the right price. A remarkable story was related by a dealer who needed to buy $10,000 worth of MS65 Morgans at Long Beach (on behalf of an astute customer) and was willing to pay $35 cash over Bid to purchase the best looking specimens he could find. From one dealer, he selected 15 superb specimens, but was only 'allowed' to purchase 13 of them. The selling dealer informed him that he had "paid too much" for those two, and needed to get a higher price! As if the coins had a memory of their last selling price! They were premium pieces, to be sure, but a premium price was being offered. No sale took place and opportunities thus lost do not always return. Other dealers are taking advantage of current levels for Silver Commemoratives, many of the MS64 & 65 trades are dealer purchases for their own accounts.

reported prices realized of $1.3 million for their Long Beach Bullet Sale. As the Bullet Sale concept grows in popularity, they are also attracting more high-powered coins. Among the certified highlights:

PCGS DMPL and NGC DPL Bids are for fully Deep Mirror Prooflike coins. Bids for PCGS PL and NGC PL (dollars with prooflike or one-sided PL) will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CDN (Greysheet) Bids have always represented fully deep mirror prooflike specimens.

CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at these Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

PCB, DDT, and PCP. PCBs and PCP have not been fully characterized, and DDT is still under investigation. In the world, PCBs are found mostly in a supplementary trace. DDT is found in high levels around agricultural fields. DDT is never found in the atmosphere.

(actual size)

UPDATE: Chattanooga, TN OCTOBER 1992

Beginning July 1st, 1992: When you submit U.S. coins... every one of them will be graded and encapsulated. Never before has any grading service offered such extensive attention to your coins. Coins without any problems will continue to be graded and holdered with the premium "old-familiar" GREEN INSERT LABEL. Coins with problems will now be graded and holdered with the new certified RED INSERT LABEL. These will be graded with the problem described and printed below the grade. Collectors and dealers can now get their coins graded, certified and slabbed even if the coin has a problem.

You make the choice between other grading services and PCI. And when you do please consider the following reasons that make the difference:

- (1). PCI only charges $7.50 per coin (plus postage, etc.) to grade, authenticate, encapsulate and to process your order regardless of its value. Compare this to $50 or $23 or even $12!

- (2). More collectors, dealers, individuals and banks (over 4100 total) have submitted coins to PCI than any other grading service. We challenge any grading service to match our record beginning the day we opened on June 1, 1989 until now!
- (3). Our standard express "turn-around" time from the day we receive your coins to the day we ship them out is 6 working days. At all of the other services this will cost you a minimum of $23! Our price is $7.50.
- (4). Anyone may submit coins to PCI at the same low rates. The 2 other major grading services have formed exclusive dealer networks... thereby restricting who may get coins graded. Why do you think they charge so much? It's obviously money in the dealers pocket not yours! No longer do you have to go through an "in-crowd" to get consistently graded coins. It's your private business!

- (5). Every genuine dated coin you now submit (except plugged, holed, altered or undistinguishable) will be encapsulated in either the GREEN LABEL or RED LABEL slab. Collectors know that coins in slabs are generally worth more and now you can get in on the profits. PCI does reserve the right to refuse to encapsulate any coin for any reason it feels would be detrimental to the numismatic industry.
- (6). Any purchaser or submitter of a PCI coin who believes their coin(s) is misgraded, improperly attributed, or has questionable authenticity may resubmit the slab for a re-evaluation and/or reslabbing. The resubmitted process of evaluation and/or reselling will be paid for by PCI (excluding return postage and insurance which you pay).

6 DAY EXPRESS SERVICE SLAB SUBMITTAL FORM

Coins will be shipped on or before the 6th working day after we receive them and will be sent U.S. Registered Mail.

All prices are sight unseen dealer-in-dealer bids. Bid prices are for the most common 2000 models with Trade Body listed for insured that trade infrequently and the last column.

CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at these Bid levels. Current or sight seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

For certified coins not listed in the CCDn, please refer to the COIN DEALER newsletter for current Bid level.

Mint State Gold Making Move Are Gold Enthusiasts Looking Toward Nov. 3?

Mint State Gold Type was the most active segment of this week's market, with Bid prices staging a major rally. Some types were up as much as 20%, some less; but all were enjoying more active levels of trading. Selling prices were also rising right along with the Bids, so it seems that dealers are not particularly anxious to sell. The golden advances were to be found in MS61 through MS65 grades, and are especially encouraging in the light of a stagnant bullion market. The concentration of advances on coins with rather substantial populations may be a sign of some fresh money entering the marketplace - anyone trying to buy quantities of certain 'common' issues during the last month knows that increased demand has tightened the supplies considerably. We have heard many dealers predicting a substantial rise in gold coins (as well as the underlying bullion market) due to short term (the election) and long-term (the deficit) factors.

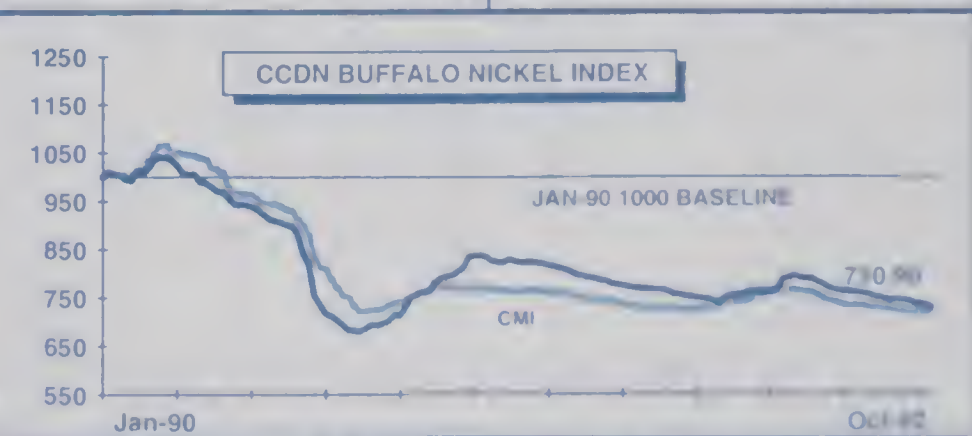

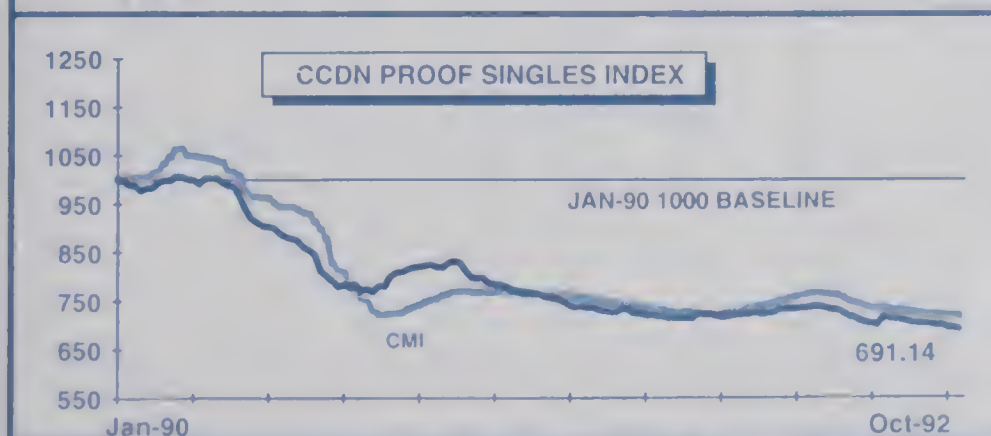

A few dealers are ascribing gold's climb to market uncertainty over next week's presidential elections. Whomever is selected, the issue of the deficit has been brought to the fore, and will have to be dealt with - one way or another. As interest rates in the U.S. continue at record low levels, we can also expect some outflow in the foreign capital that had been supporting our debt structure. Combined, these two factors are going to put enormous pressure on the government to monetize the debt with paper - and that much paper means a certain rise in inflation. Most Americans can well remember the shocks of double-digit inflation, and many dealers will fondly remember what it did for coin prices; this time around, dealers aren't so certain that a return to double-digits will help (or hurt) the coin market.

In the other charts, most prices were steady with a scattering of minus signs. Silver Commemorative activity was mixed, with discounted sells outnumbering the bid increases; most of the price changes were minimal, and the overall market looks steady. Dealers continue to buy Silver Commems for their own accounts, taking advantage of current price levels to stock up on attractive coins. Gold Commems were also steady, with a few declines in MS60. Morgan Dollars were mainly steady, with discounted sells producing some declines. Peace Dollars were steady. Mint State Type was steady, with scattered changes. Proof Type was steady, with few changes on the Starr Proofs are certified, expect to see some increases in gem populations. Proof Gold Type was steady. Buffalo Nickels showed scattered changes, especially in MS65 (pluses) and MS66 (minuses). Mercury Dimes were steady. Walking Liberty Halves were steady, with scattered minus signs in the later dates. Proof Singles were steady, with scattered mixed changes.

PCGS has announced that it has certified the three millionth coin submitted since their inception in early 1986. The coin, a 1943 Walking Liberty Half Dollar was graded MS67. Who among the skeptics of certification would have thought they would ever see the day when one million coins had been certified - much less three million? Or that the declared value would be approaching $4 billion? This milestone for PCGS is a reminder for everyone in the hobby of the consumer's need for third-party grading; such success comes only when a company delivers a product or a service that the public needs or wants.

Activity Picking Up Demand Broader, Some Prices Higher

Isn't democracy grand? The ballots have hardly had a chance to cool, and already the coin market is showing signs of increased activity. "Heating up" was how one dealer put it (a dealer, we might add, given to bouts of excessive optimism). However, there certainly has been a steady increase in bidding activity that we have been watching grow over the last few weeks. We are seeing more bidders, and higher bidders, although the demand is by no means uniform across the market. There has been a noticeable increase in bidding activity for PCGS and NGC certified coins, both in the sight-seen and sight-unseen categories. In addition, we are seeing limited bidding activity for coins certified by PCI and ANACS, and Bidders for slabs from INS and NCI are rare to non-existent. Speaking of sight-seen bids, dealers are starting to grumble that some of the high Bids seem to be getting a little 'out-of-hand'; yes, certain dealers seem to be willing to pay incredible premiums for the coin with just their look, but they want only the highest-end coins. Another healthy sign is that Bidding activity is also picking up for coin shop material - proof and mint sets, modern Commemoratives, etc.

Silver Commemoratives are mixed on the plus/minus count, but they are showing some real demand on the issues that have come down in price - dealers are buying up quality pieces when they come along at cheap prices. This kind of demand has a low level of visibility - after all, if you think a coin is really underpriced, you don't want to broadcast that fact while you are still looking to buy! Gold Commems are weaker in MS63-65, as dealers continue to balance supply and demand. Morgan Dollars are seeing strengthened bidding on the MS63-65 grades, with Bids on the premium pieces being a little more sporadic. Peace Dollars seem to be always in demand, and always in flux. Mint State Type shows only scattered changes in Bid levels, but there is increasing underlying strength at current levels. Mint State Gold Type continues to look strong, especially in the lower levels. For many coins, you get quite a bit of numismatic premium for a small percentage above bullion levels. Discounted sells in Proof Type are still producing some minus signs, but here too, demand is picking up. Proof Gold Type is steady. Buffalo Nickels and Mercury Dimes are steady, but late-date Walking Liberty Halves have come alive with plus signs! Proof Singles are steady enough, although they just don't seem to be enjoying as much broad-based demand as they once did.

Dealers: Please watch your mailboxes next week for a CDN envelope bearing the message "CRITICAL POSTAL SURVEY FROM ICTA ENCLOSED" at the top of the address block. ICTA has been negotiating with the USPS for Registered (insured) Express mail, which would enable dealers everywhere to take advantage of low-cost express mail with local Post Office convenience. The USPS required ICTA to mail surveys to a sampling of 1,500 dealers, and they must have at least a 20% response rate to continue their consideration of this new service. If you aren't part of the sample (wait about ten days), and you still want your voice to be heard, drop a line to ICTA and let them know how important this new service would be to your business.

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Mint State Gold Type Leads Market Demand Lends Air of Excitement to Activity

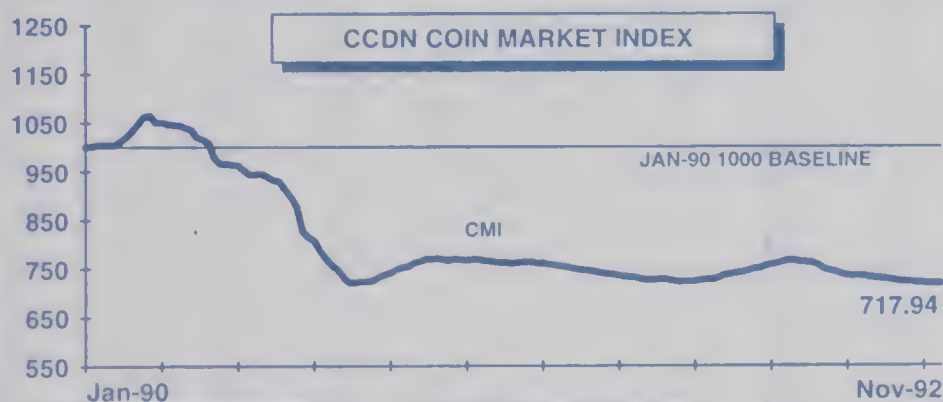

Mint State Gold Type continues to inject thrills into the rare coin market, as these 'always desirable' pieces advance again. Demand seems to be especially heavy for the MS61 through MS65 grades, but dealers are reporting that supplies are growing tight on some of the 'borderline unc.' grades as well. As gold advances dramatically (this, the third week of pluses, is the strongest yet!), some of the astute buyers who took advantage of the low prices prevailing since the first of the year are taking handsome profits. Our CCDn Coin Market Index for Mint State Gold stood at 573.79 on January 3, and it has now reached 620.55; compare this to the overall market CMI that has moved from 722.83 to 717.94. This rapid increase in strength is taking place against spot prices that are steady to declining; imagine the possibilities if economic uncertainty begins to drive gold again.

If the other areas follow the lead of gold (as has often happened in the past), there will be some astounding profits made. Right now, across the market, buying customers are looking for high-grade coins (MS66 & MS67), and they are looking on a sight-seen basis. Being astute, they realize that some sight-unseen Bid levels are "very low", and this makes these particular grades more appealing! Being knowledgeable, however, they realize that they are going to have to pay a premium (and sometimes, a considerable premium) over the sight-unseen Bid in order to pry the premium pieces from the sellers. At current levels, the premiums don't seem to be much of an impediment for "the right coin". Let's imagine a coin that was Bid sight-unseen at $5,000 and is now Bid at $2,500; paying an extra $500 or so for the right to inspect and select just "the right coin" still puts the purchase well below previous sight-unseen highs. This translates into getting good value for the money spent.

A different group of buying customers is also attracted to the MS61 through MS63 coins, and especially the better looking pieces. Many of these are selling at their lowest prices in over a decade, and some offer tremendous eye appeal for the amount required to own them. For the collectors who always thought that they had to purchase MS65 to be considered "serious", we offer this piece of insight to make the purchase of a MS63 more palatable — many of the wonderful coins were once graded (pre-certification) as "Gem"! Especially sought after are dated Gold, Bust and Seated dated coins, and most of the Early Copper; a good portion of these are not known above MS63, and entire collections can be anchored by owning "one of the finest known".

Silver Commemoratives were mixed, with much of the demand focusing on MS65 & MS66 issues. Gold Commems saw growing demand on the MS62 to MS64 grades. Demand for Morgan & Peace Dollars is steady, with only a hint of the excitement driving Gold Type. Mint State Type is showing selected demand MS61 to MS65, and Gold Type, again, is "a boomer". Proof Type is beginning to show some increased demand scattered across the chart. Proof Gold Type steady for some time, registered a few plus signs in Pr64 & Pr65. Buffalo Nickels are steady; Mercury Dimes are steady with the exception of MS65FB, which increased substantially; Walking Liberty Halves are strengthening in the later dates. Proof Singles are steady.

Golden Opportunities For Profit Market Attention Focuses on the Yellow Metal

The market attention of professional numismatists is turning to Mint State Gold Type, which is showing all of the signs of a major rally. When talking to dealers, you can detect a sense of genuine excitement about the recent increases, as well as the possibility that demand here could 'spill over' into other series. Almost everyone is enjoying the rising market (it is becoming easy to find customers for Gold coins), but more than a few dealers are perplexed about the cause. Such a clearly defined demand would make more sense if it were being driven by some movement in spot gold, but bullion has definitely not been a factor in this rally. Trying to tie the rise in gold Bids to the Presidential election would make more sense if spot were also rising (although the timing does seem to be a rather big coincidence). Economic uncertainty is understandable in times of change, especially in an economy with such large balance-of-payments problems, but that explanation seems to flounder on the immobility of spot. It also remains to be seen if the recent rise in Gold Commemoratives is related. Regardless, dealers are enjoying themselves, and major retail houses are finding a ready market for Gold coins.

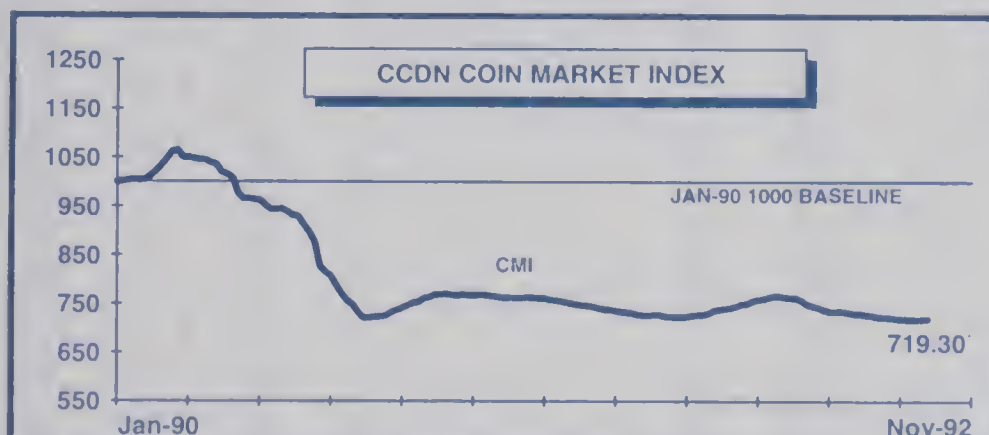

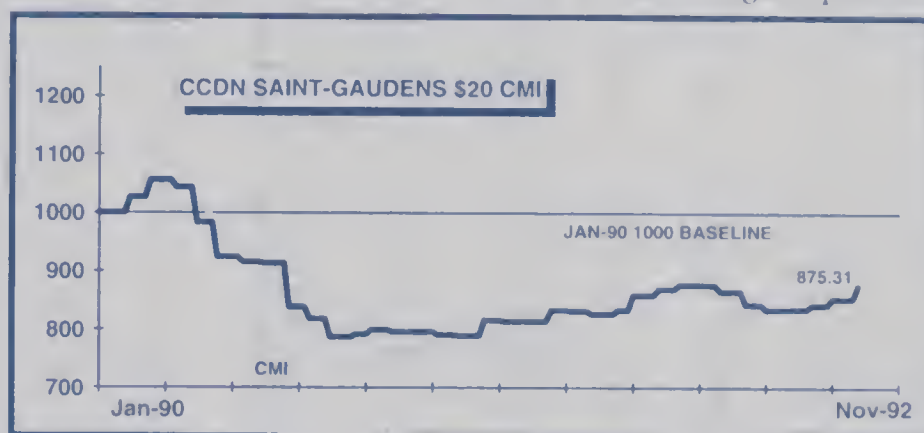

Plus signs on the Mint State Gold Type chart are liberally scattered across the MS61 through MS65 columns; MS66 & MS67 Types are showing activity at current levels. Most of the trading activity we are seeing in certified gold is on the MS61 through MS65 issues, but there is also very strong demand for AU specimens (whether certified or not). If the demand was gold based, with the concept of a numismatic kicker 'thrown in' for little premium, we would expect to see the plus signs limited to the AU to MS63 columns. That is clearly not the case. Even at these higher price levels, we would still make a strong argument that on many of these issues, the buyer is still getting a wonderful piece of numismatic action for not much of a premium over the gold content. The Mint State Gold CMI has now risen to 626.11, coming off a floor of 567.34 only 20 weeks ago.

The broad based nature of the demand for Mint State Gold is equally evident on the supplemental chart for $20 Saint Gaudens. Prices are rising across the chart from MS61 through MS66, with MS61 through MS63 rising almost unanimously. Equally significant, most of the plus signs represent substantial increases. Our CMI for Saints, which was as low as 834.59 only three short months ago, has now risen to 875.31. There is no question that activity in Saints has been a strong component in the recent rally; Saints have been outpacing the CMI since Autumn of 1990!

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

Holiday Season Shows Improvement Certified Market Looking Strong for December

The coin market is poised for a strong Holiday season, as dealers are preparing for a happy ending to a rather lackluster year. Gold coins remain the driving force behind the growing levels of activity, and it seems that fear of inflation is the main concern. The big retailers are having no trouble finding customers for Mint State Gold - at the still (historically) small premium over bullion, prudent investors are putting away a little gold "just in case!". These new sales, combined with the usual pick-up in Holiday gift purchases, may generate strong momentum to carry into the FUN Show in January.

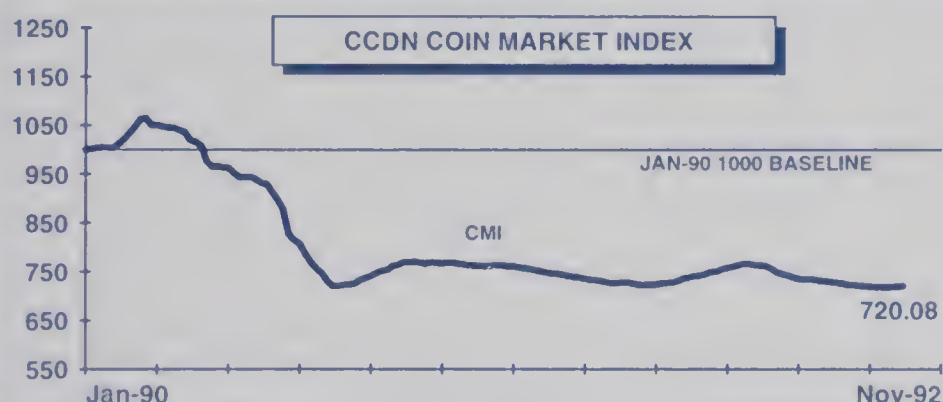

Among the predictions we are hearing most often, dealers are anticipating a major increase in prices for Mint State Type, especially in high-grade. To this date, we have seen little movement in these coins from the traditional customers. Activity is steady at current levels, but supply seems adequate to the demand. If, however, major gold purchases put a lot of cash into dealers' pockets, you can be sure that they will be reinvesting their profits into premium grade Type coins. The CCDn Coin Market Index for Mint State Type has been little changed over the past three months; while the Mint State Gold CMI was rising 51 points, Mint State Type CMI declined slightly from 791 to 776. Dealers are betting their inventory dollars on the belief that if gold continues to rally, it will pull Mint State Type up ultimately.

Bowers & Merena recently concluded their auctioning of the Robert W. Miller, Sr. Collection, realizing nearly $2.3 million. Among the certified offerings was a magnificent specialized collection of CC Gold:

RED LABEL FOR PROBLEM COINS

(actual size)

UPDATE: Chattanooga, TN OCTOBER 1992

Beginning July 1st, 1992: When you submit U.S. coins...every one of them will be graded and encapsulated. Never before has any grading service offered such extensive attention to your coins. Coins without any problems will continue to be graded and holdered with the premium "old-familiar" GREEN INSERT LABEL. Coins with problems will now be graded and holdered with the new certified RED INSERT LABEL. These will be graded with the problem described and printed below the grade. Collectors and dealers can now get their coins graded, certified and slabbed even if the coin has a problem.

You make the choice between other grading services and PCI. And when you do please consider the following reasons that make the difference:

- (1). PCI only charges $7.50 per coin (plus postage, etc.) to grade, authenticate, encapsulate and to process your order regardless of its value. Compare this to $50 or $23 or even $12!

- (2). More collectors, dealers, individuals and banks (over 4100 total) have submitted coins to PCI than any other grading service. We challenge any grading service to match our record beginning the day we opened on June 1, 1989 until now!
- (3). Our standard express "turn-around" time from the day we receive your coins to the day we ship them out is 6 working days. At all of the other services this will cost you a minimum of $23! Our price is $7.50.
- (4). Anyone may submit coins to PCI at the same low rates. The 2 other major grading services have formed exclusive dealer networks...thereby restricting who may get coins graded. Why do you think they charge so much? It's obviously money in the dealers pocket not yours! No longer do you have to go through an "in-crowd" to get consistently graded coins. It's your private business!

- (5). Every genuine dated coin you now submit (except plugged, holed, altered or undistinguishable) will be encapsulated in either the GREEN LABEL or RED LABEL slab. Collectors know that coins in slabs are generally worth more and now you can get in on the profits. PCI does reserve the right to refuse to encapsulate any coin for any reason it feels would be detrimental to the numismatic industry.
- (6). Any purchaser or submitter of a PCI coin who believes their coin(s) is misgraded, improperly attributed, or has questionable authenticity may resubmit the slab for a re-evaluation and/or reslabbing. The resubmitted process of evaluation and/or reselling will be paid for by PCI (excluding return postage and insurance which you pay)

Bids listed far exceed what trade professionals get the best chance.

CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at these Bid levels. Certain off-sight seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

Certified Gold Is HOT, HOT, HOT Demand Continues Strong & Wide

Mint State Gold continues to show all of the characteristics of a bull market, with Bid prices rising across the chart through MS65. Trickle-down economics certainly seems to be working its miracle in the coin market, as other series, not to mix too many metaphors, seem to be catching the wave. Other areas of the market are also showing the results of growing demand, although perhaps not quite as spectacularly as Gold. We mention again that we are seeing two very important components of market health: 1) increasing trading activity at current levels; and 2) increasing Bids on many items throughout the market. Silver Commemoratives are strengthening solidly, with rising Bids in most grades, and especially heavy activity in the MS63-MS65 grades. Gold Commems are enjoying rising Bid levels, with nearly all the increases in the core grades of MS63-MS65. Demand for Dollars is strong, especially up through MS65.

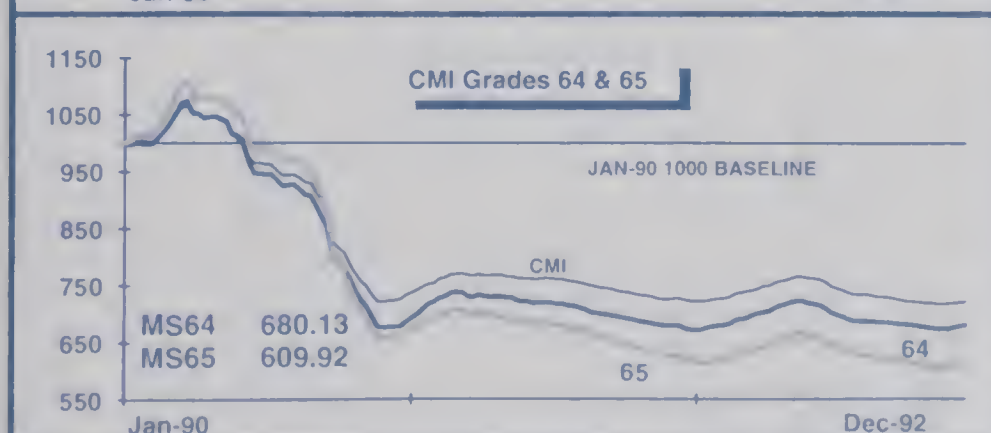

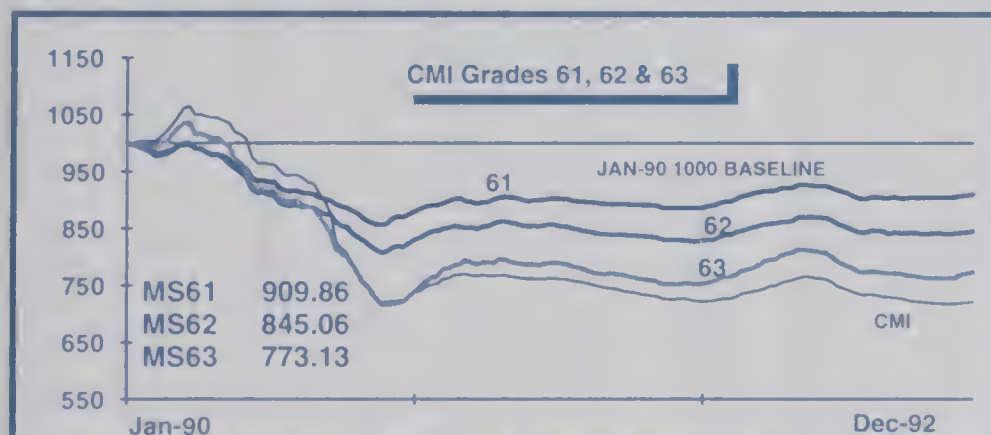

Mint State Type coins are showing modest numbers of increased Bid levels, although activity is picking up at the current levels. Despite the rally in Mint State Gold, there seems to be sufficient supply of quality certified Mint State Type coins to satisfy the current demand. Proof Type, which has also been relatively quiet up to this point, is starting to show some upward movement, with plus signs scattered across the chart. Proof Gold Type is steady, but dealers don't expect to see substantial increases here unless the market 'really heats up!' Buffalo Nickels are steady across the chart, Mercury Dimes are steady, Walking Liberty Halves are steady in the early dates, but are increasing across the grades in the later issues.

Proof Singles are steady, with scattered plus signs and numbering declines.

Since many of the increases we have seen are recent, we thought it might be instructive to look at the changes in the CMI number (Jan. 5, 1990) since November 6 (one month): Silver Commemoratives, up 0.17%; Gold Commemoratives, up 5.04%; Morgan Dollars, up 0.35%; Peace Dollars, -0.51%; Mint State Type, up 0.03%; Mint State Gold Type, up 6.56%; Proof Type, -0.03%; Proof Gold Type, up 0.19%; Buffalo Nickels, -0.46%; Mercury Dimes, -0.55%; Walking Halves, up 0.35%; and Proof Singles, -0.24%. The other series continue to lag behind the record setting performance of Mint State Gold, but as the current CMI shows, they are showing a positive direction.

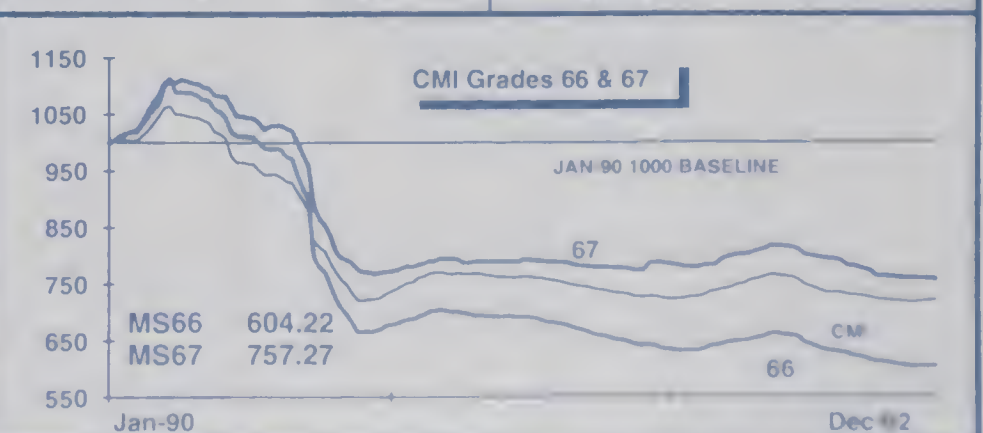

With supply growing short on some of the Mint State Gold Certified by PCGS & NGC, dealers are also looking at coins certified by ANACS and PCI. While we have seen some increase in activity for these services, there are still few active bidders for them in the marketplace. There are virtually no sight-unseen bidders in the market for INS and NCI slabs. If the overall market continues to grow, dealers may need to cast their nets a little wider to be able to fill their orders.

Dealers are also reporting continuing strong demand for items appropriate for Holiday gift giving, especially Modern Commemoratives. Proof Sets remain another popular item, with gem quality at very low prices.

Certified Levels Climbing Gold Proves Market Motivator

After the rally in Mint State Gold began in late October, as it grew in scope and depth, dealers began predicting that the rally would 'soon' be forcing the price of other rare coins higher. There is nothing that we like better than a prediction about rising coin prices that comes true, and we are starting to see some serious increases on the other charts.

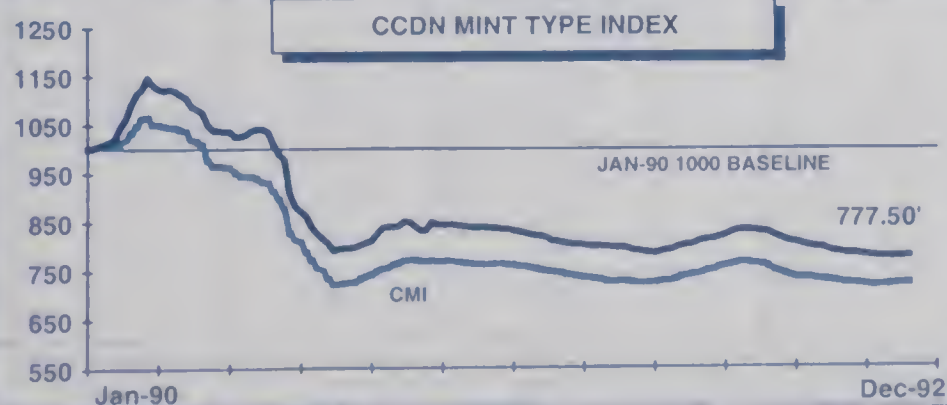

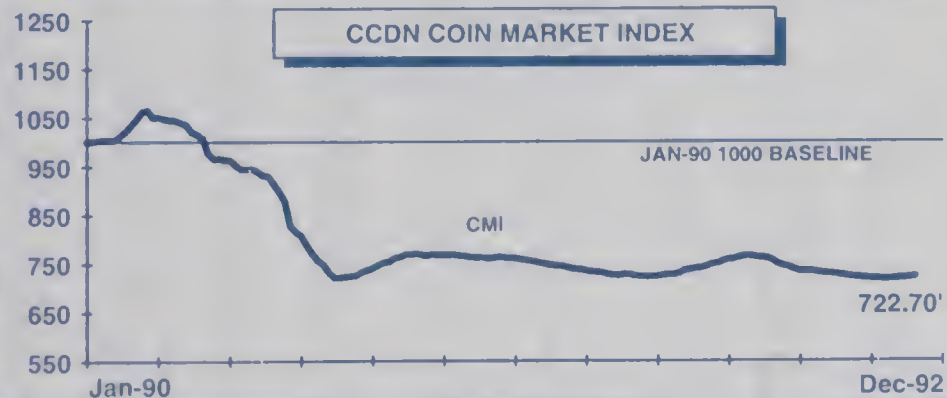

Silver Commemoratives are still enjoying rising levels, especially on the MS65s and 66s (higher grades than we have seen advancing recently). Gold Commems advanced across most Grades, with a strong showing in MS62 and MS63. Morgan Dollars are showing evidence of the renewed interest in buying at current levels, with Bids, Asks & Trades all increasing in frequency. Bid levels are rising most noticeably on the grades below MS66. Peace Dollars continue active, although supply still seems equal to the demand.

Mint State Type coins are starting to show the results of Bid pressure, with increases in the MS64 and MS65 levels. Mint State Gold continues to drive the market's movements, with a solid showing of advances in MS61 through MS65. We are hearing reports of increased demand for Proof Type Coins, and lowered supplies are being noted (with some plus signs starting to appear). Proof Gold Type remains steady, as are Buffalo Nickels, Mercury Dimes, and Walking Liberty Halves (with some advances in the later issues).

With the market rising steadily, it brings to attention the question of the scattered minus signs (due to the discounted selling of rare coins). This illuminates one problem deriving from the 'part-time' Bidder whose Bids are not always visible. Allow me to illustrate.

Dealer A runs his $400 Bid for three specimens of xyz coin only once every three weeks (and we report it, naturally, in the Bluesheet). Dealer B, wishing to sell his xyz sees the message and sells one at $400 (and the CCDn reports a Bid of $400 and a Trade of $400). Two weeks later, Dealer C also wishes to sell an xyz, and the highest visible Bid at that time is Dealer D's $320. Being unable to locate the $400 Bidder, a Trade occurs at $320 (We haven't seen A's Bid recently either, and the new CCDn will reflect a Bid level of $320 and a Trade at $320.) The day after the CCDn is mailed, Dealer A runs his $400 Bid again, and Dealer D turns over his new purchase for a quick $80 profit. The Bluesheet returns to the $400 Bid level. Such fluctuations are to be expected in a market as fragmented and technically inefficient as is ours. Dealers have come to expect such fluctuations, and in fact, many dealers profit on those inefficiencies by having more information about current bidding levels and bidders. That is the nature of a free market. However, such fluctuations are not always in the best interests of the business; a sustained market rally prefers fewer fluctuations.

The weekend of December 5-6, there was a burglary of mail at the Torrance Post Office, and mail addressed to the Coin Dealer Newsletter was definitely stolen. If you suspect that any correspondence or subscription renewals would have arrived in Torrance about that time, please check with your bank to see if your check has cleared or call us at 310-515-7369 between the hours of 9 A.M. to 3 P.M. PST to verify our receipt. We apologize for the inconvenience.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective (on one or both sides), with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

We hope you will be at the FUN convention in Orlando on January 6-10. Our table numbers are 318 & 417 and we'll be looking forward to seeing you there! Don't forget that we are always buying coins whether it's U.S. Gold or high grade type coins. We will also be receiving shipments of raw gold from Europe during the convention week. Best wishes for the holidays and hopefully a bright new year for the coin industry.

America's U.S. Gold & Silver Rare Coin Wholesaler

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

1992 Ends on Positive Note Last Bluesheet Until 1993

1990 was definitely a year to forget, and 1991 was a year of transition; it remains to be seen whether 1992 will be a year to remember. I suppose that the answer will depend upon whether you found yourself on the 'right' side of the many market movements that occurred during the year. In fact, the one lesson that 1992 taught us is that it can be dangerous to look at the coin market as a whole; with contradictory price movements on different charts, you really need to look at individual series and smaller time frames.

Our CCDn CMI started the year at 722.83 against a background of generally rising prices fueled by a late 1991 rally in Morgan Dollars. The market continued to rise slowly through the first quarter, in a steady demonstration of increasing strength. Midway through the second quarter, the CMI peaked at 765.70, for a solid 6% increase over only 20 weeks. From that high, the CMI slowly declined over the next 26 weeks to the 717.38 level, and has now returned to the 723.28 level - ending the year 'where it started'. That is the trouble with 'averages' - you can miss a lot of fun and excitement with them.

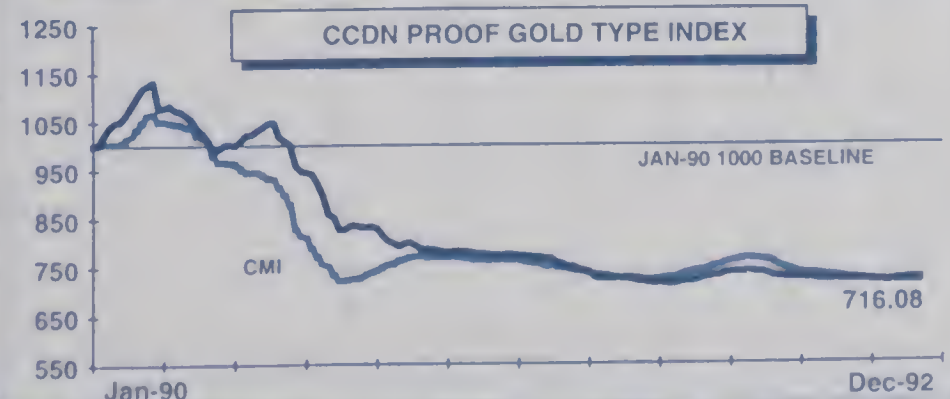

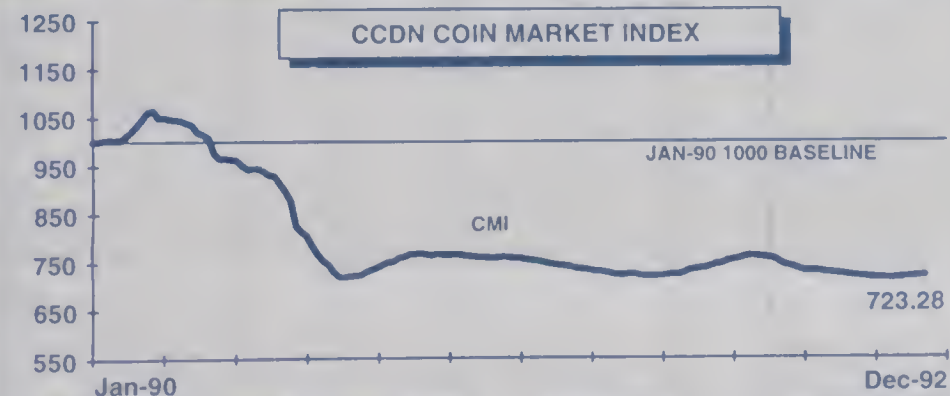

For example, we have been following the explosive rise in Mint State Gold over the last two months, and enormous profits were possible here. Mint State Gold showed "profit-taking" this week, but 'on average', that chart has shown tremendous profits to be taken. From a low CMI point of 567.34 at midyear, Gold had climbed to 653.60 - a better than 15% increase. That's respectable growth. And if you chose your grades carefully, the returns were even better. Since midyear, MS63 Gold has climbed 'on average' more than 35%, and MS64 has increased 'on average' better than 25%. If you want to totally skip average figures, since mid-year some individual Mint State Gold coins have almost doubled. The $2.5 Indian, to name one star performer, climbed from $540 in July to its current $1,010 level (in MS63), and from $1,220 to $2,250 (in MS64). Many other pieces of Gold show a better than 50% increase over the six months as well. Combine enough luck with enough skill and there was money to be made here.

As gold climbed, it inspired growth in other series as well. Gold Commemoratives and Morgan Dollars have also been climbing recently. The market is ending the year with an optimistic attitude - thanks to the increases of the last two months - dealers are actually looking forward to the FUN Show for a chance to shop for needed coins.

Silver Commemoratives were steady this week, with creditable increases in the MS65 & MS66 columns. Gold Commems had increases scattered through the MS61 to MS64 columns. Morgan Dollars were mixed, with some slippage in generics offset by solid advances in MS64 and MS66. Peace Dollars advanced in MS63 through MS65. Mint State Type Coins were steady, with scattered changes certainly leaning towards increases. Mint State Gold turned in a mixed performance this week, after profit-taking. Proof Type coins were steady, with some changes scattered across the chart. Proof Gold Type was also steady. Buffalo Nickels were mixed, with the increases mainly in the 'lesser' uncs and early years. Mercury Dimes were steady, with some upward activity in MS65FB. Higher grade & later date Walking Liberty Halves showed some increases

This is the last issue of the Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter for 1992. The CDN staff wishes you and yours the merriest of Holidays, and a most prosperous 1993. The next Bluesheet will be January 1, 1993.

COMMITMENT

FUNDAMENTAL FOR SUCCESS

For many of today's numismatists coin collecting started at a young age with the discovery of a few 'old' nickels or pennies. As we grew older, the excitement of finding, trading and collecting coins stayed with us. Eventually, the hobby became a business and the business grew into an industry. But as an industry our standards have often been considered too loose for coins to be recognized as a serious investment option.

At the NUMISMATIC GUARANTY CORPORATION OF AMERICA, we are committed to advancing numismatics—both as a hobby and as a business.

RED LABEL FOR "PROBLEM" COINS

(actual size)

UPDATE: Chattanooga, TN OCTOBER 1992

Beginning July 1st, 1992: When you submit U.S. coins...every one of them will be graded and encapsulated. Never before has any grading service offered such extensive attention to your coins. Coins without any problems will continue to be graded and holdered with the premium "old-familiar" GREEN INSERT LABEL. Coins with problems will now be graded and holdered with the new certified RED INSERT LABEL. These will be graded with the problem described and printed below the grade. Collectors and dealers can now get their coins graded, certified and slabbed even if the coin has a problem.

You make the choice between other grading services and PCI. And when you do please consider the following reasons that make the difference:

- (1). PCI only charges $7.50 per coin (plus postage, etc.) to grade, authenticate, encapsulate and to process your order regardless of its value. Compare this to $50 or $23 or even $12!

- (2). More collectors, dealers, individuals and banks (over 4100 total) have submitted coins to PCI than any other grading service. We challenge any grading service to match our record beginning the day we opened on June 1, 1989 until now!
- (3). Our standard express "turn-around" time from the day we receive your coins to the day we ship them out is 6 working days. At all of the other services this will cost you a minimum of $23! Our price is $7.50.
- (4). Anyone may submit coins to PCI at the same low rates. The 2 other major grading services have formed exclusive dealer networks...thereby restricting who may get coins graded. Why do you think they charge so much? It's obviously money in the dealers pocket not yours! No longer do you have to go through an "in-crowd" to get consistently graded coins. It's your private business!

- (5). Every genuine dated coin you now submit (except plugged, holed, altered or undistinguishable) will be encapsulated in either the GREEN LABEL or RED LABEL slab. Collectors know that coins in slabs are generally worth more and now you can get in on the profits. PCI does reserve the right to refuse to encapsulate any coin for any reason it feels would be detrimental to the numismatic industry.
- (6). Any purchaser or submitter of a PCI coin who believes their coin(s) is misgraded, improperly attributed, or has questionable authenticity may resubmit the slab for a re-evaluation and/or reslabbing. The resubmitted process of evaluation and/or reselling will be paid for by PCI (excluding return postage and insurance which you pay).

6 DAY EXPRESS SERVICE SLAB SUBMITTAL FORM

Coins will be shipped on or before the 6th working day after we receive them and will be sent U.S. Registered Mail.
